$55,000 Larkspur Apartment Blazes

Two Larkspur residents dashed from a burning apartment house clad only in their pajamas last night as flames engulfed the building in the second of two fires yesterday.

The two fires at the 75 year-old, converted office building at 557 Magnolia Avenue yesterday caused damage estimated at $55,000 according to the Larkspur Fire Department.

The first fire, its cause unknown, erupted at 2:49 p.m. in an apartment occupied by David T. Williams, who was not home at the time, according to the fire department.

$8,000 DAMAGE

Firemen limited the fire to Williams' apartment, which sustained about $8,000 damage.

Peter C. Sternberger of San Rafael, owner of the building, said this morning that his tenants had been assured by the fire chief that the building was safe to occupy after the first fire.

At 11:57 p.m. the firemen were called to a second fire at the same address.

Paul Graver and Edward Guerrero fled their apartments after awaking in a pall of smoke.

APARTMENTS HIT

Fire Chief William C. Shurtz said the second fire swept through three apartments, causing $15,000 damage to personal possessions and $32,000 damage to the building. A fourth apartment, occupied by a Mr. and Mrs. Chacon, received minor damage.

Approximately 40 men and five trucks from the Larkspur and Kentfield fire departments battled the flames for three hours. Mop-up operations continued this morning. No injury was reported by the department.

Firemen were investigating the cause of the fires today, the department said.

Youth In Fairfax Get Panel

By C. P. McCARTHY

Fairfax youth last night again asked for and this time received authorization from the city council to establish an adult-free youth commission which, in the words of Cameron Wilson, 17, "can make its own mistakes just like the city councilmen make theirs."

Following three hours of discussion, continued from the council's meeting Jan. 26, the council accepted with minor amendments a youth commission proposal presented at the previous meeting.

"POWER TO ADVISE"

The council's resolution, passed unanimously, authorizes the establishment of a commission which "will have the power and duty to advise the Fairfax City Council on programs and methods of involving youths in the areas of planning, decision making and activities which concern the youth of this community."

One member of the commission will be elected from White Hill School, another from St. Rita's School, and five by Fairfax youth at a general meeting.

This selection process appeared to be a point the council was unwilling to concede, as it insisted that there be adult representation and that the council have final control over who would be on the commission.

APPOINTMENT IDEA

Councilman Robert R. Souza said the commissioners should be appointed by the council, a they are to other Fairfax commissions. "This is your city council," he told the young people, "which is your representative government–elected by your parents."

Judi Cummings, 16, of 165 Frustuck Avenue, said the youth commission was different from other commissions because "if you appoint a youth commissioner, he might not be representative of the feeling of the youth at the time." Adults appointed to various commissions, se said, halways represent adult views.

Carol Pritchard, 16, a member of the Mill Valley Youth Commission, explained that organization, which is comprised of eight young people and three adults. She said she couldn't understand why the Fairfax youth were opposed to adults on their commission. "They're not against you," she said.

ASKS FOR EXAMPLE

As the discussion returned to council control over the selection of commisisoners, Wilson, of 189 Cascade Drive, asked the council for an example of a reason the council might not approve of a commissioner elected by the young people.

"You'd be surprised," said Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson, young Wilson's mother, to which he replied, "You're restricting the voice of youth."

Councilman Frank J. Egger proposed a compromise whereby there would be no adults on the commission, and the young people would elect a slate of possible commissioners from

Bonds, Police Chief Put On June Ballot

San Rafael Sewer, Rec Votes Set

The proposal to make the police chief appointive will again be put before San Rafael voters at the June 2 primary election, along with three city bond issues totaling more than two and one-quarter million dollars.

Also on the ballot will be proposed charter changes to increase to $10,000 per year the amount the city may spend for promotional purposes, and to eliminate the actually non existent position of city health officer.

4-0 ACTION

The San Rafael City Council, with Councilman John A. Miskimen absent, last night approved without dissent the series of proposals and directed City Atty. David Menary Jr. to prepare them for the ballot.

The bond issues would be:

1. For upgrading the city's sanitary sewer system. This would be the next step in a program to enlarge sewer capacity and eliminate incursion of storm water into the sanitary sewers, as demand3d by the Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. City Mgr. James H. McCown said the cost was figured at $1,107,000 plus attorney and financial consultant fees. He said he was unable to get these fees in time for last night's council meeting.

REC, FIRE BUILDINGS

2. For a community recreation center at Albert Park. McCown placed the cost of this, again not including attorney and financial fees, at $570,182.

3. For a new central fire station adjoining Albert Park. This was estimated at $588,000, including land acquisition but again without the fees.

Each bond issue would require two-thirds voter approval for authorization.

McCown estimated that interest would run from 7.5 to 8 per cent on the present bond market.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier cautioned that "we have to figure out what these are going to do to the tax rate — separately, item by item." McCown promised to have these figures for the Feb. 16 council meeting.

The bond issues have been

Budget Balancing On 1970 Surplus

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan proposed a delicately balanced $6.48 billion budget Tuesday that stands pat on state spending in an election year when Californians' pocketbooks are squeezed by inflation.

Reagan, expected to run for re-election this year, sent the Legislature a 1970-71 spending program that slips by with no new taxes. However, United Press International in an exclusive story, (see below) says that Reagan late today also is to ask for a one-cent increase in the sales tax and conversion to withholding on state income taxes.

The budget includes virtually no new programs, and eliminates others which the Republican chief executive called "no longer vital to the California of the 1970s."

It takes a two-thirds vote in each house to enact the budget — and partisan strife between Republicans and Democrats last year saw the July 1 deadline come and go without a new budget for the first time in history. Republicans have only a 41-39 Assembly margin and a 21-12 Senate edge.

With Reagan expected to be seeking a second term and the leader of legislative Democrats, Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, already announced as a gubernatorial candidate, the 1970 budget debate is likely to be tough and noisy.

Income for the year starting July 1 is expected to fall $89.9 million short of spending, but a surplus from earlier years would make up the shortage and leave a slim $28.4 million surplus at year's end — if the estimates are accurate.

(See other budget stories on page 26)

Reagan stamped a "hold the line" label on his fourth budget and proudly noted it is $37 million below what his experts predict will be spent when the current fiscal year ends June 30.

But the record $6,480,325,654 Reagan asked for 1970-71 is $255 million above the amount he requested last year — a 4.1 per cent rise — and $152 million

Reagan Drops Fight Against Withholding

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan has reversed his adamant four-year opposition to payroll withholding of state income taxes and decided to incorporate it in his tax revision plan, UPI learned today.

Chief proponent of the withholding tax has been Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Sources said Reagan withdrew his opposition to withholding so he could finance property tax relief and solve an acute cash flow problem in state government.

Reagan scheduled an afternoon news conference to announce his acceptance of withholding as part of the package, which is expected to shift nearly $1 billion in taxes.

Sources said other features of the tax plan include a one-cent increase in the present five-cent-on-the-dollar sales tax, a reduction in the 27 per cent oil depletion allowance, an increase for upper bracket income taxpayers and a tax break for renters financed through the income tax.

The tax increases are necessary, Reagan has said, to finance substantial reduction in property taxes.

Reagan had adamantly opposed withholding since his 1966 campaign when Democrats wanted to adopt the federal system of automatically collecting state income tax payments from a worker's regular paycheck.

Shortly after taking office in 1967 Reagan said withholding "tends to make government careless with the management" of taxpayers' money.

Reagan maintained "taxes should hurt." He contended workers would not be as conscious of the amount of taxes they paid if the funds

Fewer State Employees, But Pay Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan budgeted $81 million Tuesday for the equivalent of a five per cent salary hike for the state's 181,407 employes in 1970-71.

The governor also said he would support a bill to pay for a $2 a month increase in the state's contribution to the workers' health plan.

The budget calls for a drop in the number of employes, including higher education faculty, from this year's level of 182,240.

"The state is fortunate in having a large number of competent and dedicated employes," Reagan said in his budget.

"We have held the total number of state positions at slightly less than the current year level and have continued to resist the constant annual personnel increase which characterized state employment patterns prior to 1967," Reagan said.

Reagan aides said the budget would allow personnel-regulating agencies to determine how the $81 million would be distributed, rather than grant an across-the-board five per cent hike as in the past several years.

Bagley Decides Not To Run For Senate

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley will not be a candidate for the state Senate seat being vacated by the retirement at year's end of Sen. John F. McCarhy, his fellow San Rafael Republican.

In a letter today to Republican leaders throughout the state, Bagley said he has decided against seeking election to the Senate and will remain in the Assembly, where he is chairman of the revenue and taxation, joint national tax policy, and statewide information policy committees.

Bagley's announcement was taken by political leaders to herald a wide-open race for the Senate seat from the Fourth District, which includes Marin and parts of Napa and Solano counties.

In his letter to Republican leaders, Bagley said:

"Never has one agonized more and analyzed as much over the prospect of being a freshman state senator. And never have I been as grateful for the very broad and total support that has been offered."

Nevertheless, he wrote, "it simply does not make sense to descend from a position of strong voice and impact in one house of the legislature to a freshman status in the other."

Bagley hinted also that serving in the Senate—assuming he won election—would commit him to a longer career in the Legislature than he desires. (Senate terms are four years; Assembly terms, two years.)

"I just do not believe it is in the interests of good government for any person to spend what could be nearly two decades in the state legislature," he wrote. "Legislative service is just that—a service—an avocation . . . I have seen too many spend too long a time in Sacramento."

Bagley indicated to a reporter that one more term in the Assembly is all he plans to seek.

The San Rafael assemblyman noted that passage of the governor's tax reform program this

Senate Fails To Reach Carswell Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee ended its open hearings on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell today, then held a closed session but failed to reach a vote.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., announced that the record would be kept open for Carswell to respond with a written statement if he wished to attacks on his record.

Eastland said he did not know when the committee would meet next.

Eastland also said that he remains confident that Carswell will be approved by the committee and by the Senate by a big vote.

The open hearings ended with protests from civil rights spokesman who argued Carswell should be recalled as a witness to explain what they called his segregationist record.

"If Judge Carswell were worthy of the Supreme Court he would demand to come back," said labor lawyer Joseph L. Rauh Jr., who spoke for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Rauh appealed to the committee not to approve "someone worse" in wake of the Senate's rejection of the prior nominee for the seat, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

"Judge Carswell is Judge Haynsworth with a cutting edge," Rauh said, "with a bitterness and a meanness that Judge Haynsworth never had."

Rauh told the committee that nothing in Carswell's record indicates he has really repudiated a white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago.

Similarly, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington office of the NAACP and legislative chairman of the leadership conference, said "There is nothing to show that in the long period of his public life between 1948 and the present that the judge has rejected, retracted or reformed with respect to his 1948 views."

Carswell has said he now denounces the 1948 statements as abhorrent to him.

Rauh also told the committee that there was a serious question of whether Carswell, as one of the incorporators of a private country club in Tallahassee, Fla., in 1956, that took over a municipal golf course, had acted in a way that constituted a criminal act.

He said the United States Code makes it unlawful to deprive any citizen of rights guaranteed to him by the Constitution and contended the purpose of the club was to exclude Negroes from use of the municipal links.

Their testimony followed charges Monday by other opposition witnesses that Carswell, now a judge on the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and formerly the U.S. District Court judge in Tallahassee was hostile and insulting toward civil rights lawyers from the North.

Outlay To Fern Canyon Road Cut

Mill Valley's contribution to the Fern Canyon Road and Summit Avenue Assessment District, which stirred controversy, was cut off last night because of a shortage of funds.

Councilmen voted 3-2 last fall to participate in the road improvement project, and the city has already spent about $2,000 in engineering and miscellaneous costs.

Edwin N. Ness, assessment district attorney, estimated that the city's share would be about $5,500 more if it continued to participate.

Councilmen voted last night to contribute the $2,000 already spent by a 3-2 vote with George E. Wickham and Robert H. Andresen, who have consistently opposed a city contribution, dissenting.

The council then voted unanimously that the city would contribute nothing more to the proposed district.

Former councilmen George W. Blackwell, a property owner in the area, had asked that the city pay "the total engineering bill," which was estimated to require another $2,000 in city funds.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer explained the property owners in the area could proceed with formation of the district on their own and the council continued the public hearing on protests until 8 p.m. Feb. 16 at city hall.

The council received letters of protest from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson of 740 Summit Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Tuinzing of 1 Walden Lane, who own property on Fern Canyon Road.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

PARKS AND RECREATION — Meyer reappointed Richard J. Young to the city parks and recreation commission and appointed Dr. Thomas R. Knez to succeed Jean Barnard, who resigned from the commission to run for a council seat.

ENVIRONMENT — Received a suggestion from Meyer that the city broaden the powers of the parks and recreation commission to include environment or establish "an environment of conservation" commission.

ART COMMISSION — Meyer appointed Gloria Churchman of 22 Hillcrest Drive, Glenn R. Peterson of 24 Greenwood Way and E. G. Valens, 280 Ross Avenue, to the city's art commission.

HOUSING — Heard a report from Vera L. Schultz, Marin County Housing Authority director, on the June 2 ballot to approve low cost housing for senior citizens and low income families. There will be one ballot covering cities and the unincorporated area with majority vote needed for approval, but projects cannot be started in any city without city council approval, she explained.

DRAINAGE — Awarded Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera, lowest of five bidders, a contract for the first phase of drainage improvements on Elm Avenue, at a cost of $3,180.

JUVENILE OFFICER — Deferred until budget session considering establishing the post of juvenile officer in the police department after a report from City Mgr. William H. Cunningham that the officer, now assigned to juvenile work, spends about 70 per cent of his time at the task, and there is increasing need.

REFUSE — Heard a report from Cunningham that the city's garbage collector couldn't provide pickup of plastic containers of burnable debris at the present collection rate.

ANNEXATION — Approved annexation of Robert L. Guevara's property at 96 Cypress Avenue to the city.

ABATEMENT — Authorized abatement proceedings against conditions at 160 Rose Avenue, which reportedly hindered drainage, resulting in damage to city streets.

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT — Approved an agreement with the Mill Valley School District on fees to be paid to the Sausalito Canal Assessment District on property at Project 17, with the city's share at $8,000.

RETIREMENT — Postponed until Feb. 16 action on placing city employees in the state's Public Employees Retirement System.

LIBRARY FUNDS — Heard a report from Helen Dreyfus of the Mill Valley Library Association that there would be a bid before Marin County supervisors today for reimbursement for nonresident use of the city library, and Mayor Meyer sent along a supporting letter.

STUDENT SAFETY — Received a request from Kenneth Anderson of the Tamalpais High School District Federation of Teachers for safety measures, such as sidewalks along Camino Alto.

NEXT SESSION — Adjourned until 7:45 p.m. Feb. 16 at City Hall for a closed session on possible litigation and regular session at 8 p.m.

Mountain View New Dump Site

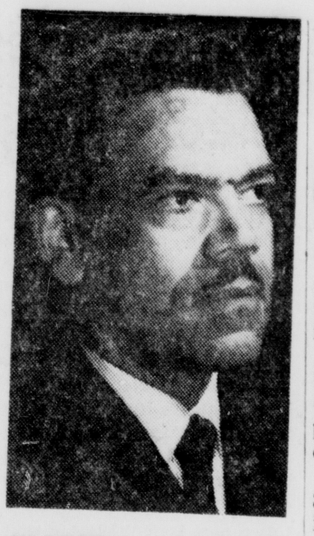
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a five-year contract Monday calling for dumping the city's garbage at Mountain View.

Garbage will be hauled in sealed, odor-free trucks 32 miles to a 544-acre plot which must be filled before it can be converted into a regional park.

Hauling and dumping will cost San Francisco $6.15 per ton, compared to the $3.50 costs of dumping on a site that is almost completely filled at nearby Brisbane.

The new agreement will cost an average householder about 20 cents a month.

San Francisco disposes of between 1,500 and 2,000 tons of garbage daily.



IN RECITAL — Baritone Elwood Peterson, Pomona College voice teacher, will sing the works of black composers to morrow at 1:15 p.m. at San Domenico School in a free public concert in observation of Negro History Week.

$150 Council Pay To Ballot On April 14

Mill Valley City Council voted last night to let residents decide at the April 14 municipal election whether city councilmen should be paid $150 a month.

The vote to put the proposition on the ballot was 4-1 with Jerome C. Hauke, who brought up the salary matter, dissenting.

Hauke had moved earlier that the council vote the $150 a month salary, effective after the April election, but got no second.

He explained that he didn't feel that a salary for councilmen should become a campaign issue, in view of other more important issues.

Under law, the only salary the council could set would be $150 a month, but voters can set any amount up to $150.

Councilman George E. Wickham proposed that the proposition be for a salary of $100 a month, but there was no second.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said that because of the city's tight financial situation, he preferred that the matter be placed on the ballot, rather than have the council vote.

With an expenditure of $9,000 a year involved, "the people of the community should have the right to make the decision," said Councilman Robert H. Andresen.

Hauke pointed out that two years ago he opposed council salaries, but since serving he sees justification for pay. There should be pay so a councilman "at least breaks even," he said.

Bala Issues Warning On Miller Slide

Mill Valley City Council got a warning last night that the Miller Avenue slide is dangerous and the whole wall of the slide may come down.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said the sliding that has occurred thus far "is a small portion compared to what might come down."

The slide, between Reed Street and Gomez Way, resulted in the closing of a section of Miller Avenue, after December storms.

Bala advised against clearing away at the toe of the slide for fear it would create a greater hazard and he recommended against putting up a chain link fence as a protection.

"A really serious slide is developing...a really deep slide," Bala said. "If you cleared the sidewalk...you still couldn't open the road."

The council proposed to push Marin County officials to remedy the situation since the slide area is within county territory, and to seek aid from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R, San Rafael.

They also agreed to have a closed session at 7:45 p.m. Feb. 16 to discuss possible litigation against Thomas Collison of Mill Valley, owner of the property where sliding has occurred.

Proposed Downtown Plan Hits A Snag

Mill Valley's proposed downtown plan which would transform Lytton Square into a pedestrian area ran into heavy fire last night from merchants.

At a hearing before the city council comments ranged from the philosphy of planning for people or cars to the economic health of the downtown area.

There also was some feeling that creating a pedestrian area would bring to Mill Valley the visitors that have beset Sausalito's downtown park.

Under the plan, Miller Avenue would be closed to traffic in Lytton Square.

To the complaints of merchants about the proposed peripheral parking plan, Planning Commissioner Ivan S. Poutiatine, a proponent of the plan, replied: "It's not the automobiles who go shopping, it's the people."

Merchants contended that creating the pedestrian mall would require shoppers to walk longer distances from parking areas to shops, but proponents contended in some instances walking distance would be shorter.

George B. Gordon of 511 East Blithedale Avenue asked: "What do you expect to accomplish by changing downtown Mill Valley?"

Poutiatine explained that the plan was developed after it was noted several years ago that the downtown area was in financial difficulty and there were "signs of economic decay."

Merchants countered that there has been improvment since the business slump, but Poutiatine asserted that there are still signs of potential economic decay.

"I think we're foolish if we think there's nothing we can do to help Mill Valley in the downtown area," he said.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen felt the plan had some valid ideas, but urged: "We must be careful not to lose what which we have."

Councilman George E. Wickham said he wouldn't want to see the kind of "leisure-related activity" in the center of Mill Valley that prevails in downtown Sausalito, and there was applause.

Gordon said if the plan drew people into downtown Mill Valley "you're going to end up with Sausalito."

Granville L. Beedle, executive secretary of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, said there has been a noticeable improvement in the downtown area, and "things aren't as distressing as might be pointed out."

One woman, defending the plan, said: "It's obvious we have to stop playing up to automobiles."

One merchant, Norman Black, said his business has increased since he has moved from an automobile oriented location to a pedestrian oriented spot.

Poutiatine said the plan was considered by the planning commission from the viewpoint of the overall community not from the viewpoint of merchants.

"It isn't for today or tomorrow," but for the future, he commented.

The intent is to recognize the comfort and safety of people and attractiveness, rather than the convenience of the automobile, he said.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said there would be three or four more meetings on the plan, with the next section, Upper Miller and Lower Miller avenues, to be reviewed Feb. 16.

Innocent Plea On Drug Charge

A Mill Valley youth has pleaded innocent to two charges of selling marijuana and has been set for a preliminary hearing Feb. 27 in Central Sonoma Municipal Court.

John Gerald Donhoff, 18, was arrested Jan. 7 in Santa Rosa on warrants charging that he had sold marijuana to an undercover agent on two occasions three months ago near the Sonoma State College campus.

A motion to suppress evidence on grounds it was collected illegally will also be considered at the hearing.

Point Reyes Outlay Clears Major Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., withdrew Monday his opposition to legislation to increase authorization for land purchase for the Point Reyes National Seashore in California.

Saylor, ranking Republican on the House Interior Committee, told the House Rules Committee that a liberalized spending policy for park acquisition in President Nixon's new budget meets objections he voiced last year.

The new budget, Saylor said, promises spending of $364.5 million in the next 18 months for Point Reyes and other authorized and pending park projects.

Saylor said he always has been a supporter of the Point Reyes Seashore, but not to the exclusion of other areas. Last year, he said, there was indication that Point Reyes was to be an exception to a general administration policy against funding new park authorizations.

"Point Reyes is important, but so are other areas," he said. "If my understanding of the budget is correct, then Point Reyes and other areas will be taken care of."

The bill would increase land purchase authorization for the 64,000-acre park from $19,135,000 to $57.5 million.

Chairman Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., blamed primarily land price escalation and the threat of subdivision encroachment on a pastoral zone for the inability to acquire the land from private owners within the $14 million original estimate in 1962.

"Point Reyes is one of the outstanding units of the National Park System," Aspinall told the Rules Committee. "It has a wonderful potential for recreation. It is well worth the price."

Rep. Roy A. Taylor, D-N.C., chairman of the Interior subcommittee on parks, said the Point Reyes purchase would be "a wise investment by the Government."

"We have no alternative," he said. "The longer we wait the more it is going to cost."

Nixon's budget message to Congress Monday provided for a $7.1 million supplemental estimate for Point Reyes for the current fiscal year, and an unspecified additional amount in the 12 months beginning July 1.

The Rules Committee cleared the bill for House debate probably next week.

BUDGET

over the figure he finally signed into law.

In most areas where he has direct control. Reagan allowed only enough increase to handle inflation and population pressures. This meant, for example, that the state university and colleges again didn't come close to getting what they really wanted, and various state agencies will have to shelve expanded or new programs they sought.

But in areas where the state spends vast amounts of money and yet has little control, spending was budgeted to rise sharply.

Reagan called the taxpayers' attention to welfare, in which the state and counties mainly carry out orders of the federal government. He noted that one out of every 10 Californians draws welfare of one type of another — and the number of children under 18 supported to some degree by welfare is expected to hit 14.3 per cent in 1971.

The general cost of welfare and the Medi-Cal program of free medical care for the needy will go up about 16 per cent. Welfare costs have gone up enough in the past four years to build "an additional nine-campus university system," Reagan commented.

The biggest area of state spending, for local schools, was listed for $1.66 billion in the coming year, up 2.1 per cent although enrollment from kindergarten through junior college is expected to rise 1.8 per cent.

One reason Reagan was able to submit a tight budget is a dropoff in planned spending for various state construction, including the big State Water Project which needs fewer dollars every year since 90 per cent of the work has been completed or is under contract.

Part of the dropoff stems from Reagan's deferring some projects in compliance with President Nixon's anti-inflation campaign, and from the inability to sell construction bonds in the current tight market.

A $319.6 million chunk of the state money reflects the various tax relief bills adopted by the legislature in recent years. Some $75 million more will go back to taxpayers next year than this, earmarked for homeowners and businessmen.

Only a few programs received more than a workload boost from current levels. One of these was a $3 million hike in special programs for minority students in higher education, a 50 per cent increase. Another is about 27 per cent more for antipollution projects, and state parks and recreation projects would get about 23 per cent more — if bonds can be sold, which is uncertain.

Reagan also asked for 21 new state narcotics agents and special added pay because of the risky nature of their work.

Two of the oldest meteorites in existence are the Beardsley meteorite in Kansas and Forest City in Iowa. Both are believed to be over four million years old.

A meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the new San Francisco Board of Supervisors has been tentatively set for Friday noon at Alta Mira Hotel, supervisor chairman John F. McInnis announced this morning.

McInnis said he just learned yesterday that the San Francisco supervisors had accepted Marin's invitation to get together for luncheon to discuss various problems including transportation.

Bay Transit Planning Held Vital

SAN FRANCISCO (BW)—Coordination of the Bay Area's transportation planning is an immediate necessity, and a regional mechanism with full authority and power should be established by the current legislature, the San Francisco Bay Area Council declared yesterday.

The council is made up of business and civic leaders of nine Bay Area counties.

A multi-purpose regional organization that would control the planning of all regional functions, including air and water pollution control, bay conservation and development and open space planning as well as transportation, is the best answer to the problem, declared Nils Eklund, vice president of Kaiser Industries, and chairman of the council's transportation committee.

If such a regional "umbrella" agency cannot be achieved at this time, however, said Eklund, the council urges the formation of a regional agency to coordinate all Bay Area transportation planning, including highways, rapid transit, local transit, bridges and airports.

Such an agency, Eklund stated, should have the authority to "review and approve the plans of any agencies involved in the planning and management of any transportation functions within the Bay Area."

year and reapportionment next year are subjects to which he intends to devote much of his time and on which he would be most useful in his Assembly position.

Three Republicans already have announced their candidacy for the Senate nomination: Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, former Marin County supervisor; Raymond H. Shone, Nicasio and San Rafael attorney, and Don Pinkerton, mayor of Fairfield. Two Democrats are in the race although neither has yet officially announced: Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael and Richard M. Adams of Belvedere.

There have been rumors of other potential candidates holding back to await Bagley's decision in the belief that he would be too formidable to challenge.

Although it has no eyes and lives underground, the earthworm senses nightfall and comes to the surface where fishermen and birds often wait to greet him.

15-Year-Old In Weed Trouble

Nicholas James Miller, 15, of 52 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo, was cited to juvenile authorities yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and petty theft, San Anselmo police reported.

Police said Miller was suspected of taking two girls' purses at a basketball game at Sir Francis Drake High School Friday night, and when questioned and searched was found to have two marijuana cigarettes.

Miller escaped from police after being questioned and ran into the school parking lot and disappeared, but police spotted him again after school yesterday and arrested him.

were automatically deducted from their paychecks.

Now, most taxpayers write a check for their entire bill in April.

But by withholding income tax payments from paychecks the state receives a steady, year round flow of cash.

Government financial experts predict the state faces a serious "cash flow" problem by the end of fiscal 1970-71. Withholding would ease the shortage.

YOUTH

which the council would select the commissioners.

The young people stood their ground. "I see no reason why we should have to come to a compromise," Josh Roth, 17, of 180 Bothin Road, told the council.

Several adults in the audience came to the youngsters' aid. "We shouldn't put up any roadblocks," Mrs. Louise Velte, 32 Mountain View Road, said, and Gary Graham, 105 Forrest Avenue, told the councilmen that the kids should be given a chance. "They're not going to hurt you," he said.

When Mayor Francis J. O'Connell asked again if there were objections to the elected slate--council selection plan, Margo Roth, 15, of 180 Bothin Road, said to him, "I don't see anybody picking you out of the hat like that."

A final compromise plan, suggested by Glen Dines, 30 Rock Ridge Road, which would have had seven commisisoners elected and one appointed by the council, also went nowhere.

The one appointee, Becki Sullins, 16, of 33 Park Road, said, would just be a council puppet."

With that, and an eye on the clock, the council made a few minor clarifications to the youngsters' proposal, passed it and adjourned.

long discussed. Decision to try again in June with the thrice-defeated proposal to make the police chief appointive came unexpectedly last night, at a council meeting with an unusually small audience.

McCown raised the possibility when asked by Mayor C. Paul Bettini if there were matters not previously discussed that should be put on the ballot.

The city manager said San Rafael is one of only two cities in California electing its police chief. He was quickly corrected by Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori, who said it is one of three, the others being Albany and Santa Clara.

"I'm certainly in favor of having the police chief appointive," said Mayor Bettini. "That should go on the ballot," agreed Barbier. There was no objection from Councilmen Fred E. Jensen or Frederick C. Robbins Jr.

Bettini then raised the possibility of trying again to make the city clerk, treasurer and attorney also appointive; but Barbier and Robbins warned that this might result in defeat of all changes, and the major dropped the idea.

CHAMBER HELP

Raising the ceiling on promotional spending would make it possible for the city to give more money to the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, which has in most years received the total $1,000 promotional fund permitted by the charter. An attempt to eliminate the ceiling entirely was voted down at the 1969 city election.

The city health officer position has been vacant since retirement last year of Dr. Harry Hund, with the duties being contracted to the county health department. Eliminating the position from the charter would allow continuance of contracting with the county.

Woman Fair From Fall Through Glass

Kathleen Gill, 60, of 96 Marion Avenue, Sausalito, was reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital.

She suffered a two-inch cut on her stomach when she fell through a plate glass window at her home at 5:20 p.m. yesterday, according to Sausalito firemen who responded to the call.

Bus Line Has A Little Trouble

The second day of service of Marin's new intra-county bus service left a small group of passengers stranded in Mill Valley today.

According to Reggie Tobert of the Marin County Transit Systems, the mixup resulted from the 6:28 a.m. bus starting early from Reed Boulevard and Knoll Lane near Strawberry. The scheduling will be on target in the future he said.

"Both buses were full the first time around and we already need two more buses," he reported.

Two have been ordered, Tolbert added, with one scheduled to go into operation in about two weeks and the other two weeks later.

Library Pay Plan Backed

Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce directors voted yesterday to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to pay for Mill Valley Library use by Southern Marin residents who live outside Mill Valley city limits.

The board's recommendation supports the Mill Valley Library Assocaition's request that the county appropriate funds for this. Such residents must now pay the library for service.

The board also appointed Steven C. Kanewske, manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for Southern Marin, to the board. Kanewske succeeds James E. Egger, owner of Egger and Sons Nursery, who recently resigned.

Juvenile Panel Member To Quit

Rex T. Silvernale disclosed today he wants to resign from the Marin Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission because he is unable to attend meetings regualrly.

"I feel that at this time the prevention commission needs the full participation of all of its members if it is to meet the challenge laid down by your board," he wrote to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Silvernale's letter, dated Jan. 26, reached the clerk of the board of supervisors this morning.

Auto Overturns; Driver Injured

A San Rafael man was injured yesterday when his car hit a railing and overturned in avoiding a collision with another car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Daniel R. Walwork, 22, was treated for scrapes and bruises on the right arm at Marin General Hospital at 8:40 p.m., five hours after the accident on Doyle Drive in San rFancisco.

The patrol said Walwork was driving south at 3:30 p.m. when a car driven by Stanley V. Marcum, 25, of 389 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, switched into his lane. Walwrok braked and his car hit a concrete railing, the patrol said.

Special Takeover Session Called

A special meeting to discuss a possible takeover of operation of the Alto Sanitary District by the Marin Municipal Water District was called for last night by the sanitary district board.

The board, which has asked the water district to study a takeover received a letter from water district directors saying they felt the plan was "feasible."

The sanitary district has invited representatives of the Almonte and Homestead sanitary districts, which have also expressed interest in the plan to attired. William H. Cunningham, Mill Valley city manager who has indicated there may be opposition by the city to the takeover, will also be invited.

The meeting will be Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Alto fire house, 27 Shell Road, Mill Valley.

Driver Sprains Wrist In Collision Of Cars

Richard E. Neal, 37, of 24 Francis Street, San Rafael, was treated for a sprained right wrist at Marin General Hospital yesterday suffered in a two-car accident at 7:34 p.m. at Second near Irwin streets, San Rafael police reported.

Driver of the other car was Charles L. Corbin, 18, of 125 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, according to police. Details of the accident were not available.

Rail Strike Plea Likely To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration official said today the White House will soon have to ask Congress for special legislation unless a voluntary wage settlement ends the threat of a nationwide rail shutdown.

"If we can't get something going in the next few days that's meaningful, we will have to start thinking about what we might want to do in Congress," said Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery.

Usery said railroad and union negotiators today will explore in depth a controversial work rule change that blew up an earlier tentative two-year, 68-cent wage hike agreement for 45,000 shopcraft workers who now earn $3.60 per hour.

The negotiations resumed Monday after a federal judge on Saturday halted until Feb. 10 a shopcrafts strike against the Union Pacific and a nationwide lockout that had been called by the industry in retaliation.

Congress starts a long Lincoln's Birthday recess Feb. 10, the day the temporary restraining orders against both sides run out.

Usery said it was too early to tell how the congressional recess might affect any plans of President Nixon to introduce special railroad legislation.

William W. Winpisinger, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and chief negotiator for four shopcraft unions in the dispute, said if the unions can't resolve the disputed work rule, "Maybe we'll consider getting into a whole new ballpark."

That would mean renegotiating the entire package of wages and working conditions, he said.

Earlier, it was reported the union negotiators were trying to figure a way around the controversial work rule involving job jurisdictions without disturbing the proposed 68-cent wage package.

The proposed work rule change that torpedoed the earlier tentative agreement would have permitted members of all four unions to perform a limited amount of work in each others' job jurisdictions.

The Sheet Metal Workers, smallest of the four, voted it down out of fear of losing jobs to the other unions. Members of the Machinists, Boilermakers and Electricians unions approved it, but the four had agreed all must accept any settlement or none would.

Chief industry negotiator John P. Hiltz had no comment after Monday's session, but he had said earlier the railroads would give up the jurisdiction work rule only by lopping 17 cents off the 68-cent wage package.

G.E. Pact Reported In Danger Of Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor sources said today the General Electric Co. wage settlement, negotiated after a nationwide strike of more than three months, was in danger of being rejected by voting union members.

"There conceivably could not be enough votes here" to approve the settlement by the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said one source.

"It's really unpopular out in the country," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, the third largest of the 14 unions that total some 147,000 members in the strike.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, apparently responding to the reports that approval of the contract was in jeopardy, urged its acceptance.

"The contract does not satisfy all the needs of the GE workers, but it is a truly significant gain over GE's original offer," Meany said.

Well placed sources said the vote so far among some 80,000 IUE members was 36,000 to approve and 22,000 against approving the 40-month contract providing about 80 cents an hour.

A key vote was scheduled to come sometime today in Schenectady, N.Y. site of one of GE's largest plants with about 15,000 union members eligible to vote.

The machinist's union, with some 15,000 workers involved in various plants, said the outcome of its voting was still in doubt.

Meany said in his statement "The IUE General Electric Conference Board deserves warmest congratulations on a great collective bargaining victory.

"It spells the end of Boulwarism, that doctrine that has too long disgraced and discredited GE's labor relations policy," he said.

Boulwarism, named after former GE labor relations director Lemuel Boulware, centered on making a first contract offer on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, and then refusing to budge from it. It has been ruled an unfair labor practice by the National Labor Relations Board.

Novato Still Sees Hope School Funds

The Novato Unified School District may get about half the $226,000 federal funds for impacted districts budgeted this year in Novato, Supt. James G. Bunker last night told the trustees.

He said that nothing definite has been worked out in Congress. Under the compromise bill being developed as a substitute for the education bill President Richard M. Nixon vetoed, the Novato district will probably receive about half the money budgeted for this fiscal year. It may not receive any next fiscal year, Bunker said.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

ACCREDITATION — Received notice that San Marin High School has been accredited to June 30, 1972.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Approved holding summer school this year. It will be 30 days for high and junior high schools and 24 days for elementary schools.

VOCATIONAL — Voted to spend $11,040 in vocational education funds for auto shop and business machines at Novato and San Marin high schools, and testing handicapped students for vocational training.

COURSES — Approved additional course offered for junior and senior high school. The vote was 4-1 with trustee Carolyn Crabtree against and trustees Irving D. Chapman Jr. and William Schneeflock absent.

GIFT — Accepted $44 from the San Ramon Parent-Faculty Club for library books for the school.

Paris Talks Almost Sunk By Navy Missile Success?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secrecy surrounds it, but officers are saying privately one of the most successful Navy feats in Vietnam were two 1968 missile launches some admirals feared might undermine the Paris peace talks.

Involved, ironically, was the Navy's Talos missile, one of a series of ship-to-air weapons highly criticized in Congress in recent years as unreliable.

The Navy turns aside all questions about the incident, but sources report Talos missiles destroyed two North Vietnamese MIG jets in May and June of 1968.

The shots occurred in a combat setting in the Gulf of Tonkin but actually were more of a staged test of Talos' capability than a battle action.

The ship that launched them was not under attack nor, officers believe, did the MIG's suspect they were being targeted.

Generally credited with having a 65-mile range, the Talos missiles knocked down the two enemy planes as they flew along North Vietnam at distances variously estimated by officers at 78 to as much as 110 miles.

The first MIG was struck as it flew out of Hanoi May 23, 1968.

Only a few weeks before President Lyndon B. Johnson had gotten Hanoi to agree to negotiate by limiting the bombing of North Vietnam to that country's Southern Panhandle.

The second missile hit came in June, still in the early stages of the Paris peace talks.

Sources say the Pacific Command, which calls the shots for the 7th Fleet off Vietnam, twice has turned down requests by information officers to release information on the operation.

One hint of the activity came last August, however ,when the cruiser USS Long Beach was awarded a Navy Unit Commendation for destroying two MIG aircraft and helping in the destruction of three others.

The award praised the 16,000-ton, nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser for helping direct U.S. carrier-based planes shooting down three MIG's.

The citation then said without elaboration: "Even more significant, on two occasions direct aggressive action by the Long Beach combat culminated in the destruction of two additional MIG aircraft."

Hike Seen In Commute Bus Ticket Costs

Greyhound's 20-ride commute book is likely to go up by 85 cents to 95 cents unless the Golden Gate bridge board rescinds its toll raise for buses, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reported today at a meeting of the Marin County Transit District directors.

Transit directors voted 5 to 0 this morning, asking the Golden Gate bridge district board to reconsider the bus toll raise. Effective last month, the bridge toll on buses was raised from 13 cents to $1.

Greyhound reacted by applying to the state Public Utilities Commission for a raise in Marin commute fares by 95 cents, which will mean Marin commuters will pay about $1.90 per month more to commute to San Francisco by Greyhound.

Transit Director Dean N. Meyer also tried to get the transit board to support the Golden Gate bridge district's increase of commute books from $6.50 to $10, because the increased revenue is needed to finance an improved bus system between Marin and San Francisco.

However, Chairman John F. McInnis and Director Peter R. Arrrigoni Jr. objected. They declared that the commute book increase was made by the bridge district without adequate public explanation, and until such an explanation is made, the Marin County Transit District should not support the increase to $10.

William A. Gnoss and Edward W. Colthurst were absent this morning.

The Marin County Transit Dist t directors also:

OFFICERS — Reelected McInnis chairman and Gnoss vice-chairman of the transit district for 1970.

DEMONSTRATION GRANT — Tabled a request by the Marin County Transit Systems Inc. of Marin City to endorse its application for a federal or foundation grant to study intra-county transporation needs. Transit board members said the county transit district or the bridge district, rather than a private bus firm, may be a more appropriate agency to seek such demonstration grant..

Philosopher Bertrand Russell Dies At 97

PENRHYDEUDRAETH Wales (AP) — Britain today mourned philosopher Bertrand Russell, one of the great minds of the 20th Century and one of its most controversial figures.

Lord Russell died Monday night at his home in North Wales. He was 97.

A spokesman said Russell's fourth wife, Edith, was with him when he collapsed. He reportedly had been suffering from influenza.

Friends of the family said Russell will be cremated without religious ceremony or flowers Thursday. He was an agnostic.

Only the widow, other relatives and those who worked with the philosopher in his peace foundation will attend, the friends reported. Cremation will be at Colwyn Bay on the Irish Sea.

"This has come as a terrible shock to everyone," said Kenneth Coates, a director of the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation. "I spoke to Bertrand only a few days ago and he seemed in good health, still working on peace foundation projects."

The Times of London said "Bertrand Russell's claim to be remembered by history rests securely on his work in mathematical and symbolic logic and in philosophy on which his influence was pervasive and profound."

In recent years Russell, a lean man with sharp bird-like features and a shock of white hair, was in the vanguard of the militant opposition to nuclear armament and U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war.

The peace foundation he set up seven years ago held a tribunal in Denmark that in December 1967 found the united States guilty of genocide against the Vietnamese people. Russell did not attend, and the tribunal had no backing from any government.

Author of more than 60 books, Russell won the Nobel prize for literature in 1950 and was a member of the British Order of Merit, restricted to 24 members at any time. He was the third Earl Russell and the grandson of a British prime minister, the first earl.

Yet in 1940 his appointment to lecture at the College of the City of New York was revoked by a state Supreme Court justice who said the appointment was "an attempt to establish a chair of indecency." A woman taxpayer brought the suit because of Russell's open endorsement of trial marriage, premarital and extramarital sexual relations.

Few men prompted such extreme feelings as Russell did. He was reviled as a crank because of his antiwar views. Others regarded his as a sage. His conversation was dry and crackled with a biting wit that never lost its edge.

In his autobiography published just before his 95th birthday, Rusell wrote: "Three passions, simple but overwhelmingly strong, have governed my life: the longing for love, the search for knowledge and unbearable pity for the suffering of mankind." But only the longing for love was fully satisfied, he wrote.

Bertrand Arthur William Russell was born May 18, 1872. His parents died when he was 3; his grandfather, Lord John Russell, the former prime minister, raised him for three years, and after Lord Russell's death in 1878 his grandmother reared him. But the great event of his childhood, he wrote more than 80 years later, was his introduction at the age of 11 to Euclid and mathematics by his older brother.

"From that moment until Whitehead and I finished 'Principia Mathematica' when I was 38, mathematics was my chief interest and my chief source of happines," he wrote in his autobiography.

During World War I Russell went to prison for six months as a pacifist. After the war, Russell, a member of the Labor party, visited Russia, met Lenin and Trotsky and wrote a book, "The Practice and Theory of Bolshevism." He was one of the first intellectuals to warn of the dictatorial evils of Bolshevism.

Despite his World War I commitment to pacifism, he supported the war against Hitler.

Strawberry Marina Plan Is Revised

Eight recommendations for amending a plan for the proposed Strawberry Cove yacht harbor development were accepted last night by the Tiburon Planning Commission.

The commissioners also agreed to forward the changes to the Marin County Planning Commission which is presently studying a master plan for the area.

The recommedations to alter the development, which will include apartments and a restaurant, came from Wayne E. Moody, Tiburon planning director.

The changes would include permanent view easements to preserve views between buildings on the harbor, boat access easements over the water and parking areas below street level.

Moddy also asked that the developers, Clipper Yacht Co. of Sausalito and Leonard Fleischman, a Strawberry Cove land owner, dedicate a public waterfront park and reduce the planned marina in size to reduce necessary parking areas.

Other recommendations were purchase of a small parcel of property adjacent to Fleischman's property for inclusion in the development and a common access road to Strawberry Drive.

The commission also heard a detailed report of land use distribution in the city's proposed harbor plan for development of the downtown area. Phillip Buskirk, consultant who is helping to prepare the plan, agreed to submit a three dimensional map of the area under consideration at the planners' final public hearing on the plan Feb. 26.

$2,000 Damage To Excavating Machine

Vandals caused $2,000 damage during the weekend to an escavating machine owned by the Ford Construction Co. of Novato and parked on Clorinda Avenue and Madrona Street, San Rafael police reported today.

Dirt had been placed in the radiator, fuel tank, crank case torque converters and power steering; wiring was ripped out and gauges broken between 4:30 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. yesterday, according to police.

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 3 the 34th day of 1970 with 331 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1913 the 16th Amendment, the income tax amendment, became part of the Constitution after ratification by Wyoming.

In 1917 the United States broke off diplomatic relations with Germany after that nation announced unrestricted submarine warfare.

In 1924 Woodrow Wilson died at his home in Washington.

In 1966 the Russians put an unmanned satellite on the moon. It was a soft landing.

A thought for the day: Jane Austen said, "Those who do not complain are never pitied."

Most Americans Now See Educational TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Four of every five persons are now within viewing range of educational television, the U.S. Office of Education reported.

Since federal funds became available to support ETV in 1963, the potential audience has grown from 103 million to 165 million. According to the Office of Education, only three states —Alaska, Montana and Wyoming —now are without educational television.

Grandstand Play At No-Trump Upsetting To An Old Kibitzer

"Harrumph," the Old Kibitzer said in a fiercely critical tone. And he got up from his chair and crossed the room to sit at another table. He wouldn't say much, except to mutter something about grandstand plays, but it was clear that some unusual maneuver had upset the old gentleman.

FIRST TRICK

"He left at the first trick of an ordinary no-trump hand," one of the players told me that night at dinner. And he wrote down the cards as well as he remembered them.

"The opening lead was the six of hearts," my informant told me, "and the ace won the trick."

NEEDS FINESSE

South can tell that West has led from a suit headed by Q-9-7 (if his lead of the six is a fourth-best card). Declarer will get only one heart trick and needs three spade tricks to make his contract. The best chance to get the spade tricks and still prevent the hearts from coming in is to take two finesses through East.

How does declarer get to dummy twice to finesse through East?

Now you have it! South must drop the king of hearts at the first trick! This was the grandstand play that annoyed the Old Kibitzer.

HEART TO DUMMY

Regardless of the return, South can lead a heart to dummy's jack to take a spade finesse and can return to dummy with the ace of diamonds to take another spade finesse. The rest is easy.

South goes down if he keeps the king of hearts. He cannot get to dummy in hearts to take a spade finesse, and therefore gets only eight tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 no-trump (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
S-6 5
H- Q 9 7 6 2
D- 8 4
C- Q 10 7 6
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts.

This response (forcing to game) gives partner a choice between four hearts and three no-trump as a final contract. He should bid four hearts if he has three or more hearts; but should bid three no-trump if he has A-x or K-x of hearts.

Weighty Alibi

HAVANT, England (UPI)— Champion jockey Terry Biddlecombe, in court on a traffic violation and faced with the loss of his driver's license, was allowed to keep the license after his attorney told the Judge Biddlecombe had to make hurried trips from the race track to a Turkish bath three times a week to keep his weight down.

$9,000 Robbery In Corte Madera

Two men posing as insurance agents yesterday robbed a Corte Madera woman of $8,500 worth of jewelry and $585 in cash and checks after tying her up at gunpoint, police reported.

Lillian Gellick of 1015 Meadowsweet Drive told police a man calling himself Larry knocked at the door of her secluded home at 10:30 a.m. and asked if she wanted to buy life insurance. She said no and started to close the door, but the man held the door open and produced a long-barreled gun, possibly a rifle, police said.

The gunman ordered her to tell where her stockings were kept, and his companion, who was called Bob, then got the stockings and tied Mrs. Gellick hand and foot. The gunman ordered her not to look up or he would shoot her or her four-year-old daughter, Tracy.

They then asked where the jewelry was kept and Mrs. Gellick told them.

The two took an Omega watch with 100 diamonds valued at $2,500, a gold bracelet with 15 diamonds valued at $5,000, a jade pendant of a Buddha holding a diamond valued at $250, and a diamond necklace valued at $700.

They also took $465 cash and two checks of $100 and $120.

Before leaving, the men warned her not to call police or her other daughter, Cathy Tucker, a Redwood High School student, would be killed.

Police picked up Miss Tucker at school and escorted her home.

A neighbor reported hearing a car door slam at the time of the robbery.

The gunman was described as 5 feet 11 inches, 155 pounds, thin and "clean cut" with dark hair. His companion was bearded and of medium build, and may have been wearing a salmon colored suit, police said. Both were Caucasian and appeared to be in their 20s.

Federal Cash Sought For Chicano Training

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved applying to the federal government for a $238,977 two-year program of job training and post-prison help for Mexican-American inmates of San Quentin Prison.

Project Empleo, as it is called, is budgeted at $115,173 for the first year and $123,704 the second. Chicano inmates would get academic and vocational training to fit them for jobs outside prison.

The board accepted bids from two firms for relocatable classrooms, reported administrative director Robert E. Spain. School districts in the county will be able to order portables at the quoted prices without going through the bid procedure again, Spain said.

Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa had a base bid of $13,416, and a bid of $15,595 for "modular component" portables. Compass Structures of Richmond had a base bid of $13,250, and a bid of $12,850 for the same structure with a redwood foundation.

The board accepted a seven-page set of guidelines for appeals procedures on interdistrict transfers. The guidelines spell out the steps to be taken by the county board, the school, the student, parents, the school districts involved and the county counsel, Spain said.

Marin County Board Of Education Also:

TRANSFER — Approved an intercounty transfer to allow Lauren Boyd, whose family has moved to San Francisco, to complete her sophomore year at Sir Francis Drake High School.

SPECIAL EDUCATION — Named trustee Lee C. Richardson Jr. as board representative on the special education advisory commission, a new group which will advise the board and the county office on all phases of special education.

OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION — Accepted a list of organizations to be represented on the occupational education advisory council, and added the Marin County Board of Supervisors to the list. Letters will be sent to each organization asking them to name a council representative.

SUPPLIES — Approved bids from eight companies for a wide range of schoolroom supplies.

DIPLOMA — Awarded a diploma from Loma Alta High School to Cynthia Strouss.

HIRING — Hired Mary Kersh as a teacher of the aphasic class at San Clemente School at $10,862 a year; Beverly Levy as coordinator of volunteers at Marindale School at $220 a month for part-time work; Sandra Charshaf as a Marindale instructional aide at $2.60 an hour; Robyn Griffin and Curtis Cummings as instructional aides at the child development center at $2.60 an hour; and Doris Snyder as a bus driver at $2.73 an hour.

PSYCHIATRIST — Was told that psychiatrist and author Dr. Bernard Rimland, an authority on child autism, will visit the class for autistic children at Henry C. Hall School at 8 p.m. Feb. 17 to meet with teachers and parents.

MEETINGS — Set the next meeting of board committees for 8 p.m. Feb. 17 at the district office, and the next board meeting for 8 p.m. March 2 at Sunny Hills School, San Anselmo.

Novato Chamber Opposes Freeze

Unamimous opposition to the proposed moratorium on new building and rezoning was voted yesterday by the Novato Chamber of Commerce board of directors in a special meeting at the chamber offices.

Theodore R. Schuman, owner of Schuman Chevrolet, asked for the meeting so the chamber could take a firm position against the moratorium, according to secretary Billie Garl.

"We cannot afford to have Novato get that kind of image, one of stopping progress," Schuman said.

The proposed moratorium will come before the Novato City Council, the Novato Planning Commission and the Novato Downtown Study Committee at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Foundation Adds Money For Loans

College of Marin Foundation directors last night added $1,000 to its emergency loan fund for short term loans.

Foundation treasurer Robert Soderblom said the $5,500 in the fund had been exhausted, and the additional funds were needed to aid students in buying books for the start of the new semester today.

The directors established an endowment fund for all memorial donations. Income from the fund will be used for scholarships.

The directors urged faculty and students to assume advisory roles to the foundation.

Chancellor, Staff Laud Dr. Nichols

The resignation of Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. as president of Sonoma State College has brought words of regret from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke and the college faculty.

Nichols said yesterday he would relinquish the pressures of the presidency in favor of joining the college chemistry department as a professor next fall.

Chancellor Dumke said yesterday, "The nine years of remarkable growth and development of Sonoma State College, including the assembling of an outstanding faculty and staff, are a great credit to President Nichols' administration. I regret that situations have developed which make President Nichols feel compelled to seek a change of assignment, and I wish him the fullest measure of success."

The executive committee of the college Academic Senate lauded Nichols for his leadership in making Sonoma State one of the most innovative schools in the country.

"You have earned the trust and admiration of students, faculty and administrators during a time when pressure has produced turmoil on campuses throughout the world," the faculty told Nichols. "Nothing has occurred on this campus to endanger the integrity of the academic process during your presidency."

Treated For Pills

Carol A. Giovinazzo, 33, of 1825 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael was reported in good condition after treatment for an overdose of a barbiturate yesterday at her home.

58 Students Seated In School Election

San Rafael High School students elected 58 candidates to class and student body offices Friday and yesterday in a race that included two write-in winners.

A runoff election today was to determine the winners in two other contests, including that of student body president.

Actual vote counts were withheld to spare the feelings of losers in keeping with long-standing school policy.

Results of the election are:

Student body officers: Dennis Silva and Tony Salin entered a runoff for president over Carl Alarcon and Don Daglow; Parker Lee defeated Pam Bacci and Mike McPherson for vice president; Dave Ripp was unopposed for secretary; Jenny Heller was unopposed for director of social affairs.

SENIOR CLASS—Rick Scatena defeated Rick Haenggi for president; Kelly Wolf was unopposed for vice president; Dave Ripp won on a write-in for secretary; Viv Miller was unopposed for director of social affairs; Bebe Anderson, Kris Bonner, Charles Gray, Rick Haenggi, Tony Nathe, Dave Ripp, Rick Scatena, Bob Selmi and Lowell Widmer were elected to student congress.

Housing Board To Decide Ballot

A countywide housing ballot measure which, if passed, would open the door for more low-income housing in Marin will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority, set for 7:30 in the Northgate seniors' housing development, 5 Golden Hinde Boulevard, Terra Linda.

Commissioner Vera Schultz will report on the status of the campaign for the measure.

The housing authority also will consider a recommendation currently before the Marin County Board of Supervisors to divide the housing authority and redevelopment agency administration and boards, now largely served by the same persons.

Rainfall Table Figures Corrected

Due to errors in computation, some of the figures in the Independent-Jouranl's daily rainfall table for Jan. 21-26 were incorrect.

The correct total to date Jan. 21 was 37.40. Correct 24-hour totals for the following five days were: Jan. 22, 1.92; Jan. 23, .38; Jan. 24, none; Jan. 25, 1.35; Jan. 26, none.

The first woman to drive an automobile from New York City to San Francisco was Mrs. Blanche S. Scott, who drove a 25-horsepower Overland on a trip that required 69 days in 1910.

Petition To Belvedere On Flood Action

By ERIK M. INGRAM

More than 200 irate homeowners petitioned the Belvedere City Council last night to take "affirmative and immediate action to prevent further flooding."

"The people of Cove Road and Lagoon Road are angry," Henry Cornell, accompanied by about a dozen signers, told the council as he presented them with the petition. "What are you going to do about it?" he asked.

TO FORM PANEL

His question was answered when the council's four members present voted unanimously to form a committee of interested Belvedere and Tiburon residents.

Councilman Meritt K. Ruddock was absent.

But a committee wasn't what some members of the audience had in mind.

If a committee is formed, Robert A. Davies of 160 San Rafael Avenue told the council, "You'll be talking to Tiburon for the next 100 years."

Mayor Thomas S. Price told the council he didn't like committees any more than anyone else. "But this is the way you start," he added.

The petition blamed last month's flooding in the Belvedere Lagoon area on building developments. Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel later said the "additional building" had occurred in the hills around Tiburon and had destroyed ponds which traditionally caught run-off water.

LONG A PROBLEM

Flooding had been a problem since 1966 and two plans for drainage districts have been prepared--one by each city, Drechsel said. However, neither city can agree on the others' plan, he added.

"Come March and dry weather, everyone forgets this problem," Price said. "I can assure you this won't happen this year."

hTe mayor suggested the two cities co-operate in dredging existing holding ponds. If done, the mayor added, the holding capacity could be doubled.

Mountain Play Auditions Set

Auditions for this year's Mountain Play, "Tamalpa," will be held Feb. 11 and 15 at Park School, 360 Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

The auditions on Wednesday, Feb. 11, will start at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, Feb. 15, at 2 p.m.

All major roles are open, including those for Tamalpa, a siren of the mountain; Wona, her best friend, Aw-Shawn-Nee, a beautiful but evil Indian; Piayutuma, an Indian brave, and Nikko, a male comedy-drama role.

Parts are open for "character" actresses and for men of the village. Children will not be auditioned.

"Tamalpa" will be directed by Dan Totheroh and presented at the Mount Tamalpais outdoor theater on May 17, 23, and 24.

Gunshot Exchange Called Accidental

A Marin City man injured by gunfire Saturday said yesterday the incident was accidental.

Robert Bradley, 35, of 931 Drake Avenue, said the accidental discharge of a single bullet from one gun wounded him and John Hill, 34, of 203 Drake Avenue.

The Independent-Journal reported Saturday that Marin County sheriff's officers said the incident was an exchange of gunfire following an argument between the men.

Hill was treated and released Saturday at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, and Bradley was reported in good condition yesterday at Marin General Hospital.

Sewer Line System Smoke Check Ordered

The Belvedere City Council last night authorized a smoke check on city sewer lines to determine where massive infiltration of water is occurring.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli told the council the system's main pump on Cove Road struggled to handle nearly one million gallons a day during six days in January. It averages 220 gallons a day. The added gallons, he said, were run-off water from January's storms.

Worried that a failure of the pump at a critical time might cover part of Belvedere in sewage, the council approved the testing.

The Belvedere City Council also:

WASTE DISPOSAL — Approved unanimously recommendations from the Marin County Management Conference that cities, towns and special districts contract or franchise for disposal of rubbish and join the county in a federally assisted study of efficient waste collection and disposal.

BALLOT MEASURE — Delayed appointment of a Belvedere representative to a committee studying a ballot measure on low-cost housing in the county. The council was told 6,000 to 8,000 new units will be built in the county, but not in Belvedere.

MEMBERSHIP — Approved unanimously a $15 membership in the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

BRIDGE AUTHORITY — Called for support by the council for a Golden Gate Bridge Authority, at a meeting on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center, sponsored by the Golden Gate Bridge District.

CARMEL SUIT — Refused request for $200 from the City of Carmel in support of its suit against the state on legislation requiring disclosure of assets by public officials.

Accident Report Facts Corrected

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday when it reported Robin H. Rogers of San Anselmo stepped into the path of a car at the intersection of Fourth and B streets.

Police reports show Miss Rogers was crossing Fourth Street with the light when hit by a car turning right from B Street. Driver of the car was Gaylene R. Smith of Sausalito.

Retarded Children's Group Names Slate

Charles Martin of Lucas Valley has been elected president of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Other officers chosen are: Dr. Joseph Spinelli of San Anselmo, first vice president; George Kerson of Belvedere, second vice president; Mrs. John McRee of Mill Valley, third vice president; Mrs. George Vandegrift, of San Rafael, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Greenhalgh of Novato, corresponding secretary; and Fred Herrera of Terra Linda, treasurer.

Benevest introduces the Instant Tax Refund:

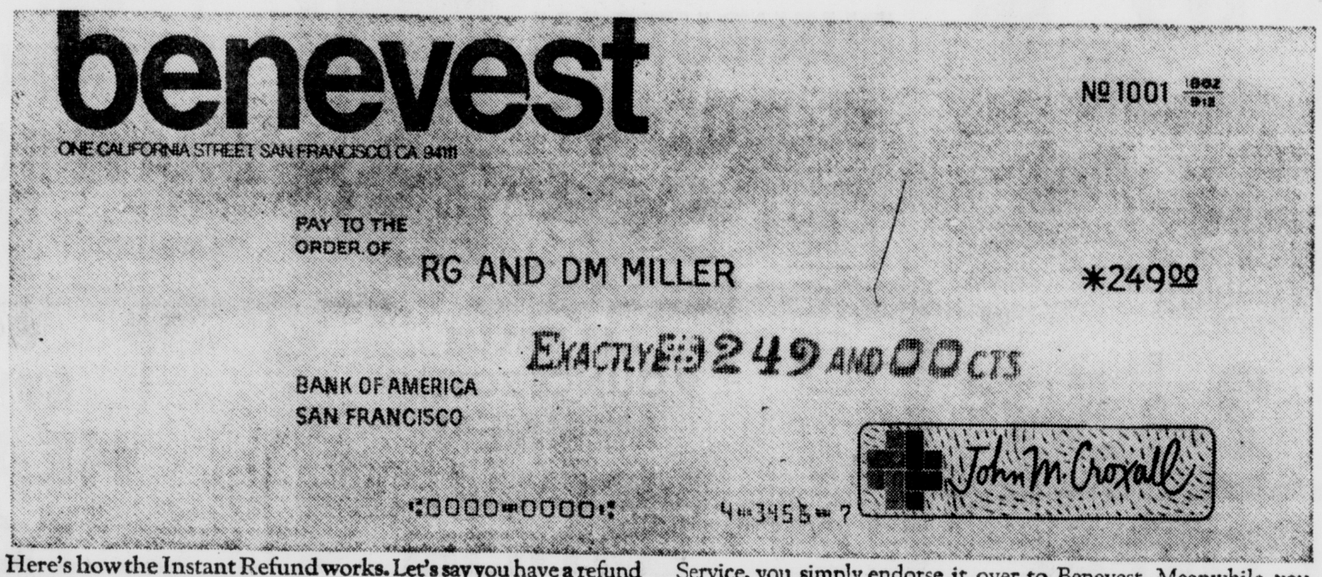
A new way to do your taxes. So thorough, so accurate that we back it up with our own refund money.

Benevest is a new way to do your income tax, using the new tax forms. Experienced tax accountants have joined computer experts to develop a system that prepares your tax return quickly, inexpensively, and accurately.

The secret is the use of high-speed computers to handle all the mathematics required by the new forms.

Since the computer does all the math, our tax people can concentrate on analyzing your personal financial situation, to make sure you get all the deductions you're entitled to.

And that's the only way to make sure you don't pay more tax than you need to. (In fact, that's why the government introduced the new forms.)



Here's how the Instant Refund works. Let's say you have a refund of $249 coming from the government. When you stop in at Benevest to sign your completed return, Benevest can have a $249 check ready for you—your full refund.
Later, when you get your $249 check from the Internal Revenue Service, you simply endorse it over to Benevest. Meanwhile, you have had your full cash refund to use any way you wish.
There is no special fee, no percentage, no extra charge of any kind. The Instant Refund is part of Benevest's service, subject, of course, to your approval and ours.

At last, a friendly computer. It's on your side.

The Benevest computers are programmed to find the lowest legal tax at every step of the way. There are always several ways to figure any tax return.

The computer swiftly and accurately figures all of them. Then it selects the best way from your particular point of view. Example: Suppose you decide to itemize your deductions. The computer also figures your tax using standard deductions. Then it chooses the way that gives you the lowest tax. And so on.

This would be almost impossible to do by hand—far too time consuming. But not for the computer.

DRAWINGS BY TOMI UNGERER

Extra services, no extra charge.

In addition to your Federal tax return, Benevest also prepares these documents at no extra charge:

California State Income Tax.

Quarterly estimates. If you are required to file them, Benevest prepares the necessary forms for you.

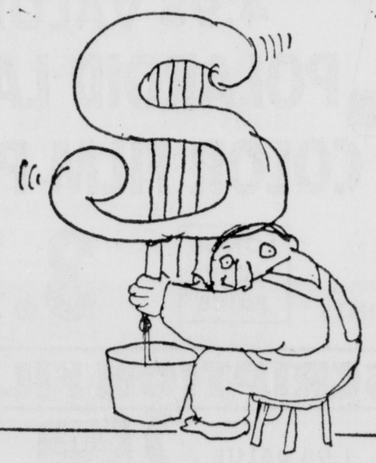
Retirement Income Credits. As a special service to over-65 taxpayers, Benevest automatically calculates retirement income credits and prepares the necessary documents at no extra charge. (Most tax services charge a substantial extra fee for this complicated calculation.)

How much does it cost?

Perhaps it sounds expensive. It isn't. The exact fee depends on how complicated your return is, just as with other tax services. But the use of computers helps keep the cost down and makes it possible to provide the Instant Refund as part of the service. Our people give you an accurate estimate of the cost before they start work on your return. (With or without the instant refund, your charge will be exactly the same.)

You'll like the Benevest way.

No waiting. Mail coupon or phone direct for an appointment at your most convenient Benevest office. (See below)



It's a good way to be sure you get immediate attention when you come in.

Permanent, comfortable offices. Benevest offices are spacious, well appointed and comfortable. They're open all year 'round. The people don't disappear after April 15.

Less than half an hour. That's all of your time it takes for the average return—including itemized deductions and everything. (You don't need to wait around while someone does arithmetic: the computer does it after you leave.)

You get 2 copies. One copy is for the Government, one copy for your records.

100% accuracy. The Benevest system has been tested for 2 years, and its mathematical accuracy is unconditionally guaranteed. The computer even rechecks every return, looking for the same things government computers look for.

Paris Concensus—Mid-Calf Hemline With Mini Hangover

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — The Paris openings of spring and summer fashion collections ended with Yves Saint Laurent's presentation, and one thing is clear: midcalf is most popular for the hemlines, although there is a strong miniskirt hangover.

Some designers do not hesitate to drop hemlines to around the ankles. In dressier dinner numbers they look elegant. The young dresses that hit midcalf take on a demure look instead of the aggressive mood of past seasons. They gain in charm and the mood is soft and often tender.

Although Cardin is against suits, Chanel, Givenchy and Balmain favor them. On many occasions the suit look proves to be a "costume" that is a dress worn with a tailored jacket.

Everyone is still doing some gypsy dresses, but they seem to be dated. Far newer is the Oriental harem trend, with Turkish trousers and a paisley turban. Evening gowns are subtly draped in soft opaque fabrics or sheer crepe Georgette touched with jewelled embroidery.

Borders in general are in for attention. On tunics, Cardin has a wide white edge, Patou edges his funnel-flared dresses in navy, in black or white at the neckline and hemline. Chanel borders her suits and coats at the collarless neckline and wrists in a dark braid. This does not eliminate the many crisp white touches, collars, and deep cuffs everywhere.

There are innovations in coats at many houses. The fitted redingote at Dior's with its unpressed back pleat shares honors with Cardin's straight slender back-slashed topcoats. Many coats are sleeveless and show the dress print. Ungaro does them in every length.

Colors are gay. Pastel ranges vie with bright orange, vermillion red, ultramarine blue. Navy is strong, putty and white are extremely important.

Ann Evju Is Bride In Ross

St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Ann S. Evju and Donald G Parsons. A reception followed at the San Rafael home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Evju.

Mrs. Lawrence J. Kline of San Anselmo was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Mark Evju of San Diego and Clementine Hyndman of San Rafael.

The bride's brother, Mark Evju, was best man, and ushers were another brother of the bride, Peter Evju of San Rafael, and Larry Bruns, also of San Rafael.

Ann was graduated from San Rafael High School and College of Marin. She is employed in the offices of Dr. R. B. Stewart in San Rafael. Mrs. Vivian Dietz of Berkeley is her grandmother.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parsons of Houston, Tex. He was graduated from high school in Houston and attended the University of Houston. The bridegroom is employed by United Ambulance Service in San Rafael. He is the brother of Claude Silvey and Rosemary Parsons, both of Houston.

The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

Sorority Officer

Joanne Cieri of Larkspur has been installed first vice president of Sigma Kappa Sorority on the University of California at Santa Barbara campus. She is a sophomore majoring in history.

DIOR'S 'NEW LOOK' of 1947, at left, is brought back to fashion 1970 by French and Italian high fashion designers. As in the example at right by Valentino, hemlines are dropping to mid-calf or below and a less aggressive look is coming in for the season. There is a strong miniskirt hangover from the Sixties in many collections, however. (UPI Telephoto).

Peace Corps Girl Returns From Peru

By DOROTHY NEWELL

"An area which could be developed in the Peace Corps would be more unity between the agencies and volunteers in those agencies," says Melinda Mixer, who recently returned after two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Chuquibamba, Peru.

"Being so far out in the country, I had trouble carrying out plans for my people," she said.

MELINDA, NOW living with her sister, Mrs. Juanita Reynolds in Novato, was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1967 with a degree in social welfare.

An extensive three-month course followed her graduation with two months of that time spent in Toluca, Mexico, learning Spanish, eight hours a day, six days a week.

She was sent to Chuquibamba, a town of approximately 2,000 persons, just north of the Chilean border where she taught people about agriculture, "I.E. fertilizer, seeds and plantings." She also taught nutrition, personal care and child care to the classes of third, fourth and fifth graders who were six to 19 years old.

She helped to build a school, traveling on horseback five miles to Arequipa for bricks, windows and other building supplies.

IN ALL, SHE taught in seven schools, two in Chuquibamba and five other schools in the country. She rode horseback to the five schools two days a week with traveling time to the pueblos about one and one-half hours each way.

She told of one of her most harrowing experiences. Leaving Chuquibamba at 7 a.m. she traveled between the high stone fences that separate the farms. Going around a corner she faced a herd of 20 bulls, bellowing and stampeding, being taken to market. She was horrified she said, but she got off her horse, placed a hat over his eyes to keep him from panicking and waited until the bulls had passed.

Her most embarrassing experience was when the seed that the agency gave her was found to be too old, and the garden they planted with the help of the townspeople failed to grow.

The altitude at Chuquibamba is 8,500 feet. She bathed in a secluded area outside her house in water that she heated on two bunson burners. Eletricity was available from 6 to 8 p.m., and if the dinner dishes were not washed before then, ice would form in the pan before morning. Heat for the home was a kerosene stove.

THERE WERE no prepared foods, so a meal beginning with soup could take three hours to prepare. The markets open at 6 a.m., Melinda said, and meat is hung out in the open. The main diet is potatoes and corn, and she said she found 25 different ways to prepare potatoes.

The Indians still chew coca leaves with limestone. Used as an escape the drug numbs the body, much like novocaine, Melinda was told, and turns the teeth green.

The mode of dress for the women features as many as five highly colored skirts, all worn at one time with a vest. The women particularly like large safety pins to decorate the vests or sweaters. With this costume they may wear a derby, go barefoot or wear sandals made of old tires.

"It was like living in a fishbowl," Melinda said about her life in Peru, but she said she really enjoyed the people, and they treated her well.

Melinda was born in Argentina when her father had an experimental farm there. She visited the area while living in Peru. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton Mixer Jr. now live in Santa Rosa. She also has a brother, Anthony Mixer of El Paso, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Ronald Johnson of Milpitas.

MELINDA HAS returned to an entirely different life and employment. She is a secretary for the Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

A part of Peru will follow her to the United States however. She is engaged to marry Emilio Villanueva Fernandez, a student in Arequipa, who plans to continue his education here.

MELINDA MIXER of Novato displays some of the souveniers she brought home with here from Peru, where she was a member of the Peace Corps at Chuquibamba, Peru, just north of Chile. She is wearing a poncho made of alpaca with a pattern on the border of llamas. She is holding a leather bag costing only $3 and on the table are two tapestries, woven into a burlap-tape material of wool. The one of the doll is just for "fun" said Melinda, but the lighter one, depicts the earth, sun and sea, she said.

Mrs. Carswell Eyes Capital

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Virginia Carswell, whose husband has been nominated for the U.S. Supreme Court, says she will miss her Florida home but is looking forward to Washington.

"I'll miss Lake Jackson and having my granddaughter next door, and my Thursday bridge group—they say they're going to fly up," said the dark-haired, 44-year-old Mrs. Carswell.

SHE AND her husband, U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals Judge G. Harrold Carswell, will be moving to Washington if his appointment is confirmed by the Senate.

"I've always enjoyed the beauty of Washington," Mrs. Carswell said, "I never get my fill of exploring the Smithsonian. Last time there I visited the old Episcopal Cathedral, it's such a historical city."

Mrs. Carswell has a reputation in Tallahassee for having a smooth hand with large parties at her home, such as a reception for 500 several years ago at the wedding of her younger daughter, Nan.

The Carswells' other daughter, Ramsay, 24, and her attorney husband, Fenton Langston, live next door.

JUDGE CARSWELL visits there every morning to play with his first grandchild, Virginia Ramsey, 7 months old.

Nan, 22, and her husband, Redford Cherry, an accountant, make their home in Tampa.

The Carswells' have two sons, George Harrold Jr., 20, a student at Tallahassee Junior College; and Scott, 18, a student at Florida State University.

The Carswells lead a relatively quiet social life. They take part in charitable events such as the Red Cross ball and enjoy regular bridge sessions with longtime friends.

DURING THE summer, the family spends a great deal of time at a beach house on Alligator Point, 40 miles to the south on the Gulf of Mexico. The house is owned by Mrs. Carswell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmons.

She met her husband in Bainbridge, Ga., where she was born and where he lived with his sister, Ellen Carswell Simmons, after his father died. Ellen Simmons was married to Virginia's uncle, Ramsay Simmons.

Mrs. Carswell is handy around the house. When newsmen's camera lights blew a fuse, she was the one who fixed it.

"She even has her own tool box—everybody has to borrow Mama's hammer," said the judge.

She has gone to the same hairdresser for five years, but is thrifty enough to manicure her own nails.

MRS. CARSWELL often wears her daughters' hand-me-downs.

"They're just too good to throw away," she said.

She's a size 8, or 10, depending on the style.

Don't sit too long in one position. When the body is held in a fixed position, muscles are constantly contracting without letup. Unless the muscles are given a break or stretch, they tend to shorten and go into spasm.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

A Family Dinner Arrangement That Can Cause Hard Feelings

DEAR HELEN:

We were at a family reunion that included close friends. It was in a big hall and the adults were supposed to line up on one side for steak dinners, while the children got hamburgers in another part of the room.

That's just fine for kids. My little brother would eat a hamburger any day instead of a steak. But I'm almost 15--and the guy I wanted to sit with is 17. I got put over with the babies, but he ate with the adults. The cut-off was 16.

There was only one person near my age at that second table and he was a creep who acted like six.

It's no wonder kids my age shudder when someone mentions family dinner. I think they want us along mainly so we'll babysit the younger ones.

Besides, I prefer steak.

What do you think of this? —

SECOND STRING SUE

DEAR SUE:

I think the planners goofed. It's permissible to serve both hamburgers and steak at a big dinner where there are many small children, but the second-table thing not only causes hard feelings among teens but usually becomes a food-throwing bedlam.

As you say, it's no wonder young people groan at family reunions. Here's one who doesn't—and her thoughts are so refreshing I want to share them with my readers:

DEAR HELEN:

Last night after all the guests had gone and the last dish was finally put away, I got to thinking about family reunions and put my thoughts down on paper. Mom suggested I send them to you, so here is:

What Is A Family Reunion?

A family reunion is being informed by some dozen relatives that you've certainly grown. (You mean everyone else hasn't shrunk?)

It's the chance to show off the new color television . . . then an argument between your brother and cousins over which game to watch, while the younger kids shout for comics. But the dispute settles itself nicely when the television refuses to function.

A reunion is eagerly watching for the arrival of a distantly related family with their cute college-freshman son—only to find out he is spending the weekend at his girl friend's home.

It is Granddad falling asleep during Grace.

It is two drumsticks, and three small cousins.

It's making a wish on the wishbone and having both ends break half way up.

A reunion is everybody talking at top voice—and then a sudden quiet lull, just as you say ot an understanding second cousin, "But he kisses so icky." Oh boy, the kidding.

It's holding the newest baby, but not having to change his diaper.

It's teasing your favorite nephew, and playing street-ball after dinner.

A reunion is everyone very politely eating the squash ambrosia you thought looked so fantastic in the cookbook.

It's your brother dreamily eating the contents of the cornucopia centerpiece. ("Oh, is that what is was?")

It's cleaning up and trying to fit the leftovers into the refrigerator. ("What should we do with all this squash ambrosia?")

It's doing the dishes with your two female cousins in a fit of giggles.

A family reunion is for putting aside your unhappiness and discontent and realizing how lucky you are to have such nice people. If I could live the last one over again, I wouldn't change a minute of it. — THANKFUL

Dad Builds A Home Computer

By JACQUELINE SNYDER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some old junk Jim Sutherland brought home from the office is now regulating the furnace in his home, selecting channels on his television, typing papers for his wife and helping his children with their homework.

Sutherland, a computer designer for Westinghouse Electric Corp., bought some obsolete parts from the company and built Echo IV, an electronic computer for home operation, in the basement of his home.

It took Jim six months to design and build Echo IV, housed in a white cabinet along one wall of his basement work room. Since he completed it about three years ago, he's been busy writing programs to make it operate various appliances in his home.

"The real fun of a home computer," Sutherland says, "is when you can tie into the apparatus you're using."

"For instance, I plan to hook up the television picture tube to the system so that Echo can communicate with the family through an unused channel," he explained. "On school nights, the set will switch to that channel at a certain time and remind the children to go to bed."

Jim's three children, including 4-year-old Jay, are learning about computer operations through their father's hobby. Sally, 9 was able to explain the lights and buttons on the small television control board.

"When they all light up, it mean's it's messed up," she said. And she knew which button would remedy the problem.

The computer can analyze math problems quickly for 13-year-old Ann and Mrs. Sutherland said the editing feature of the computer typewriter in her kitchen came in handy when she was preparing a term paper for a night-school course in computers.

Since the system retains only the last thing typed in a certain space, she can simply go back and type over errors, then direct the computer to reprint, producing a perfect copy.

Mrs. Sutherland, a home economist, also plans to program recipes into the machine so she can call for one from the memory bank whenever she needs it.

"It won't be long until the computer will be taking care of the bookkeeping for our household," Mrs. Sutherland said.

JIM SUTHERLAND, a computer designer for Westinghouse Electric Corp., shows his wife, Ruth, a logic board from the computer he designed and built from obsolete parts he bought from the company. It controls the television and stereo, among other things in the home. He hopes to program it to play games with Ann, 13, Sally, 9, and Jay, 4. (AP Wirephoto)

Hike In Classroom Allotment Asked

Teachers, principals and the superintendent last night asked the Tamalpais High School District board to boost the classroom equipment allotment for the rest of the school year, but the board remained unbudged and asked for specifics on the need for more money.

The maintenance and equipment allotment was cut from a proposed $60 to $55 per student late in budget session last year, in order to keep district reserves above the desired $1.3 million figure.

Now, according to a report by business director Frank A. Cassou, it appears the extra $5 could be restored for the spring semester without endangering the reserve figure, and would cost $17,775.

Cassou said many teachers had planned their courses with the higher figure in mind and some classes had been disrupted by running short of money for supplementary books and materials.

The Tamalpais District Teachers Association asked for the restoration, and association president Robert O. Bachelder said the money would go for paperbacks, laboratory experiments, textbooks, mimeograph equipment and the like.

Trustee David R. Ring elicited from Cassou that at $60 the district ranked first in 12 Bay Area districts for the allotment, but Bachelder challenged "Is it quality or economy you want in this district?...Are you afraid of being first? What do you want to be?"

Principal Harold Allison of Sir Francis Drake High School said Drake lives within its budget, but found it "more difficult this year than ever before." The same situation exists at Tamalpais High School, Principal Raymond J. Bell said.

Trustee Robert W. Corlett moved to restore the $60, but the motion died without a second.

"We have a responsibility to live within a budget," Ring said. "I'm ready to listen to specifics, (but) to justify this the board needs more than a general demand of the need for more money."

The board closed the discussion by asking Supt. Robert D. Torrey to learn from the three principals what specific programs are most in need, and to inform the board Feb. 16.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

SAFETY—Heard a complain by the Tamalpais Federation of Teachers about unsafe conditions at Tamalpais. The teachers cited a low-hanging awning, speeding in parking lots, and seven places where sidewalks are steep or slippery and need non-slip surfaces or terracing. Off campus, sidewalks are needed so students can walk safely to school, the teachers said. Bell said several of the slick spots have already been improved and work is planned on others.

BUILDING—Reaffirmed its intent to go ahead with the second phase of the "immediate building needs program" adopted in January, 1969, although first phase work has gone over budget to leave only $776,873 instead of $996,100 for the second phase. First phase included construction of portable classrooms and renovation at Redwood High School. Second phase is to include a lecture hall and a multi-use center at Drake, a girls' gym, student center and rest rooms at Redwood, and renovation and a student center at Tamalpais.

RETIREMENT—Accepted the resignation of Herman C. Graves, head of business education at Drake, Graves, who has been in the district since 1943, is retiring at the end of this year.

LIBRARY—Passed a resolution supporting the Mill Valley library's request for financial support from Marin County.

GIFTS—Accepted the gift of $200 worth of electronic equipment from William Robertson of San Anselmo, and a book, "The Inaugural Story," from Marin Federated Republican Women, both for use at Drake.

LEAVE—Granted an unpaid leave to Penny Nelson, Redwood counselor, for the spring semester of 1971.

STRIKE—Took no action on a request by Richard H. Bradshaw III, assistant librarian at Tamalpais, that the board take a position on San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike of the Independent-Journal. "We all have our private wars with the I-J," said chairman Bette Wallace. "But it's all good clean dirty fun."

Maritime Academy Deadline March 1

Young men who want to enter the California Maritime Academy in Vallejo in August of this year must apply by March 1 to the academy's director of admissions, P.O. Box 1392, Vallejo, the academy has announced.

Candidates must by youths between 17 and 22, with a high school diploma. All candidates must take College Entrance Examination Board tests not later than March 7.

Dates For Sonatas

The College of Marin's Music Department will present all of Beethoven's violin sonatas in a series of concerts Feb. 6 and 27 and March 20 at 8:30 p.m. in room 72 of Choral Hall of the Fine Arts Building. The correct dates were omitted from a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Judge Finds One Guilty In Land Fuss

A Marin Municipal Court judge yesterday found a Tiburon man guilty of battery against his neighbor and acquitted the neighbor and his wife of misdemeanor charges stemming from a fracas last November that climaxed a long-standing and backyard feud.

However, Judge Hadden W.Roth, after convicting James Lewis Green and acquitting Mr and Mrs. Nathaniel Marans, said that he did not wish his decision to be "construed as an endorsement of the conduct of the Marans or a taking of their side in the dispute."

The judge found that Green was innocent of maliciously destroying property (a fence post) belonging to Marans, found Marans innocent of battery against Green and Mrs. Marans innocent of disturbing the peace by shouting at the Greens.

The charges arose from a skirmish on Nov. 9 in which Green allegedly used the fence post as a weapon and Marans reportedly wielded garden clippers.

The couples have feuded for about two years over a tiny strip of land which each claims.

Roth made it clear yesterday that he was not ruling on the long list of "incidents" which have high-lighted the feud, only the Nov. 9 occurrence.

During six days of testimony the judge, who heard the case without a jury, learned of a long series of events which included mangled honeysuckle vines, strategic placing of a omposit strategic placing of a compost heap and outdoor lights.

Both couples told of repeated calls to various officials, including police, fire department, district attorney and finally, the grand jury, to complain of each other's behavior.

Roth set sentencing for Green for March 13.

Organ Scholarship Competition Is Set

Appeal Plan Adopted On Long Hair Policy

The Tamalpais High School District board last night adopted an appeals procedure for students objecting to the Redwood High School ban on long hair for athletes.

The board then set next Monday night to hear appeals from 15 Redwood students appealing the hair rule, turning down an adult's request to hear some of the cases last night.

The Redwood group was put in a squeeze play by the Redwood athletic department, which ordered signups for track to be held today, instead of the last week of February as has been the practice for the past two years. Practice starts in March.

The aim, according to Gordon Pusser, father of two of the athletes, was to make all 15 ineligible for the entire season if they appealed and lost.

The board circumvented that possibility by ruling that the students, if they lose their appeals, will still be eligible if they then cut their hair.

The board then quickly approved proposed athletic rules for Sir Francis Drake High School which include the same wording as Redwood's on athletes' hair — "clean shaven with hair out of the eyes, trimmed above the ears, and tapered above the collar in the back."

Supt. Robert D. Torrey recommended the board approve the rules, since Redwood's had been debated at length before being approved.

Torrey added, however, that if Redwood's rules had not been approved he would not recommend approval of Drake's. The justification for the Drake rule, he said, was on a philosophical basis which does not meet the criteria requested.

"I don't see that the document explains how high morale . . . is accomplished by some crew cuts and some hair to the collar, but somehow is lost when it goes below the collar," Torrey said.

The 15 Redwood students are to submit written appeals by Thursday noon for next Monday's hearing. At the hearing, they may add oral pleas.

The only other speaker will be a spokesman for the athletic department defending the school's position. No other witnesses and no public participation will be allowed, according to the procedure.

Koch And Sons Ordered To Remove Two Billboards

Corte Madera town councilmen voted unanimously last night for removal of two large billboards at H. Koch and Sons at the town's entrance on Highway 101 over the protest of the firm's attorney who threatened to take the issue to court.

The attorney, Steven J. Dedina of San Francisco, argued the signs, each 27-feet high comprising a total 1200-square feet, had been put up with a permit before the 1958 zoning ordinance restricted sign size to 200-square feet.

He said the luggage manufacturing factory need the signs for identification because "it is in a hole off the side of the highway."

When Dedina declared that a denial would lead to court action, David I. Freed of 35 Harbor Drive, rose from the audience saying, "the citizens are exhausted," so let the matter "go to court as quickly as possible."

The hassle over the signs started last June when the council made removal of the signs a condition of approval of plans for a 72,000 square-foot expansion of the factory.

On Dec. 8 on a recommendation of the board of design, the Corte Madera Planning Commission refused an application for the signs.

Behr Opens Office For Senate Bidding

Former supervisor Peter H. Behr, candidate for the Republican nomination to the Senate seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has opened Marin campaign headquarters at 1007 A Street, San Rafael.

Behr also announced his selection of Mrs. Aline McClain of Mill Valley as campaign coordinator.

Aid To Ballet

The Marin Civic Ballet has been awarded a $500 grant by Belvedere Scientific Fund. The funds, along with proceeds from the performance of the Nutcracker, will be used to purchase new equipment, Mrs. Max Thelen Jr., has announced.

Dog Show Is Approved; Noise Clause

The Marin County Dog Training Club can hold a dog show at the town park June 21 if it keeps things quiet, Corte Madera town councilmen decided last night.

Over the arguments of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst that "parks are for people," the council voted 3-2, with Colthurst and Councilman Byron D. White dissenting, to allow obedience trials as long as the sound produced was subdued.

"If you think sound will be subdued, you're dreaming," White told the council.

Fees collected from the show could help "to get the park back in condition," Councilman Harol B. Wagstaff, countered, adding "the amplification of sound" could be controlled.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

HOUSING — Heard a report on the low-cost housing proposition for the June election by Donald A. Stutsman, executive director of Marin County Housing Authority and unanimously elected Councilman Robert P. Simmons as Corte Madera's representative on the county wide advisory committe studying the proposal.

FLOODING — Approved payment of $11,858 for emergency flood control work due to storms since Dec. 20 with $2,926 being spent for emergency contract service to repair a dike washed out underneath the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks; $2,899 for overtime for town employees fighting flooding; $3,592 for pump rental and $2,440 for materials and supplies.

MEETING — Set 8 a.m. Saturday for a breakfast meeting to slim down the field of eight consulting firms applying for job to conduct flood survey so that it might be considered at the Feb. 16 meeting.

LOTS — Approved unanimously lot line change of three lots at 105 Corte Madera Avenue so that they might be purchased by William W. Wood of 346 Corte Madera Avenue bringing his total area to 41,057 square feet. The three lots owned by a Mr Painter total 8,312 square feet.

FLAG POLE Approved a flag pole commemorating Boy Scout Week Feb. 7 and 8 on the northeast corner of Harbor and Paradise drives.

TRAINING — Approved Town Mngr. Ronald L. Usher to spend $592 to attend Management Development Workshop at University of Iowa March 22-27; a juvenile officer to spend $168 on a training conference March 17-20 in San Diego; two police officers to spend $298 each to attend Santa Rosa Junior College Feb. 23 to April 3, and a third to spend $90 to attend College of Marin Feb. 16 to March 2.

FEES — Approved paying Wilson, Jones, Morton and Lynch $892 in legal fees as town attorney.

ANNEXATION — Sitting as the Corte Madera Sanitary District board, granted extension the the Main Local Agency Formation Commission on lucky Drive annexation so it would coincide with annexation to the town.

Jail Sentence On Bad Check Charge

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Alzepher Johnson, 41, of Marin City, to 15 days in the county jail after she pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing a bad check with intent to defraud on Feb. 21, 1969, in San Rafael.

She had earlier been accused of passing the $173 check.

Marin Students Get Environment Proposal Passed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A delegation of eight Marin high school students successfully guided a bill through the YMCA Model Legislature last weekend to require deposits on beverage bottles and cans.

The bill was the only one of 78 measures considered that dealt with problems of environment.

Merrily Milmoe of Redwood High School testified before the Civil Affairs Committee Friday that the bill would cut down on the littering of bottles and cans.

"To start on a journey of a thousand miles, you must take the first step," she said.

The committee approved the bill, calling it the most important measure it had considered, and sent it to the Model Assembly, where it was approved by a wide margin.

After narrowly passing in the Model Senate, the bill was signed by Gov. Tony Martin of Berkeley.

Sheryl Barnard and Judy Hartman of the San Rafael YMCA accompanied the students.

A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY TURNS TO BOATS

After weeks of rain, a few sunny days turn one to the green thoughts of spring. Mrs. Jeff McAndrew of 50 Grande Vista, Novato, enjoys such a pensive moment in Novato's Pioneer Memorial Park, while son Jeffy, 4, skippers his boat in the park's new sailing pond. While rain and sun combined to paint a bright green lawn the other day, the slightly muddy water was a reminder of storms past and others, perhaps to come before the rainy season ends.

Assessment District For Street Work

A $180,000 assessment district for street improvements was approved last night by the Rohnert Park City Council.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the work woudl extend Avram Drive to Santa Alicia Drive and Santa Alicia from Arlen to Alicia Park.

A public hearing on the plan was set for March 16 at 7 p.m. Callinan said the plan is in conformity with the city master plan for street development.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

NICHOLS — Approved a resolution of commednation of Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., who resigned yesterday as Sonoma State College president, citing his community service.

APPOINTMENT — Named Mrs. Rose Sweeney and Armando Flores to the cultural arts commission to bring the group to full membership.

HOME CARE — Granted the request of Mrs. Betty Reynolds to operate a family care center at ther home at 7524 Blair Avenue. She plans to care for four retarded women.

SEWER — Agreed to study the possibility of extending sewer service to property owned by Chris Knudtsen on the west side of Highway 101.

PHEASANTS — Asked the chamber of commerce and recreation commission to study the possibility of starting a pheasant club on 50 acres of unused city property near the sewage disposal plant.

State, Sierra Club Seek Shoreline Access

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The State and the Sierra Club joined Monday in legal attempts to protect the public's right to use timeworn roads or paths across private property to beaches.

They presented arguments before the State Supreme Court in cases involving Santa Cruz and Mendocino beaches.

Time, Money Ruin Novato Park Idea

Time and money last night punctured the Novato City Council's short-lived dream of 428 acres for a park west of San Marin High School along Novato Boulevard and north up Bowman Canyon.

J. C. Garlick presented his plan of splitting the 856-acre ranch into several parcels before a joint meeting of the council and the parks and recreation commission. He would sell half of these parcels to the city for $500,000 the same price as the city is considering buying 67-acre O'Hair property at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue.

"The city can buy it for so much down and so much per year," he told the council. Details could be worked out later, but he needed an early commitment, he added.

Garlick said that he had other partners in the ranch. They are putting pressure on him to sell half of it so that they can finance the development of the other half, he said.

"The man has made a generous offer. He can't take time and the city needs time," said Mayor Harley A. McAskill.

The mayor left the door open to future negotiations if Garlick has not sold and the city has the finances at some future date.

The Lord made this area so beautiful like a park that it ought to be kept that way," Garlick said.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack said that the land would have to be parceled by the state because the city would be buying it.

"That could take 15 to 18 months," Womack said.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said that such a deal had many legal difficulties which could not be worked out in a short time.

"The proposition is fantastic," said Councilman Babe Silva, who first aired it at last Tuesday's council meeting.

He said that Garlick was used to dealing with private firms where decisions can be made immediately.

"Things just do not work like that in government. It took me a long time to learn it, but it's true," Silva said.

Garlick flew in from Salt Lake City and spent yesterday afternoon discussing the sale with City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Palmer.

Garlick thanked the council for its consideration of his proposition and said he would have future dealings with the council as he would annex the land to the city when he started his development.

Suspected Con Artist Is Held

A Santa Rosa man was arrested yesterday by Petaluma police on suspicion of grand theft from an elderly man.

Richard Perry Helms, 31, was booked into the city jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police said they received a call from Robert Koenitzer, a loan officer at the Golden West Savings and Loan Association, that Merrill La Clair, 79, of Petaluma, had withdrawn $2,500 from his account on Jan. 23 and yesterday wanted a check made out to Helms.

Two Plead Guilty To Robbery

Two men accused of kidnaping, armed robbery and car theft in the Thanksgiving night abduction of a Homestead Valley man pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the armed robbery charge, and the other counts were dismissed.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for Larry David White, 20, of San Rafael, and Stuart Harry Amey, 20, of Mill Valley for March 9.

A third suspect, Clark Anderson, also known as Steven Room, is still being sought by authorities.

The victim, Calvin C. Gaare, 39, told officers he met the three men in a San Rafael bar and went to the apartment of one of them.

He said the other two then arrived and he was forced to take pills which made him lose consciousness. He said he awoke the next morning in Hayward, stripped of his pants, his wallet and his car. His car was later found abandoned in Utah.

Ross Hospital Doctors Elect

George Oliva, San Anselmo general practitioner has been named president of the Ross General Hospital medical staff.

Administrator John C. Siemens announced that Dr. Oliva was appointed by the hospital nominating committee to succeed Dr. Charles Hoffman of San Rafael.

Other new officers are vice president Laurence Friedman, an internal medicine specialist and secretary Edward Brennan, psychiatrist.

Petalumans Reassured On Sewage

Honesty in reporting and a true effort for improvement led to Petaluma's being named as a target in the state's anti-water pollution fight, the city council heard last night.

City Engineer David A. Young said that reports issued to the news media by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board were incorrect and that Petaluma is not listed sixth on the "most unwanted" list, but actually trails at least 37 other polluters.

Young said the city staff carried out not only the letter of the law, but also the spirit and has sent more test samples than required and always sent the worst samples in the hope of receiving constructive criticism from state experts.

"We could legitimately submit only good reports," Young said, "but we've tried to be honest. It's actually just a statistical guessing game."

He said the control board needs a better method of interpreting reports and samples submitted by possible polluters to get an accurate picture of where problems actually exist.

Young said the city is not in danger of coming under a cease and desist order and that a full report with recommendations will be prepared by district engineers at his request.

The Petaluma City Council also:

DISCLOSURE — Received a letter from the planning commission stating opposition to the disclosure of assets law and approved a resolution showing council opposition and calling for immediate legislation to delay its enforcement.

SHOPPING CENTER — Approved the rezoning request of the Golden Eagle Milling Co. to change the industrial zoning to commercial on 6.5 acres on East Washington Street at the Petaluma River to permit construction of a shopping center.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized the purchase of an automatic chlorinator for use at the municipal swimming pool.

REZONING — Approved the request of Bundesen Realty to rezone 15 acres on Lakeville Highway at Casa Grande Road from agriculture to light industrial.

ABAG — Heard a presentation from Talbert W. Bean, mayor of Sonoma, on the advantages of membership in the Association of Bay Area Governments. The council said it would consider action on joining at a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Ali Akbar College Sets Music Courses

The spring session of the Ali Akbar College of Music opened this week at the Creative Music School, 1623 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael.

Both registration and classes are held at the Creative Music School. The Ali Akbar College offers instruction in classical Indian music. The staff is headed by sitar master, Indranil Bhattacharya.

Old Coleman School Abatement Discussed

A continuing crackdown by the City of San Rafael to abate old, nonstandard buildings may move next against the former Coleman School building at Grand Avenue and Linden Lane. (Another San Rafael City Council story, page 1.)

Chief Building Inspector Jack Coates, reporting to the city council last night on the abatement program, said he would like to discuss with City Atty. David Menary Jr. a move against the old building, which has been untenanted since the county library and public works department moved from it to the Civic Center seven years ago.

Councilmen agreed the building should be abated.

Coates reported that two garages extending over creeks had to be removed during recent heavy rains as they were about to fall into the creeks. He said there will be a public hearing March 2 on the cost involved.

One problem arising from the abatement program is the lack of inexpensive housing close to the downtown area for elderly people of small means, Coates noted.

"We need some public housing for old people who are living in buildings near the downtown area which really should be condemned," he said.

Councilmen were quick to point out that nobody has been ejected from his home by abatement proceedings. Coates agreed, but said abatement of substandard buildings is delayed by the fact that elderly renters have no place to move.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

TRUCK — Awarded contract for supplying a new one and one-half ton truck to DeLong Chevrolet Co. at $3487.58 including sales tax, subject to check of the specifications by the city manager. DeLong was the only bidder.

AWARD — Honored Pat Hetherton, who recently resigned from the planning commission. Mayor C. Paul Bettini presented Hetherton a framed certificate citing his 16 years of exceptional service on the commission.

DRIVER LICENSE — Passed a driver license ordinance to make city law conform to the state vehicle code.

ELECTRICAL PERMITS — Adopted a new schedule of electrical permit fees which Coates said brings city fees in line with those of the county. The new schedule has been adopted by Novato and it is hoped to make it uniform in all of Marin's cities, he said.

PROPERTY SALE — Delayed until April 1 closing of escrow on the portion of the city corporation yard property sold to Dexter Pontiac. City Atty. David Menary Jr. said Robert A. Roumiguiere, realty broker who arranged the sale, had refused an extension for payment of his $16,500 commission, so, Dexter had paid him that amount, to be credited toward the purchase.

COMMISSION APPLICANT — Received a letter from Willis K. Elliott asking appointment to the planning commission vacancy, but delayed action until Feb. 16 in hope of more applications.

CITY-COUNTY PLANNING — At suggestion of City Mgr. James H. McCown, scheduled for Feb. 16 discussion of joining the city-county planning council, of which all cities except San Rafael and Larkspur are members.

Moving swiftly, the council disposed of its entire agenda, including measures for the June 2 ballot, in one hour and five minutes.

Blasting Caps Stolen From Larkspur Quarry

A weekend burglar stole 198 blasting caps and a detonator from the Hutchinson Company rock quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Larkspur police reported today.

Police said someone broke into the company's explosives shed between Friday evening and 7:50 a.m. yesterday when an employee discovered the theft.

Taken were 139 electric explosive caps, 59 fuse caps, and a plunger-operated detonating box.

A radiator was also stolen from a nearby truck during the weekend, but police said it probably was taken by another thief since a door was taken from the truck several weeks ago.

Value of the caps and detonator was set at $250. The caps can only be exploded intentionally, police said, but could cause injury if exploded at close range.

Novato Mother Asks $250,000 In Fatal Crash

The mother of a 16-year-old Novato girl, who died last year five hours after a car crash in Novato, filed suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court asking $250,000 and charging that the youth who drove the car was under the influence of alcohol as well as being careless and negligent.

Shirley F. Wright said that her daughter, Cadice Louise, was a passenger in a car driven by Reginald Bruce Johnson, 21, of Novato. His car crashed into a fence on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, officers said.

Although Johnson was injured, two other young persons escaped serious injury in the crash.

Mrs. Wright also named 22 John Does in the suit as well as Johnson as being responsible for the death of her daughter.

Tax Talk 'Off The Record'? No, Thanks, Gov. Reagan!

The following telegram was received by the editor of the Independent-Journal yesterday:

"I would like to invite you or your representative to a private background session concerning California's budget and plans for a sweeping tax reform program at 10:30 a.m. until noon on Wednesday, Feb. 4. The meeting will be held at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, Comstock Room. State Controller Hugh Flournoy and Finance Director Verne Orr will attend to assist in answering your specific questions. We hope to inform you fully regarding the details of the budget and tax reform and I have asked that the meeting be off the record so that there may be a candid and frank discussion. Please call my press office by noon Tuesday, Feb. 3, with your acceptance or the name of the person who will represent you. Looking forward to seeing you. Sincerely,

Ronald Reagan
Governor of California."

THIS IS THE FIRST time we have heard of a governor of California proposing to talk to the press about the budget and taxes "off the record."

Governor Reagan's suggestion "that the meeting be off the record so that there may be a candid and frank discussion" appalls us.

If there is anything about which the people of California need a candid and frank explanation from their governor it is the tax picture.

The state government's hand is in every man's pocket. Certainly every man would like to know how much it is going to take out of his pocket—and why.

If Governor Reagan expects support on tax reform, he must be willing to talk candidly and frankly to the people of California who pay the taxes.

THE ROLE of the newspaper is to inform the people. When Reagan proposes that he discuss the budget and taxes "off the record" with newspaper representatives, he is in effect asking the press to be party to withholding of information from the people. He is, whether he realizes it or not, trying to subvert the purpose of the press.

The tremendous advantage of the American free press over the controlled press in dictator countries is that it can tell the people frankly and candidly what it finds out about their government. Sometimes the press has difficulty finding out — because elected officials and government bureaucrats know that if it does find out, it will tell the public.

Governor Reagan's "off the record" conference on the budget and taxes is an attempt to put the press in possession of facts it cannot then tell the people. He is attempting, whether he knows it or not, to substitute a controlled press for a free press.

OUR ANSWER to Governor Reagan's telegram is our usual answer to proposals that the press be admitted but the public barred from what is the public's business:

No, thanks! We will be pleased to have a representative present — but only with the understanding that he can report what he learns to our readers.

That's what we're here for.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Sees Inconsistency In Pollution Stand

You are really something else! In your lead editorial of Jan. 24 you say and I quote, "Environmental quality care begins at home. Each of us must first do his own part to maintain a clean nest." Yet your paper has repeatedly criticized the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for its farsighted ban on open and backyard burning.

Then you go on to knock politicians who have taken up the torch. Better watch it—you're way ahead of the politicos when it comes to talking out of both sides of your mouth!

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" are welcomed. Only letters with signatures and addresses will be considered. Please keep them under 200 words. We reserve the right to cut letters.

Pessimistic View Of Our Future

Besides banning burning, a lot of our trouble could be helped by the simple (?) expellent of rationing gasoline. It would not only help the pollution problem but also the traffic problem on the bridge.

However, this is not likely to happen soon, if ever. The big gas companies would fight it. People in recreation businesses, skiing, gambling interests in Nevada, restaurants, motels, anyone depending on the tourist trade would fight it. Average citizens, even those with children, would not cooperate. They only want to drive as far and as fast as they can while they still have the chance.

My guess is we will keep going on in our carefree, reckless, extravagant, stupid way until our whole civilization comes to a grinding abrupt halt — like the one-hoss shay — from too much pollution, too large a population, lack of sanitation, lack of oxygen, lack of sunlight, lack of food, lack of clean water and other resources.

I won't wonder that the younger generation has taken to drugs. They haven't much of a future, anyway.

Student Speaks Up For His School

This letter is in reference to the acusations toward the faculty and students of San Rafael High Scool.

I am a senior at San Rafael and feel obligated to tell the Board of Education, and the community what S.R.H.S. is really like, from a students point of view.

First I would like to ask, what other high scool has a principle that would take the time to talk to any of his 2,000 students personally?

Lee Archbold, journalism teacher, is one of the best, self-sacrificing teachers, in my opinion. The only reason he is under fire from high-er ups is because he "tells it like it is." Is honesty now wrong?

I have found that San Rafael's administration is one of the best. That statement is based on my findings after touring many schools through-out the state. Just because they treat students as mature young adults rather than prisoners is no reason to call them "overly permissive".

I, as student body and class officer have had many dealings with our administration and have found them to be down-to-earth — and willing to listen and help you out at any time, which is more than I can say for some of our "upstanding" civic officials.

To the community: Don't knock it unless you know wat its all about. As for Coach Brown — why not let the students help make decisions, after all its affecting their life. . .

Contrasting Reports From Soviet Union

A news article in the I-J of Jan. 24 headlines "Russia's Baptist Churches Thriving" and quoting Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Smith of the World Council of Churches. . . is in sharp contrast to an article appearing in the S.F. Jewish Bulletin of Jan. 23 which stated "'The status of the Jewish religion in the Soviet Union is tragic in the extreme."

Mr. Moshe Decter writes in the Jewish Bulletin that in all of Communist Russia there are only three functioning rabbis, two of them over 75, and no replacements in sight, and that the few existing synagogues are infested with informers.

Could it be that Dr. Smith took the guided tour and Mr. Decter relied on other sources of information? . . .

Radio Talk Show Called Unfair

The radio "talk" shows are a delusion and a snare and also a farce. In the early evening of Jan. 28 a discussion of the "chicano" situation was taking place on one of them. I phoned to express an opinion. The boy who answered the telephone asked me specifically what I wanted to talk about. I told him that I was tired of hearing some Mexicans, who emigrate to this country for a better life than the one they left at home, complain and gripe and demand that we print our voting ballots in Spanish and that we furnish their children with Spanish speaking teachers, etc. etc. I asked the boy rhetorically how far we would get if we went to Mexico and made such demands. My remarks seemed to infuriate him because he screamed hysterically, "They are American citizens" and slammed the phone up in my ear. Now it seems to me that if the topics of conversation on these talk shows have to meet with the approval of the telephone boy before being allowed on the air, the radio stations had better cancel these programs because they aren't getting an honest expression of public opinion as they claim. Viva El Vice-Presidente Agnew!

Environment Suffers As Talk Goes On

Daily we read of the importance of our environment, yet raw sewage is permitted on the streets of San Rafael and the hills of Ignacio are sliced by Marin Country Club Estates. Plagues and slides don't just happen. This is probably the richest and best educated county anywhere yet our representations seem to lack the courage to use the power given them by the voters to protect us.

Twice last week while traveling by bus to San Rafael, the bus I was riding on was struck by a fusillade of rocks — cracking and breaking windows — at Marin City at the overpass.

One of these days someone is going to be seriously injured. After spending thousands of dollars to eradicate the "discrimination" this condition still persists...

Commuters Want Transit System But Don't Want To Pay For It

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A fair number of Marinites squealed at the price hike for Golden Gate Bridge commute books. They don't object to the district buying them a transit system–they just don't want to pay for it.

We can just imagine their reaction when they encounter the inevitable westward move an imaginative proposal taking root in New York City. The idea is to at least double tolls into Manhattan to subsidize rapid transit.

San Francisco, like Manhattan, is something of an island, so the idea would work as well here. It hasn't been tried even in New York yet, but steadily escalating subway fares are sure to put steam behind such an idea.

The bridge district hasn't even mentioned doubling tolls, but it has pointed out that its own considerable reserves cannot afford the full cost of a transit system. So more money will be needed.

NEW YORK TIMES' columnist Tom Wicker, writing about the idea in New York, said it would "improve the quality of city life for everyone." Congestion would ease in streets and parking facilities, and the major source of air and noise pollution would be cut "with splendid consequences for everyone's lungs, eardrums and nerves"

Also, fewer police would be diverted from crime to traffic, and the persistent automobile commuter would at least face less traffic.

As a Marin commuter recently told the bridge board, there is no such thing as the divine right of the automobile.

WE HAVE discovered in the Saturday Review, incidentally, that early steam automobiles were partly done in by an epidemic of hoof-and-mouth disease in the early 1900s. It seems that the epidemic caused the removal of public water troughs, the very source of relief for many a steamer gasping for more water.

Now, if steamers make a comeback to meet the need for a smog-free engine, perhaps we also could bring back the troughs. Then we'll be all set again for horses, which, when well-behaved, create little pollution.

FEDERAL legislation to complete purchase of Point Reyes National Seashore is moving so slowly through Congress that it is hard to detect any progress. But Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, an author of the bill, reports "significant progress."

The bill has been sitting for months in the House Rules Committee, awaiting assignment to floor debate. Clausen, however, cited as progress a request to the rules committee by Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, that the rules committee set a date to consider when the bill could be heard on the floor.

Almost anything passes for progress in Congress.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

There's a wonderful, old-fashioned doctor up New Hampshire way who has an instinctive knowledge of how to break a piece of startling news as gently as possible. One evening, for instance, an agitated man stopped him as he was emerging from his hospital's delivery room and quavered, "End my suspense, Doctor. Is it a boy?" Calm as a cucumber, the doctor answered him, "Well, the one in the middle is."

Gordon Comay reports that he was wandering through the toy department of a big store one day during the holiday rush when a voice over the loudspeaker announced: "Mrs. Arthur Jones reports that her 7-year-old son, Spike, has been lost. Will Spike Jones please come immediately to the manager's office." A small boy inspecting an electric train display alongside Mr. Comay was visibly depressed by this announcement.

"Damn it," he grumbled, "I'm lost again!"

Humphrey On Comeback Trail, With No Help From Johnson

WASHINGTON—Hubert Horatio Humphrey is in orbit again. His schedule on campuses around the country, on forums and at policical rallies is a dizzying hour-by-hour progression.

In the weeks ahead he is speaking at fund-raising dinners in each of Minnesota's eight congressional districts. He has been lining up the support of organized labor, an important element in the Democratic-Farmer-Labor combine. In early May, to the surprise of practically nobody, he will formally announce his candidacy for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Humphrey believes he will be elected in November and return to the Senate where he began in 1949 to create a national reputation for himself.

AFTER THAT? The man who was vice president for four of the most troubling years in the life of the nation—not to mention in the life of Hubert Humphrey—is not saying. But, for a politician who came so close to the presidency that a shift of a little more than 150,000 votes, distributed geographically in the right places, would have given him victory, the virus is in all likelihood incurable.

Few men in recent political history have taken the buffetings that Humphrey has endured, beginning with that strange convention in Atlantic City in 1964 when Lyndon Johnson finally gave him his blessing. As vice president, after an initial attempt to halt the escalation of the war in Vietnam, he joined the team and became one of the most-loyal supporters of the President's Vietnam policy.

The climax for Humphrey came with the first of Johnson's television interviews with Walter Cronkite. His former chief, under whom he had endured so much, really cut him up. He said Humphrey had lost the election when in his Salt Lake City speech he promised to halt the bombings of North Vietnam if he were elected president. One of Humphrey's campaign aids said:

"I sat there listening to that interview and I got so mad that I began to talk back to the television screen, It was with that speech on Sept. 30 that we began to get over the Chicago holocaust and have a real chance to win."

PRESIDENT NIXON has carefully cultivated his predecessor, in office, giving a birthday party for him at the summer White House at San Clemente and naming a stand of surviving redwood trees for Mrs. Johnson.

For President Nixon, the careful cultivation of his predecessor in the office is both shrewd politics and astute policy. While Mr. Nixon has by implication criticized the Johnson administration for failing to equip and train the South Vietnamese army to take over the fighting, he has avoided any direct attack on the Johnson policy. Having accepted such a close relationship, assuming the posture of benign elder statesman, the former President can hardly disagree with the direction of Nixon policy no matter how it goes.

In the second interview, soon to be released, Johnson pays his respects to the media, notably the columnists and commentators who ventured to criticize him. But he can hardly fail to throw another harpoon or two into the vice president who served so restively in harness with a temperamental chief.

From the other end of the spectrum, an assemblage of new leftists meeting in New York marked down Humphrey in Minnesota and Adlai Stevenson III in Illinois as two candidates they mean to defeat. This, says Humphrey, should be a help. He talks today chiefly about political and electoral reform, as he did to 8,000 students and faculty at Kansas State University in the course of a crowded 24 hours. Each day is unbelievably crowded for this aspostle of nearly perpetual motion.

No Love For The West On Streets Of Baghdad

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Rashid is the name of Baghdad's chief shopping street, narrow, covered with the red dust of the nearby desert, its doorways filled with the loungers who make up Baghdad's bloodthirsty mobs. When a current ruler travels the street with his bodyguard and bullet-proof car, he is greeted with a rhythmic handclapping whose slow cadence eventually goes the whole length of Rashid until it seems to fill the air.

Those are in good times.

In bad times, the ruler cheered today may, as has happened more than once in the past, be torn apart by mobs and his remains dragged through the streets.

It is a frightening city that does not welcome foreigners, especially Americans.

THIS CORRESPONDENT arrived in Baghdad during one of the many bloodbaths that followed the 1958 overthrow of the Iraqi monarchy. At an army command post alongside the Tigris River, I asked what degree of safety there was, if any, for newsmen trying to cover the story.

The officer questioned shrugged his shoulders.

"If you are seized," he said, "it will be the will of the people. The army cannot help you."

MOB ACTION and the cold-blooded efficiency with which each succeeding regime eliminates its opponents via the route of show trials and public hangings are what have given Iraq the reputation of being the most savage among the Arab states, unable even to get along with its own allies against Israel.

In the show trials, guilt is assumed at the outset. The degree of punishment is all that remains to be decided.

Since the current regime took power on July 17, 1968, it has executed at least 98 persons for "political" offenses and arrested thousands.

THE RADICAL socialist Baathis regime blames the United States for most of its troubles—for fomenting troubles among the Kruds of the north, recruiting spies and enemies of the regime to plot its overthrow, and encouraging Israeli expansionism.

Accused of joining in these plots have been a former president, a former premier and many high ranking officers. The regime conducts a running feud with neighboring Iran and has an uneasy truce with the more moderate Baathist regime of Syria. UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser has at various times been highest on the Iraqi list of heroes and highest on the list of criminals.

Chief foreign beneficiaries of today's regime have been the Communist states.

Iraq was the first country outside the Communist bloc to give formal recognition to East Germany. The Russians are developing the rich North Rumelia oil fields under terms of a $120 million Soviet loan, the East Germans are providing $80 million to finance industrial projects, and Poland is to invest $100 million for development of sulphur deposits in north central Iraq.

First Student Adviser Proves Worth To Board Of Education

The younger generation is being heard in Petaluma on the subject that affects it the most—education.

Feeling it was important to involve students in school decisions and to keep them aware of problems, the Petaluma Board of Education invited students from the district's three high schools to attend meetings on a rotating basis.

JEANNIE GESCHKE, a Rancho Cotate High School senior, has been attending meetings since December. After her three-month term as an unofficial adviser ends, students from Petaluma High School and San Antonio High School will take their turns.

A serious young lady, Jeannie assumes the role of adviser with vigor. The student shows no hesitancy to ask questions or to give the students, point of view on anything.

Her questions and comments have added 30 minutes to the already tedious board meetings, but board members always receive her opinions with respect and rarely attempt to limit her discussion.

NOT THE LEAST bit reticent, the 17-year-old sat with the board during interviews with prospective architectural firms and studied closely the plans and drawings as part of the presentations.

Looking at them from a student's vantage point, Jeannie told the board she would discount one firm completely because of hall patterns shown in drawings, and showed how much trouble a student would have in trying to get from class to class within a reasonable time period.

While Jeannie was not permitted to vote, the firm she rejected was not selected by the board.

In discussing the new a la carte plan offered at high school cafeterias, the board heard Jeannie's opinions about the level of cafeteria cuisine and how the new plan permits young ladies who watch their figures to pass by the starches.

Small matters that the professionals on the board may never consider are brought to their attention.

As plans for the new junior-senior high school are developed, students will play a role in some of the decision making. Hoping to have working drawings by June, a committee of students will be organized to offer views in time to be included in the plans.

The days of children being seen and not heard are gone.

How Could Owning Few Slaves Pose Any Conflict Of Interest?

WASHINGTON — If for some reason the Senate doesn't confirm Judge Carswell for Justice Abe Fortas' Supreme Court seat, the Whte House ia already prepared to submit another name.

Waiting in the wings, in case the Senate balks on Carswell, is Judge Caleb Robert E. Lee, of the Fifth Circuit Juvenile and Bankruptcy Court of Juniper County, Ala. Judge Lee has already had a thorough security clearance check by Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, who told intimates, "This is one man they'll never be able to smear."

I WENT to visit Judge Lee in his chambers at the Juniper County Courthouse.

"Your honor, are you aware that you are in line for the Supreme Court seat, if for some reason the Senate sees fit not to seat Judge Carswell?"

"Ah heard something about it," Judge Lee told me. "Course Ah'd consider it a great honor even though Ah would hate to leave Juniper County."

"Sir, I do not want to get personal, but do you own any stocks or bonds, or have interests in companies that could be considered a conflict of interest?"

"No sirree!" said Judge Lee. "Ah have no investments of any kind. The only thing Ah own of any property value are slaves."

"Slaves?"

"Ah just own a dozen, and half of them are in my wife's name."

"BUT JUDGE LEE, don't you consider owning slaves a conflict of interest?"

"If anyone makes a fuss about it, Ah'm willing to sell the slaves or at least put them in trust for mah grandchildren."

"Sir, owning slaves is against the Constitution. How can you serve on the Supreme Court and be for slavery?"

"As far as the Constitution is concerned Ah'm a strict constructionist, except where it comes to slavery. Ah don't think a man has to be for everything in the Constitution just to sit on the Supreme Court."

"BUT DIDN'T the Justice Department ask you about your slaves when they interviewed you for the Supreme Court?"

"The question never came up, and Ah didn't think it was worth bringing up. Ah never hid the fact Ah owned slaves. You can look at mah record. Ah always eliminated myself from any case which involved slaves in Juniper County."

"Judge Lee, aren't you afraid slaves will make it difficult for the Senate to approve of your nomination?"

"Ah don't know. In left-wing liberal circles there might be some hollering, but Ah know the attorney general will stand behind me. After all, if they want a southern judge on the Supreme Court, they have to take him as he is.

"Ah don't know how owning a few darkies could affect the way Ah decide the constitutional issues. Besides, you have to have some balance on the court, and right now it's heavily weighted in favor of the antislavery forces."

"ONE MORE question, sir. Besides owning slaves, is there anything else the Justice Department security people overlooked when checking you out?"

"Can't think of anything. Ah once organized a lynching, but that was when Ah was a kid, and Ah don't think that should be held against me now. We all do stupid things when we're sowing our oats."

Traffic, Income Up On Richmond Bridge

Traffic on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge for the year ending last Oct. 31 rose by more than 340,000 vehicles over the previous 12-month period, and revenue increased by $196,000, according to a report from the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

Total toll traffic in 1969 was 5,985,993 compared with 5,644,517 in 1968. Total gross revenue in 1969 was $4,995,369, compared with $4,798,995 in 1968.

Ex-Convict's Gun Protest In Court

A preliminary hearing has been set for Friday in Marin Municipal Court for William Ralph Cannon Jr., 31, of 912 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, who has been charged with being an ex-convict in possession of a gun after he tried to test federal weapons laws.

Officers said that Cannon took a .38 caliber pistol to the U.S. attorney's office in the federal building in San Francisco Dec. 29. Instead of being charged with violating a federal law, he has been accused of having the gun under the state stature which prohibits persons who have been convicted of committing felonies from having such weapons. A spokesman for the district attorney's office said that Cannon purchased the gun in Novato Dec. 27.

Pope Enters Celibacy Fight

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI ordered the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the Netherlands today to revise its stand against the celibacy rule for priests.

He said it was indispensible for the Dutch bishops, priests and laymen to change "such a grave attitude contrary to the holy laws in effect in our Latin Church."

The Pope reaffirmed "what we have already declared and many times repeated" that priests must not marry.

The Pope called on the Dutch bishops to talk the situation over with him and the Vatican agencies "through a faithful and fraternal contact.

On Jan. 20, Holland's eight bishops called for churchwide discussion of priestly celibacy and said there should be room in the Church for both married and celibate priests. They also said there should be a way to restore priests who have married to their priestly role if they meet certain conditions.

The Dutch Pastoral Council, a body of clergy and laity, voted a few days earlier a recommendation to end the obligation of celibacy as a condition for ordination.

Since celibacy is a matter of the church's universal discipline, the consensus is that, even if the Dutch bishops made the council's recommendation their own, they cannot change the law even for Holland on their own responsibility.

In an unusual letter to the Vatican secretary of state, Jean Cardinal Viliot, Pope Paul said he had tried in every way to prevent Dutch bishops from taking their stand for a change in the celibacy rule.

"You know very well," the Pope wrote Cardinal Villot, "the always respectful and friendly action which we have taken both in personal conversations, in letter exchanges, and with the intervention of the agencies of the Holy See, to prevent these statements (by Dutch bishops)."

The Pope's letter was made public as controversy grew over his statement Sunday that celibacy was "a capital law" of the Church and could neither be abandoned nor discussed.

ORDINANCE AMENDING CHAPTER 5.28 OF THE MARIN COUNTY CODE BY AMENDING SECTIONS 5.28.010, 5.28.030, 5.28.050, 5.28.060, 5.28.070, 5.28.150, 5.28.170, 5.28.210, 5.28.240 5.28.250, 5.28.260, 5.28.280, 5.28.290, 5.28.360 AND ADDING SECTIONS 5.28.430, 5.28.440 and 5.28.450 RELATING TO COMMUNITY ANTENNA TELEVISION SYSTEMS WITHIN THE COUNTY OF MARIN

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I. Section 5.28.010 of the Marin County Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

5.28.010—Definitions. Unless otherwise indicated in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Board" means the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

(b) "CATV" means "Community Antenna Television System" which is defined as a system of antenna coaxial cables or other electrical conductors and equipment used, or to be used, primarily to receive television or radio signals directly or indirectly off-the-air and transmit them together with locally originated programs to subscribers within the unincorporated area of the County of Marin.

(c) "Gross annual receipts" means any and all compensation and other consideration in any form whatever and any contributing grant or subsidy received directly or indirectly by a licensee from subscribers or users in payment for televisuon or FM radio signals or service, excluding installation and line extension charges, received within the county.

Gross annual receipts shall not include any taxes on services furnished by the licensee imposed directly on any subscriber or user by any governmental unit and collected by the licensee for such governmental unit.

(d) "Service area" means the unincorporated area of this county in which a licensee is authorized, pursuant to this chapter, to construct, maintain and operate a CATV system.

SECTION II. Section 5.28.030 of the Marin County Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

5.28.030—License. Exclusive licenses to construct, operate and maintain CATV systems within all or any portion of the unincorporated area of the county may be granted by the Board to any person, firm or corporation which offers to furnish and provide such systems under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this chapter, provided, however, that the Board may grant non-exclusive franchises when in its judgment the condition of the area, public convenience and necessity warrants it.

SECTION III. Section 5.28.050 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.050—Subscriber rates and charges. The licensee may make a charge to subscribers for installation or connection to its CATV system and a fixed monthly charge not to exceed the amount set forth in the application for a license. No increase in rates and charges to subscribers, set forth in the schedule filed and approved with licensee's application, may be made without the prior approval of the Board.

No license shall be construed as a permit or license to transmit any special program or event for which a separate and distinct charge is made to the subscriber in the manner commonly known and referred to as "pay television," and no licensee shall directly or indirectly install, maintain or operate on any television set a coin box or any other device or means for collection of money for individual programs.

SECTION IV. Section 5.28.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

5.28.060 — Duration and revocation. No license granted by the Board shall be for a term longer than twenty years following the date of acceptance of such license by the licensee or the renewal thereof.

Any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the terms or conditions of this chapter including changes or additions thereto during the term of the license by a licensee, following thirty day's notice thereof by the county, shall be grounds for revocation, in addition to such other penalties and rights provided in this chapter; and the Board may, after a public hearing thereon, declare the license revoked, and may exclude the licensee from further use or acts thereunder. Thereupon the licensee shall be deemed to have immediately and automaticall surrendered all rights hereunder. Revocation shall not of itself operate to release the bond herein required. Subject to the provisions of Section 5.28.190 hereof the licensee shall remove his equipment from the streets within this county within sixty days after receipt of notice of the Board's declaration that his license has been revoked. Notice may be given and will be deemed received for the purpose of this section when deposited in the mail, addressed to licensee at the address contained in his application for a license.

SECTION V. Section 5.28.070 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.070—License payments. Any licensee granted a license under this chapter shall pay to the county, during the term of such license, a sum equal to two percent (2%) of the gross annual receipts of the licensee derived from the service area for which the license is issued. Such payment by the licensee to the county shall be made annually. In addition, county and all public schools within the county shall, upon request, receive CATV reception service from licensee in the amount of one primary outlet per school during the term of his license without charges.

SECTION VI. Section 5.28.150 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.150—Additional requirements. During the term of any license, the county may amend any section or part of this chapter so as to require additional or greater standards of construction, operation, maintenance or otherwise, on the part of the licensee, including the payment of a larger or greater percentage of the gross annual receipts of any licensee for the remaining terms of such license. If this chapter is amended to require additional or greater standards, the licensee within ninety days after the effective date of such amendment shall comply with the new standards.

Prior to adoption of such amendments, the Board shall conduct a public hearing thereon. Notice thereof shall be given to all licensees by registered mail directed to each licensee at the address specified on the license application and by publication in a newspaper of general circulation once not less than ten days prior to said hearing, provided, however, that unintentional failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any amendments adopted by the Board. The hearing may be continued from time to time and the Board may direct the Department of Communications to investigate and conduct collateral hearings on technical aspects of the proposed amendments, as it deems appropriate.

SECTION VII. Section 5.28.170 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.170—Permits, installation and service.

(a) Within thirty days after acceptance of any license the licensee shall proceed, with due diligence, to obtain all necessary permits and authorizations which are required in the conduct of its business, including, but not limited to, any utility joint use attachment agreements, microwave carrier licenses, zoning approval and any other permits, licenses and authorizations to be granted by duly constituted regulatory agencies having jurisdiction over the operation of CATV systems, or their associated microwave transmission facilities.

(b) Within ninety days after obtaining all necessary permits, licenses and authorizations, licensee shall commence construction and installation of the CATV system.

(c) Within ninety days after the commencement of construction and installation of the system, licensee shall proceed to render service to subscribers, and the completion of the construction and installation shall be pursued with reasonable diligence thereafter, so that service to all areas designated in the license, shall be provided within one year from commencement of construction.

(d) Failure on the part of the licensee to commence and meet each of the requirements set forth herein shall work an automatic forfeiture of the license previously granted. A forfeiture shall not of itself operate to release the bond herein required. Upon application by the licensee prior to said forfeiture, the Board shall hold a hearing and the Board may, in its discretion, extend the time for the commencement and completion of construction and installation.

SECTION VIII. Section 5.28.210 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.210—Failure to perform street work. Upon failure of the licensee to commence, pursue, or complete any work required by law or by the provisions of this chapter or by its license to be done in any street or other public place, within the time prescribed, and to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works, the Director of Public Works may, at his option, cause such work to be done and the licensee shall pay to the county the cost thereof in the itemized amounts reported by the Director of Public Works to the licensee within thirty days after receipt of such itemized report.

The licensee shall at its expense install and maintain adequate shielding, filtering and grounding at affected installations to eliminate within the CATV system television interference from fundamental frequency overload by radio amateur transmissions which are in compliance with Federal Communications Commission regulations.

SECTION VIX. Section 5.28.240 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.240—Inspection of property and records. (a) At all reasonable times, the licensee shall permit any duly authorized representative of the county to examine all property of the licensee, together with any appurtenant property of the licensee situated within or without the county and to examine and transcribe any and all maps and other records kept or maintained by the licensee or under its control which deal with the operations, affairs, transactions or property of the licensee with respect to its license. If any such maps or records are not kept in the county, or upon reasonable request made available in the county, and if the Board shall determine that an examination thereof is necessary or appropriate, then all travel and maintenance expense necessarily incurred in making such examination shall be paid by the licensee.

(b) The licensee shall prepare and furnish to the Director of Communications at the times and in the form prescribed by said officer such report with respects to its operations, affairs, transactions or property as may be reasonable, necessary or appropriate to the performance of any of the rights, functions or duties of the county or any of its officers in connection with the license.

(c) The licensee shall at all times make and keep in the county full and complete plans and records showing the exact location of all CATV system equipment installed or in use in streets and other public places in the county.

(d) The licensee shall file with the Director of Communications upon his demand the current map or set of maps drawn to scale, showing the location of all CATV system equipment installed and in place in licensee's service area and such other information as the Department of Communications may specify.

(e) When any portion of the CATV system is to be installed on public utility poles and facilities, certified copies of the agreements for such joint use of poles and facilities shall be filed with the Director of Communications.

SECTION X. Section 5.28.250 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.250—Operational standards. The CATV system shall be installed and maintained in accordance with the highest and best accepted standards of the industry to the effect that subscribers shall receive the highest possible level of service. In determining the satisfactory extent of such standards the following among others shall be considered:

(a) The system should be installed using all band equipment capable of passing the entire VHF and FM spectrum, and it must have the capability of converting UHF for distribution to subscribers on the VHF band.

(b) The system must produce a picture in black and white, or in color, that is undistorted, free from ghost images and accompanied with proper sound on typical standard production TV sets in good repair, as good as the state of the art allows. Facilities used by grantee shall be capable of distributing color TV signals and when the signals are received by the grantee in color they shall be distributed in color. Said system shall transmit signals of adequate strength to produce good pictures with good sound at all outlets without causing crossmodulation in the cables or interfering with other electrical or electronic systems.

(c) The system and all equipment must be designed and rated for twenty-four hour per day continuous operation.

(d) The system must provide a nominal signal level of two thousand microvolts, measured across three hundred ohms, at the input terminals of each TV receiver.

(e) The system signal-to-noise ratio must be not less than forty decibels.

(f) Hum modulation of the picture signal shall be less than five percent.

(g) That the system shall employ components having a VSWR of 1.4 or less.

(h) The system shall provide, on a continuous equal basis, all available TV and FM radio channels to the extent allowed by applicable law and regulations.

(i) The system must be maintained so as to limit failures to a minimum by locating and correcting malfunctions properly but in no event longer than 24 hours after notice, except in cases of war, natural disaster or other calamity. Licensee must have equipment capable of demonstrating to subscribers that a signal of adequate strength and quality is being delivered.

(j) There shall be no editing of programs as received by the licensee.

(k) In the case of any emergency or disaster, the grantee shall upon request of the Board of Supervisors make available its facilities to the county for emergency use during the emergency or disaster period.

SECTION XI. Section 5.28.260 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.260—Complaints. The licensee shall be required to reimburse county for costs incurred by county in investigating subscriber or potential-subscriber complaints when it is established to the satisfaction of the County Director of Communications that the licensee has not investigated the complaint and made a reasonable effort to resolve it within three working days from receipt, or that the licensee has failed or refused to bring the system as it applies to the particular subscriber up to operational standards, as set forth in Section 5.28.250 hereof. Said reimbursement shall be at the rate of $25 per man hour or any part thereof, incurred in investigating the subscriber complaint. Reimbursement shall be made to the Communications Department of the County of Marin and shall be deposited in the general fund of the county. Failure to make reimbursement within 60 days of the date of billing shall constitute grounds for recovery of the total amount due from the performance bond specified in Section 5.28.220 hereof and shall be grounds for revocation of the license.

SECTION XII. Section 5.28.280 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.280—Service to subscriber. No person, firm or corporation in the existing service area of the grantee shall be arbitrarily refused service; provided, however, that the licensee shall not be required to provide service to any subscriber who does not pay the applicable connection fee or monthly service charge, except as indicated above.

The franchisee shall render service to all persons who desire such service without rate differential regardless of distance from the facility or other cause unless such differential rate is approved by the Board at the time of the application for franchise or at a subsequent date.

Upon termination of service to any subscriber, the licensee shall within three working days remove all its exposed exterior facilities and equipment from the premises of said subscriber upon his request.

SECTION XIII. Section 5.28.290 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.290 —Subscriber contract. Before providing antenna service to any subscriber, the licensee shall obtain a signed contract from the subscriber containing a provision substantially as follows:

Subscriber understands that in providing antenna service (licensee) is making use of public rights-of-way within the county and that the continued use of these public rights-of-way is in no way guaranteed. In the event the continued use of such rights-of-way is denied to (licensee) for any reason, (licensee) will make every reasonable effort to provide service over alternate routes. Subscriber agrees he will make no claim nor undertake any action against the county, its officers or its employees, if the service to be provided by (licensee) hereunder is interrupted or discontinued.

The form of the licensee's contract with its subscribers shall accompany the application for license and shall not be thereafter amended without consent of the Board.

SECTION XIV. Section 5.28.360 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.360—Acceptance of license. Application for license shall be deemed an acceptance of said license if granted by the Board. After grant of said license, licensee shall file with the County Clerk his agreement to be bound by and to comply with and to do all things required of him by the provisions of this chapter and the license, together with bonds and insurance policies as herein required.

SECTION XV. Section 5.28.430 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

5.28.430 — Communications. Copies of all petitions, applications and communications submitted by licensee to the Federal Communications Commission in respect to any matters affecting CATV operations authorized pursuant to this chapter shall also be submitted simultaneously to the County Counsel of Marin County.

SECTION XVI. Section 5.28.440 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

5.28.440 — Refund of installation fee. If service to the subscriber is terminated without good cause within six months of the date of first rendered service to such subscriber, or because the licensee ceases to operate in the CATV business authorized herein for any reason except expiration of his franchise, the licensee shall refund to such subscriber an amount equal to the initial installation and connection charge paid by him.

SECTION XVII. Section 5.28.450 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

SECTION XVIII. Effective date. This ordinance shall be and is hereby declared to be in full force and effect as of thirty days from and after the date of its passage and shall be published once before the expiration of fifteen days after its passage, with the names of the supervisors voting for and against the same in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Marin.

Vets' Housing Pinch Reflected In Budget

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget calls for spending less money on returning Vietnam war and other veterans because inflation has crippled the state's ability to finance loans.

The governor warned that the bond market is so tight that the state Department of Veterans Affairs will make only 1,500 loans to veterans during the current fiscal year. That compares with 7,137 last year.

Contributing to the squeeze, Reagan said, is the likelihood that "there will be an escalation of veterans returning to civilian life in view of proposed troop reductions in Vietnam."

Reagan, in his spending plan for the fiscal period starting July 1, calls for a $50.6 million budget for the department. This is the agency which administers the low cost Cal-Vet farm and home loan program.

Reagan's proposed veterans' budget represents a reduction of $2.7 million from estimated spending by the department this year.

Because of the state's inability to sell bonds in the inflated market, the department is unable to issue any of its $200 millions in authorized bonds which could finance the loans.

The state is banking that voters in June will approve a constitutional amendment increasing the maximum interest rate on state general obligation bonds from 5 to 7 per cent. State officials hope the increased rate would enable sale of the bonds —thus allowing them to make home loans to veterans.

In his budget message to the legislature, Reagan said the "minimal" 1,500 loans which can be financed during the remainder of the current fiscal year will be financed by $12 million in repayments on existing loans and $13 million loaned from the general fund.

The governor acknowledged that while the available cash "falls short of the demand" the money "will help to alleviate some of the hardship cases."

The department has continued to accept loan applications and has completed loan processing but has urged applicants to secure interim financing elsewhere until state funds become available.

On this basis, Reagan noted, "it is estimated that the entire $200 million in unsold bonds will be fully committed by mid-1970."

Lack Of Cable TV Upsets Residents In Lagunitas

Lagunitas residents are up in arms over lack of cable television service and natural gas service in their area.

About 70 residents of Lagunitas, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cohen of Spring Avenue, asked for action in a bitter letter to Supervisor Louis H. Baar.

"Once again we have heard clamor for cable TV service in the Lagunitas area, and again, some more indefinite projections about spring or summer," the residents wrote. "Doubly infuriating is now advertisements by cable TV for free hookups in the existing area; meaning, of course, as far as Forest Knolls."

They asked Supervisor Baar to press for a firm date on when cable television will be available in Lagunitas. They said they are ignored in other areas too.

"Just what does it take to enlighten the PG&E for example, to bring gas to the area?

"Do your damnedest, for a community that gets no response soon defaults by diffidence or extremity."

On Dec. 30, the Marin County Board of Supervisors warned both cable television companies which provide service in San Geronimo Valley to produce or get out. On a motion by Baar, the supervisors asked Clearview Systems to expand service to the entire valley and instructed Cable Television of Marin to quality of service on a par with Clearview. Otherwise, franchises will be revoked, the supervisors warned.

1,151 Take Ferry Sunday

A record 1,151 passengers rode the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry on Sunday, a warm and dry day.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, operator of the ferry, said the district switchboard was "swamped all day Saturday and Sunday" with calls from persons wanting information on the ferry schedule.

He noted that the heavy patronage was "with virtually no advertising."

The district has been operating weekday commuter service since Nov. 10, and began Sunday service last month.

Budget Rises Sevenfold In Two Decades

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposed $6.48 billion budget is almost seven times as big as the one Gov. Earl Warren governed the state with 20 years ago.

It's more than 2 1-2 times as large as Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget a decade ago.

Here's how California State budgets have grown:

1950-51—$973 million
1960-61—$2.47 billion
1965-66—$4.17 billion d
1966-67—$4.58 billion
1967-68—$5.07 billion
1968-69—$5.69 billion
1969-70—$6.24 billion
1970-71—$6.48 billion.

All budgets except for 1970-71 are as signed by the governor.

Transit Plans To Be Explained

Golden Gate Bridge District directors will explain their transit plans, and the need for the recent commuter toll hike to finance transit, in a meeting of their transportation committee at 8 p.m. on Thursday in the Marin County Civic Center.

Also scheduled Thursday are meetings of the district's insurance committee at 10 a.m. and the legislation-public relations committee at 2 p.m., both in toll plaza offices.

The insurance committee will consider a proposal to market all major bridges as one package for insurance coverage, which they individually have difficulting securing.

The afternoon meeting will be to consider the district's 1970 legislative program, and to set a policy governing the appearance of directors before the Legislature.

Church Wins Nod For School Plan

A private day school for up to 30 children will be allowed at the First Congregational Church in Los Ranchitos.

County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday granted a use permit for the school on church property at 8 North San Pedro Road. Rev. Francis Geddes, who asked for the permit, said pupils will range from kindergarteners to eighth graders.

The zoning administrator also denied Ben Langdon's request for a temporary mobile home at Walnut and Larch roads, Bolinas. Langdon wanted the mobile home for storage, tack room and shelter purposes during construction of a single family home on the site.

The judge made his finding that Stiltner is an addict after reading reports of two doctors who said that Stiltner has a long history of heavy use of drugs including LSD, methedrine and heroin.

He had a history of drug and drug-related arrests in Marin and was currently on probation.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Venereal Disease Now Curable Easily, But Seldom Reported

VAN DELLEN

Venereal disease such as syphilis and gonorrhea can be cured. Both respond to penicillin within a week.

Prior to 1946, cure of syphilis involved injections for three years.

But, the ease of treatment has created certain problems. Many physicians do not notify public health authorities, even though reporting of venereal disease is generally required thruout the country.

IT IS ESTIMATED that only one of nine cases of gonorrhea and one of eight cases of syphilis are reported. The physician wants to be loyal to his patient but is not doing the community a favor. Our public health officials want to know who has the disease so they can treat the source and other possible contacts.

Many physicians treat any person with a suspicious lesion in the pelvic area or mouth without confirming the diagnosis. They reason that if the suspicious lesion is, in fact, syphilis, an adequate dose of penicillin quickly renders the individual nonnfectious and shortly thereafter brings about a cure.

A QUESTIONNAIRE sent to more than 206,000 medicos showed that during the fiscal year of 1967, almost one and a half million Americans developed gonorrhea and 75,000 syphilis. This represented an increase of 35.3 per cent of the former and a decline of 29.3 per cent of the latter.

Gonorrhea usually develops within 3 to 8 days of sexual contact with an infected person. Men develop a whitish discharge and burning on urination. Women also develop a discharge but it may be so slight that it is missed. Unless treated, the disease may lead to sterility, chronic arthritic heart disease, blindness, and even death.

THE FIRST SIGN of syphilis is a painless chancre (sore) that develops 10 to 90 days after exposure. The sore may be concealed in women. Furthermore, it disappears spontaneously but the disease smolders for months until the second stage erupts. Meanwhile, the infected person can pass along the disease.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ANEMIC BABIES

I. F. writes: Do anemic infants need iron?

REPLY

Yes, if they have an iron deficiency anemia. Most infants come into the world with enough iron to last for several months. On the other hand, iron may be lacking if the mother is anemic and cannot supply the proper quota to the child. There is practically no iron in milk, hence anemic infants must be given iron products and foods containing this mineral as soon as possible.

VEIN CLOTS

I. R. writes: What causes a vein clot?

REPLY

Injury to or inflammation of the wall of the vein is the most common cause. The blood may also clot when the flow is sluggish. Our leaflet on phlebitis covers this subject. It may be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

RESEMBLES TYPHOID

P. F. writes: What is paratyphoid fever?

REPLY

It is an intestinal infection that causes chills, fever, headache, and diarrhea. Although similar to typhoid, it is milder and of shorter duration. The only way the two can be distinguished is through blood tests.

BLADDER TEST

A reader writes: Can a cystoscopic examination be given while a person is under a general anesthetic?

REPLY

Yes, and many are.

WARM HANDS AND FEET

Mrs. B. writes: My hands and feet burn and itch at the same time. Could this be due to a fungus?

REPLY

When the hands and feet burn, a circulatory disorder usually is responsible. Victims of erythromelalgia have this complaint especially when the extremities are covered with blankets or put in hot water. In some instances, the manifestation is caused by an over-active nervous system. Why not bring this to the attention of your physician?

TONGUE-TIED

Mrs. D. D. writes: Our doctor wants to clip our infant's tongue-tie but the baby book says this should not be done. What is your opinion?

REPLY

Surgery is not required if the tongue can be extended to the lips. In rare instances the frenum is so short and fibrous it must be clipped to allow the child to suck and, later, to talk.

HERNIA AND SURGERY

H. R. T. writes: When is surgery advised for hiatal hernia?

REPLY

When symptoms are severe and cannot be relieved via antacids and diet. In this condition, a hernia in the diaphragm allows the upper part of the stomach to protrude upward into the chest. It is a definite problem when the acid in the stomach irritates the lower part of the esophagus.

GALLSTONES AT 16

W. K. writes: I have a 16-year-old daughter who has gallstones. Other than surgery, is there any treatment to free her of these rocks?

REPLY

No, surgery is the only way to eliminate calculi, despite the quacks who claim that stones can be dissolved.

Today's Health Hint— Aspirin may relieve the symptoms of flu.

Columbia Names New President

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wiliam L. McGill, 47-year-old chancellor of the University of California at San Diego (UCSD), will become the 16th president of 216-year-old Columbia University sometime this summer. Columbia trustee chairman William E. Petersen announced Monday that McGill had been chosen unanimously by the trustees with the cooperation of student and faculty groups.

No specific date was set for the installation of McGill, except that it must take place before Sept. 1. Andrew Cordier, the 68-year-old president McGill succeeds, took the job last August with the understanding that he would serve only one year.

Smog Policy Slated For Publicity Review

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO — Release of information about industrial air pollution will be considered again by Bay Area Air Pollution Control District directors at 9 a.m. tomorrow in district offices at 939 Ellis Street.

The district has been under fire from citizens groups for its policy of suppressing details about such pollution, and has been considering since October a proposal to drop the policy.

Calley Accepts Defense Check

Smiling and cheerful, Lt. William Calley made a rare personal appearance Monday night to accept a check for $1,000 from the Charles S. Harrison American Legion Post 35 to be used in behalf of his defense.

Calley, charged with the murders of 102 South Vietnamese civilians in the alleged My Lai massacre, wore a dark blue suit rather than his military uniform.

Post judge advocate Vince McCauley, who initiated the movement to raise funds for Calley, said contributions for the lieutenant had been received from 47 continental states and Alaska. He said the check presented Monday night was only the beginning and the drive will continue.

Trustees' Agenda

The San Anselmo School District board will hear reports on ventilation work at Isabel Cook School, the district's organizational pattern, and the work of the budget format committee when it holds an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at Yolansdale School, 35 Elm Street.

TV REVIEW

Johnny Cash Is Big Winner

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The return of country-folk singer Johnny Cash in a weekly ABC-TV series seems to have been an excellent decision all-around by the network.

Cash, a larger-than-life fellow who has been likened to John Wayne—and seems certain to have a movie career too—was a critical success with a summer series on ABC-TV last year, but his ratings weren't too hot.

The network nevertheless brought him back as a midseason replacement several weeks ago. And the national ratings for the week ending Jan. 25 indicate that his fine debut—with Arlo Guthrie, Bobbie Gentry and Jose Feliciano—finished a very strong 16th among all shows.

BEAT BENNY

Among other things, he beat out a star-studded Friars Club tribute to Jack Benny on NBC-Tv's "Kraft Music Hall," his head-on competition. The tribute to Benny, which included an appearance by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, came in a strong 21st, so it was an added coup for Cash to win under the circumstances.

Detractors might claim that Cash had the novelty attraction of his debut going for him. But actually he had been exposed and his debut was more in the nature of a return. And, as for novelty attraction, Agnew's appearance on the Benny "roast" probably ranks higher because the Vice President turned up on such an entertainment entry after being involved in a continuing controversy with television.

More remarkable information, meanwhile, continues to come in on the top-rated show for the week ending Jan. 25, NBC-Tv's "World Premiere" movie entitled "My Sweet Charlie," which dealt with the friendship of a pregnant southern white girl and a young Negro lawyer—thrown together while on the run.

HIGHEST YET

In addition to ranking No. 1 in the national ratings as well as the 70-city survey, the made-for-television movie, according to NBC-TV, was the highest-rated "World Premiere" ever, and the most statistically successful motion picture on video this season and last. As preciously suggested here, its quality may also be significant in opening creative doors for television movies.

Few specials will do honor to the home screen the way last weekend's syndicated version of "The Front Page" did—a very funny production, though hardly perfect—but one annual special visit from another American tradition succeeded mightily again in the ratings. That is the CBS-TV hour featuring the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team on tour. It ranked fourth among all the shows in competition, right behind "Laugh-In."

Ends Florida Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon returned to the White House late Monday night after a three-day trip to Florida to be with her daughter, Tricia, who is ill with the measles.

The first lady made the trip by military jet plane.

Dog Kills Goose

A large white dog, resembling a St. Bernard, attacked 10 geese, killing one, Sunday at 10 a.m. in the yard of Norman Dell'Ere, 17 Perry Walk, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

A Page In History: Thomson Returns To Brooklyn

By MIKE RECHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Thomson returned to Brooklyn Monday — and lived to tell about it.

"I remember some years ago I came here to speak—at a communion, I think—and when I told the guy at the door who I was he slammed the door in my face," recaleld Thomson, one of the biggest villains in Brooklyn history.

"I guess they must have hated me at one time, but they've mellowed now."

They better have mellowed because Thomson once again showed his face in Brooklyn Monday, the invited guest speaker at a Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce luncheon. In the audience were the very men who, as rabid young Dodger fans, cursed him 19 years ago.

It was in 1951 that Thomson of the hated crosstown New York Giants, cut deeply into every Dodger rooter with his dramatic three-run home run heard round the world.

It was the last of the ninth with two men on base and one out and Brooklyn ahead 4-2 in the decisive playoff game when Thomson delivered against Ralph Branca, snatching the National League pennant away from the Dogers and giving it to the Giants.

From that moment until the years softened the blow, Thomson was as popular at Flatbush as the Bubonic plague. He would have had to disguise himself to walk through the streets of Brooklyn unharmed.

But Monday, he rode through the city on the subway, and no one cursed him or badgered him. In fact, no one even recognized him. He is just a 46-year-old graying sales representative for beer and paper companies.

And when he was introduced to those old Dodger fans, they greeted him warmly and laughed with him about the past, hissing him only good naturedly. He even won a set of glasses in the raffle. And they gave him a passport to return any time.

"After 1951, I was self conscious every time I came to Brooklyn," said the tall, still trim Scotsman who retired from baseball in 1960. "But it's different coming here now to speak. It's been fun, talking to businessmen who still remember, instead of youngsters who never heard of Bobby Thomson.

"My 16-year-old daughter just heard her old man was a ballplayer and she came home and asked me if it were true.

"I'm just an old ballplayer who hit one home run," he told the crowd with the same modesty that marked him during the Giant-Dodger heydays. "Honestly, it was the only thing I did in my lifetime, but I don't play that record for my kids before they go to bed each night. Today is today. Ebbetts Field and the Polo Grounds are gone. The Giants are gone. The Dodgers are dead."

The grudges were gone now too. The room was silent for Thomson had struck a nerve that now bound together even these once fierce rivals—the glorious past and its never-to-be-forgotten battles.

Then he thanked them for inviting him, for being so nice, but he had one question for them:

"Why isn't Branca here? Are you still angry at him?

OFF AND RUNNING — Horses are out on the track at Santa Anita, working out for the opening today. The Arcadia track, along with Bay Meadows, resumed racing today after the ending of a strike. The track was dark for 27 days of racing at a cost of $12 million in lost wges, purses and taxes.

A Busman's Holiday For Redwood Boys

Redwood High School's basketball team observed its big victory over San Rafael last Friday with a busman's celebration on Saturday.

Coach Dick Hart treated his mighty Giants to Palo Alto Saturday afternoon and Berkeley Saturday evening to watch the Stanford-UCLA and Cal-USC basketball games, respectively.

"I figure if the boys can watch some of the best collegiate teams in action, some of it might rub off on them," said Hart, whose Giants need little rubbing, what with an 18-3 won-lost record and 10 straight triumphs.

To sustain the giant appetites during the long day, the Redwood Benchwarmers Club shelled out 100 clams to treat the gang to a fish feed at Spenger's Restaurant in Berkeley.

Incidentally, I understand some Redwood kids were miffed Saturday because the losing San Rafael team had a five-column picture in the I-J as opposed to a two-column pix of Redwood.

One sadly mistaken student went so far as to say, "Gee, the I-J sports section never gives Redwood any good writeups," which is hysterical.

They Get Equal Time

However, the kids who felt short-changed by the pictorial coverage Saturday might brighten up by turning the page where we have given Redwood equal time with a five-col. spread of some of the Larkspur school's long-hairs.

THERE ARE at least 20 Marin Countians signed up for the San Francisco Giants Boosters Club's trip to Japan next month to follow the National League team in its exhibition games.

According to GTS Travel of San Rafael, which is arranging the trip, the Marinites are:

San Rafael — Mrs. Frances Zander, Mrs. Carita McCloskey, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartman Jr., Gertrude Venitz, Mrs. Ethel Schwab, Al Tognoli, Gordon Jones, Dick Templeton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lalor.

Greenbrae — John Davidson; San Anselmo — Hector Giuntini; Tiburon — Mrs. Rae Zgraggen and Mrs. Christine Cannon; Kentfield—Mrs. Rowene Kerlin; Fairfax — Mrs. Letha Jenkins; Sausalito — Mrs. Caroline Elliott; Larkspur — Mrs. Daisy Briscoe; Ross — Allan B. Murray, Boosters president.

And, of course, Russ Hodges of Mill Valley will be with the Giants to broadcast their games.

Marin Tar On Second Team

CALIFORNIA JUNIOR COLLEGE Football Coaches' Association last week finally came out with its 1969 All-State squad, with College of Marin guard Charlie Keppel gaining second team honors.

AND TO PROVE that old football seasons never die, they don't even fade away:

More than 1,300 pigskin mentors are expected to attend the 1970 Kodak Coach of the Year Clinic at San Francisco's Sheraton-Palace Hotel this weekend, according to Bob Troppmann of Larkspur, clinic manager.

Tropp says the special guest coaches will include Charles McClendon of Louisiana State, Dan Devine of Missouri, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, Bob Devaney of Nebraska and Jake Gaither of Florida A & M.

Moderators will be Pappy Waldorf of the 49ers, John Ralston of Stanford, Ray Willsey of Cal, Vic Rowen of S. F. State and Pat Malley of Santa Clara.

Meadows Racing Resumes

SAN MATEO (UPI)—A full field was on tap today as an abbreviated 18-day harness racing meeting began at Bay Meadows, which was closed more than a month by striking pari-mutuel clerks.

The first race was to begin at 1 p.m., which will be post time for the remainder of the meeting. On Fridays, however, the starting time will be 7:45 p.m. The meeting closes Feb. 23.

The strike, which lasted 27 racing days beginning Dec. 26, caused several stables to desert Bay Meadows in favor of East Coast meetings.

Entries for the harness meet were taken with less than 300 horses available, but the void was filled by more than 100 additional horses on Monday.

Today's featured race is the $2000 Inaugural Pace, pitting eight sidewheelers in a mile run. Daily doubles will be sold on the first and second races.

CHRISTIANSEN, TOO

'Hurrying Hugh' In Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — "This is it. There are no more touchdowns to be made."

Hurrying Hugh McElhenny spoke for himself, Tom Fears, Pete Pihos and Jack Christiansen, contemporary standouts in pro football's booming '50s, after the announcement Monday of their selection to the Professional Football Hall of Fame.

McElhenny, a breakaway ball-carrier for 13 pro seasons with San Francisco, Minnesota, New York and Detroit; Fears and Phios, premier pass receivers for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles, respectively, and Christianson, a gifted defensive back for the Lions, reacted alike—with pride and humility—to the coveted honor.

"THRILLED"

"I'm thrilled to death," said Fears, coach of the New Orleans Saints. "It's a great honor and I think its the epitome of professional football. I'm really flabbergasted to be put up there with some of the immortals of pro football."

"It was such a shock, but it made me feel wonderful," said Pihos, a Richmond, Va., business executive who played offense and defense for the Eagles through a good part of his eight-year career which began in 1947. "Hey, that's some kind of group—Christianson, Fears and McElhenney were three really great football players."

'ULTIMATE'

"This is the ultimate for a pro football player," added McElhenny, who lives in Los Altos, Calif., and works as a radio broadcaster at San Francisco games. "It goes to prove to me that football was awful good to me. This honor bestowed on me relates to all the fine ball players I played with from high school on up to the pros."

"I think everybody that plays would like to think he has an opportunity to get into the Hall of Fame," said Christianson, who was the 49ers' head coach for five years and is now on the Stanford University coaching staff. "I'm proud and honored that people thought enough of me to nominate me and I'm grateful to the sports writers who voted for me."

63 IN HALL

The four former stars were selected by a board of writers from the pro football cities at a meeting in New Orleans Jan. 12. Their formal induction into the Hall of Fame at Canton Aug. 8, before the Saints and Minnesota Vikings collide in an exhibition game, will swell the total membership to 63.

McElhenny came to the 49ers in 1952 out of the University of Washington. Christiansen played his college ball at Colorado State University, Pihos at the University of Indiana and Fears at Santa Clara and UCLA.

It's Signing Time In Major Leagues

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

It's the signing season again in major league baseball.

The first Monday in February —traditionally a slow news day before the start of spring training and after the end of the football season —is traditionally a busy day for making signing announcements and this year was no exception.

Among the key players who inked their pacts for photographers were Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who's the highest paid Pirate ever eat $100,000, and Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees, who received the second highest Yankee salary for a pitcher in history —$70,000.

The Yankees also announced the signing of Pete Ward, Ron Woods and Bill Olsene, the club's top draft choice in the 1968 free agent draft.

The Minnesota Twins announced that Jim Perry signed for a good raise from his $30,000 of last year after winning 20 games in 1969. Darrell Brandon and rookie Rick Dempsey also signed and the Twins now have 24 of their 40 players in the fold.

CUBS SIGN 11

The Chicago Cubs, still trying to figure out what happened last September, signed 11 players to bring their total to 34 as they prepare for the new season.

None of the Cubs signed were regulars although Jim Hickman saw a lot of action.

The Baltimore Orioles, who are still trying to figure what happened last October, signed reliever Dick Hall, catcher Clay Dalrymple and outfielder Roger Freed. The Orioles have now signed 15 players.

Of course, it will soon be the holdout season although it's a bit early for formal holdouts. The winners usually expect some problems in signing players and it's no different this year.

WINNERS

The New York Mets, who caused all the consternation that the Cubs and Orioles suffered last fall, are now finding out what it's like to be winners. The Mets have signed 18 players on their 40-man roster and gave almost 100 per cent raises to players like Cleon Jones, Jerry Koosman and Tommie Agee.

But they also offered just $4,000 raises to Ron Swoboda and Ed Kranepool and those two aren't too happy about it. Swoboda, who had a lifetime average of .245 going into last year and "slumped" to .235, and Kranepool, who took a lifetime average of .248 into last year and also "slumped" to .238, both want more money.

Both players were symbols of the Mets when they were the jokes of the league and they feel their contribution to the Mets surge was worth more than $4,000. They both made around $25,000 last year.

Pistol Pete Passes 3,000; Tom Seaver's $10,000 Belt

COMBINED AP & UP

BATON ROUGE, La.—Pete Maravich soared past the 3,000-point mark here last night with a 49-point splurge which led Louisiana State to a 109-91 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Mississippi State.

A free throw with 7:17 left in the first half gave Maravich his 3,000th career point. Last Saturday he became college basketball's all-time leading scorer as he shattered Oscar Robertson's total for 88 games.

Pete's total last night gave him 3,036 points. He has 12 games left. He hit on 21 of 40 from the floor and sank seven of nine free throws. He also had nine assists.

Baseball

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—The achievement of pitcher Tom Seaver and his New York Mets teammates was the miracle of the 1960s, says Astronaut Richard Gordon, a member of the first man-on-the-moon crew.

Gordon was speaking at a dinner which honored Seaver as the winner of the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award for 1969. In winning the $10,000 diamond-studded, gold-buckled belt, Seaver received the most votes in the 20-year history of the award. The Cy Young Award winner outdistanced runnerup Willis Read of the New York Knicks, 406-92, in votes.

NEW YORK—Arguments on $90,000 outfielder Curt Flood's suit challenging baseball's reserve clause were scheduled to open today in Federal Court here.

Flood traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to Philadelphia last October contends the reserve clause puts him in a "state of involuntary servitude."

OAKLAND—The Oakland Athletics announced yesterday that they have signed catcher Larry Haney and pitcher Milciades Olivo to 1970 contracts.

Football

NEW YORK—Johnny Unitas the precision passer who has gained 20 miles in the air since starting his career as a $6-a-game quarterback, was named Pro Football Athlete of the Decade today in a special poll taken by the Associated Press.

The Baltimore Colts' quarterback easily outdistanced three other stars who have played significant roles in the sport's impact on the American scene in the 1960s—Bart Starr, Jimmy Brown and Joe Namath.

MILWAUKEE—Henry Jordan a four-time All-Pro as a defensive tackle for the Green Bay Packers, announced his retirement. Jordan announced he is becoming executive sales director of Summerfest, Milwaukee's annual festival.

Boxing

WASHINGTON—In spite of congressional rebuff, Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier were able to get together before their heavyweight championship fight Feb. 16—but all the sparring was verbal.

Ellis, partial owner of the title, challenged Frazier, who also owns a piece of the crown, to make their championship fight in Madison Square Garden a "winner take all" bout but Frazier declined.

Rep Martin B. McKnelly, R-N.Y., had invited the limited heavyweight champions to box with him and two other congressmen in a House office building cafeteria but the idea was kayoed by the House restaurant committee in early afternoon.

Skiing

ABETONE, Italy—France's other half of that famous slalom sister act is keeping success in the family. Britt Lafforgues won the ladies' giant slalom Sunday and yesterday Ingrid Lafforgues raced off with the ladies' special slalom of the Famin Cup competitions.

Changing With The Times

BY RALPH CHATOIAN

With all the screaming about the wild youth of today, College of Marin track and field coach Tony Bailey is not about to throw in the towel on the younger generation.

"Young people are not that much different than they were 10 years ago," he said. "They are definitely more concerned, more aware of world issues, but they're still having fun if they want to."

There is a change, he feels, and coaches must realize this. "But I still see people, coaches, trying to hold on to the past. Most track coaches I know are changing with the times."

Bailey taught both football and track at Redwood High School in Larkspur before going up to College of Marin, and he realizes there are different methods of coaching different sports.

TONY BAILEY
'Wasn't very fast'

"You can work more individually with a boy in track. Three milers, for instance, have different training programs to fit each of them individually," he said.

An import from Southern California, Bailey was born in Bell, Los Angeles County, but came to Marin County as a youth. He went to Tamalpais High School for two years before Drake High opened, attended Drake his junior and senior years, and played football, basketball and track.

He went to University of California, Berkeley, and was a sprinter for one of Brutus Hamilton's track teams. "I had a lot of fun but wasn't very fast," said Bailey, recalling his 10 seconds flat time in the 100-yard dash and 22.2 in the 220.

ARMY RESERVES

After graduation from Cal, Bailey put in six months active duty with the Army Reserves, then started work on his teaching credential at San Francisco State. He taught for one year at Robert Louis Stevenson High School at Pebble Beach before returning to Marin County.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Sturgeon Fishermen Have Fair Weekend

Well, that was a pretty fine weekend, especially Sunday. Did you see the boats out on San Pablo Bay and all the way down below the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge? I counted more than 100 boats, all fishing in that general area.

The stripers seemed to be staying undercover, but the sturgeon, in some cases, made the day for a few of the fishermen. It's funny how it goes at times.

I had the fishing bug so gave it a try last Friday with Frank Sue of Corte Madera and Marty Medin of Woodacre. We anchored near a small aluminum skiff below the Richmond Bridge, occasionally moving down with the tide, figuring the fish would be moving down too. On the first cast, Frank took a 12-pound striper, so we thought we would be having a "hot" day. Four hours later, we were still waiting for our second strike.

But then it happened! From 1:15 p.m. until 4 p.m. one of us had a sturgeon on. Frank hooked four, Marty two and I hooked one. We kept the first three; two weighed about 40 pounds each and Frank's weighed about 60 pounds. Two of the fish which we had to release probably weighed 10 pounds or so. The fish jumped a lot, sometimes close to the aluminum boat with the man and the two kids. They never got a hit, and if it had been duck season, I think they would have taken a shot at us. It can be frustrating, I'll tell you!

SAM KNOLES of San Anselmo, and a friend also had two sturgeon. Sam has been using his fly rod and he says it's a ball! Sam has been building a smokehouse since sturgeon smoked can be the tastiest of fishes.

Ray Mathias of Novato landed a sturgeon that weighed about 100 pounds. He got it to the side of the boat, then his line busted, but being quick on the trigger, he managed to gaff the fish before it took off. Pretty lucky fellow.

Of course, the old champ, Bob Wilson of Woodacre, was out there, too. He came home with his fourth sturgeon in four trips. When you bet with him, your money has wings. Every time he hooks a fish, you can see the dollar signs in his eyes, and hear the sounds of the cash register ringing. He's tough.

THE MINUS TIDES brought out the clam diggers en masse. (Don't forget that the abalone season is closed.) The low tides tomorrow and Thursday are excellent for clams and cockles. Abalone opens again on March 15.

This is the chance to go poke poling for eel and rock fish. Take an old rod or long bamboo pole, attach a short leader for the poking and with a Number 3 hook, bait it with clam, mussel, prawns, etc., and push the pole, leader and hook under large rocky crevices and deep hole areas and stand by for some kind of a strike.

Give a jerk, and you will come out with an eel that might weigh five pounds or a cabezon, or one of the many types of rock fish in the area. They're all good eating, especially the eels. Skin and fillet them, and chunk the meat up, breadcrumb, and fry. The meat is white, and readily separates from the backbone when cooked. Man, they are good—and they aren't really eels, just a fish that looks like an eel.

EELING is best in the abalone bed areas. Go out near Bolinas in the National Seashore and watch the experts do it. You need a fishing license for this interesting and fulfilling sport.

John Costa of Olema along with Marty Medin tried it Sunday northwest of Muir Beach. Marty showed up at my house with 11 eels, so we had a fish fry with smoked sturgeon and fried oysters. Brother, was that ever good! Now is the time for oysters; they are in prime condition. You can get them either at the Tomales Bay or Drake's Bay oyster farms.

THE GIACOMINI RANCH is still open to mud hen shooting. There were lots of birds there last week.

I haven't seen any brant in Tomales Bay yet this part of the late season. Last year, they came in just before the close of the season on Feb. 22.

DUCKS UNLIMITED is having a drive on for members. Their recent brochure gives a clear cut picture of all the good they are doing. If you're a duck hunter, or a conservationist, you can do your part by joining the very worthwhile organization.

MARIN HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS NOTES

A Few Surprises In Basketball Race

By GARY TISCHLER

Reflections on the first half of the Marin County Athletic League basketball race:

Despite the fact that Redwood High School's streaking (10 wins in a row) and unbeaten (7-0 in league) Giants are ruling the roost, which is not a surprise, there have been quite a few surprises in the race so far.

Three of the small wonders of the league standings are the progress, or lack of it, made by Terra Linda, Drake, and Novato.

Terra Linda and Drake, to say the least, looked disorganized and punchless in the Drake Tournament in December, with Drake losing all three of its games and Terra Linda losing two of three.

But since then, Terra Linda has compiled a 4-3 record in league play with a team that stays and plays together. Coach Bob Corley's Trojans don't have exceptional size and no real super-stars, although center Joe Casteel, forward Mark Jones and guard Gary Wall are standout performers. But there are a lot of players on the club who are not bad at all. The Trojans have shown tremendous improvement since the Drake Tournament debacle.

MEEKER LEAVING

Drake itself has won only two games in league play, but one of the wins was over San Rafael and the Pirates, behind the steady and high scoring of Jeff Meeker, have not been beaten badly by anyone, including Redwood.

Meeker, incidentally, a junior, won't be around to play for Drake next season. He's transferring to Bellarmine High School in the Catholic Athletic League.

Novato has been something of a surprising disappointment, winning only one game in league play after what looked like an impressive non-league showing earlier in the season. The Hornets won two games in the Drake Tournament, and beat Napa, a contender in the tight North Bay League II race, twice before MCAL play started.

CASE IN POINT

But the Hornets, with potentially explosive scorers in Joe DeMaestri, Marty Moroski and Gene Barnes, have not come up with any offensive punch, with the latest 46-42 loss to Drake proving a case in point.

San Marin probably would have been doing a lot better than it is now (2-5). But the Mustangs are playing without injured hotshooter Gary Howard, and the senior star is sorely missed, leaving a big hole in the offense and letting opposing defenses worry about fewer things. They haven't found a way to stop Dana LaFerriere, the 6-foot-8 junior center who's been carrying almost all of the load for the Mustangs. LaFerriere has had games of 33 and 41 points and is averaging around 27 points per game in league play, but with no help from his teammates, it's not enough.

Redwood, barring unforeseen and shocking surprises, looks to have a clear road to the title. The Giants have been shooting over 50 per cent from the field lately and, if they win the rest of their games, could go into the Tournament of Champions with a 25-3 record, which may be enough to get them a high seed and prevent a first-round showdown with other top-seeded competition.

GEORGE GUSTAFSON, veteran athletic director, department chairman and tennis coach at Tamalpais High School, is at home, recovering from an operation last month which resulted in removal of his right kidney. And George is doing fine.

"It's like lifting a big load," Gustafson said. "I'm getting along fine now and expect to be back in time for tennis season. After that, I don't know."

Gustafson has been at Tamalpais since 1934 and has been teaching for 40 years, starting at Ukiah High School.

Currently Al Ahlsten is handling athletic director duties while Mike Campas is the acting department chairman.

West's Free Throws Puts Him In Front

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West is using the free throw line as a pointer as he shoots for his first National Basketball Association scoring title.

West went 11-for-11 from the foul line last Sunday in a 36-point effort against Philadelphia that carried the streaking Los Angeles Lakers into first place in the NBA's Western Division and boosted his league-high scoring average to 31.5 per-game.

Runnerup Elvin Hayes of San Diego, hitting 27.1 points per-start, and third place Lew Alcindor, with a 26.8 mark, each has more field goals than the Los Angeles veteran. But West's 455 free throws in 550 attempts, both league highs, more than make up the difference.

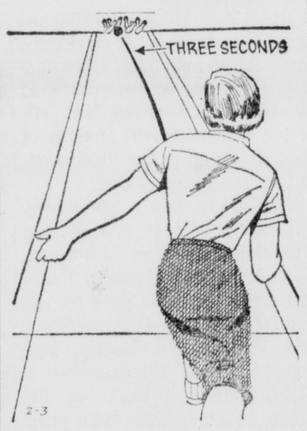
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Most women should bowl with enough speed so that the ball takes three seconds from foul line to the head pin. Even four seconds isn't bad, as long as you're consistent. However, if your ball takes more than that, work on speeding up your action. The too-slow ball won't have any spin by the time it reaches the pins, and won't get much action.

Adult Basketball League Scheduled

Formation of an open class adult basketball league co-sponsored by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department and the Tamalpais High School Recreation Department was announced yesterday.

The seven-team league will begin play on March 5. Entry deadline is Feb. 11. Interested parties should contact John Garber at the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Department.

hTe 34-year-old Bailey now living in Novato, is in his second year at College of Marin and says the biggest difficulty is planning for upcoming seasons. Just when you plan for certain people, says Bailey, they drop out of school because of grades, work, or they go off to military service.

IT'S IMPORTANT

"I'm a real believer in a boy having confidence in himself," said Bailey. As far as the long hair question, he said, "As a general rule, I like them to be neat appearing and well groomed, within reason. I think this is important. They don't have to have a crew cut, but they should be well groomed."

But above all, says Bailey, "athletics has to be fun or it's all wrong."

Bailey rates George Stewart, last year's distance runner for the Tars who now is No. 2 miler at Oklahoma State College, as the most talented trackman he has coached, but goes back to his high school coaching days recalling the best "come through" performance.

His Redwood track team was battling Tamalpais High School for the league championship and needed points in the high jump to win. Bob Ballou, who had a previous best of 5-foot-7, was going up against Tam boys who had jumped 5-10 and 5-11. Well, Ballou cleared 6 feet, won the event, and Redwood won the title. "That was really something," said Bailey.

Bailey's wife, Melinda, is quite a golfer. Although runner up in the San Francisco Women's Amateur tournament four times without winning it, she is currently champ at Sonoma National. She plays to a five handicap.

"I beat her once," Bailey laughs. "I was playing way over my head, but I beat her."

They have a son, Jay, who will be 3 Feb. 15, and two baby daughters, Jan, 20 months, and Jil just born Jan. 10.

Bailey is a member of the California Coaches Association Track Committee and is in the University of California Track Officials Association.

Beaty Says He Doesn't Know What's Going On

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, who hope they have lined up a big man for the future, will have to worry about the condition of their present center tonight when they visit the high-riding New York Knicks.

Clyde Lee, who has filled in well at center since Nate Thurmond injured his knee and was knocked out of the lineup for the season, may not be able to play.

The 6-foot-10 veteran pulled a groin muscle Sunday in the Warriors' victory over the Boston Celtics.

Monday, the Warriors announced the acquisition of National Basketball Association rights to Zelmo Beaty from the Atlanta Hawks.

Beaty, a 6-9 seven-year star from Prairie View, has signed to play for the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association and is sitting out the year. He owns a 17.4 points-per-game lifetime scoring average.

The Warriors said a player or players to be named would go to the Hawks after this season.

Beaty, now working for a bank in Los Angeles, commented, "I really don't know what's going on. I'll have to wait and see what happens."

The Stars have reportedly signed Beaty to a three-year contract that would pay him $500,000.

But the Stars are in financial trouble and may be sold soon.

Stars General Manager Jim Hardy says the league wants to keep a team in Los Angeles, though and added, "Atlanta realizes Beaty is gone for good and is trying to make whatever deal they can."

Franklin Mieuli, owner of the Warriors said, "We'll do our best to sign him as soon as possible."

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced today they have signed Jim Juniel, an 18-year-old outfielder from this San Francisco suburb, to a contract for the 1970 season.

Auto Glass Firm Joins Shops In Northgate Industrial Park

Scheduled to open sometime this month at Northgate Industrial Park is Central Allied Glass Companies, which has its headquarters in Detroit and its district offices in San Francisco.

The firm has leased space at 40-A Mark Drive through William W. Hoey and Co. for a store and and the installation of automobile glass. There are five stores in San Francisco and others are located throughout the United States.

CHEM CORP. ENGINEERING in Sausalito has moved from 3030 Bridgeway to a new and much larger plant at 2660-A Bridgeway. This gives the company another 10,000 square feet in which to do its manufacturing of components for its automated pollution control systems.

The 42-month old firm's expansion has been necessitated by a 46-per cent sales increase in the last year. An even greater gain is expected for 1970 as the public demand for pollution abatement intensifies.

Partners Jerry Walter of San Anselmo, Douglas May of Sausalito and William Hannah of Mill Valley are now making plans to incorporate the company.

DYNA-GROWTH FINANCIAL CORP. of Oakland has purchased 2.5 acres at the entrance of Loma Verde in Novato from Michael Wornum for an apartment house project that is expected to cost altogether about $2 million. The transaction was handled by Langsam Realty Co., Sausalito.

Planned are 96 two-bedroom luxury units with a swimming pool and sauna bath. Completion is scheduled for this summer.

SAN RAFAEL LANDSCAPE DESIGNER and contractor Albert Bidegain is enlarging his facilities on Medway Road, East San Rafael, which cover 24,000 square feet. He is adding a new shop and nursery building and expects to have completion sometime in May.

NEW MANAGER of Bank of America's Sausalito branch is Clarence L. Gandy, who has been assistant manager of the Dixon branch for the past three years. Previously he was in the Tracy office. He joined the bank at Fresno in 1953 and attained officer status in 1960.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Mesabi Trust Offers Unusual Situation

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. In October, my sister and I inherited 2,800 units of Mesabi Trust. The price has dropped in recent years and we are concerned with whether to hold thes share which were bought by my father between 1953 and 1959. We are primarily interested in income when we retire in five years. -- R.G.

A. The Mesabi Trust's income is derived from royalty payments for iron-ore production by Reserve Mining, a jointly owned affiliate of Armco and Republic Steel. The two steelmakers are obligated to take all Reserve's production until its mortgage bonds are retired. Royalties are adjusted to reflect changes in the wholesale price index.

Reorganized as a trust in 1961, Mesabi must distribute all income, after expenses and reserve provisions, to certificate holders. Subject to holding-period qualifications, dividends on the certificates are taxable as capital gains. A portion of specified dividends are nontaxable because they are considered a return of capital. In your case, you should consult your tax attorney or accountant or ascertain whether this special tax treatment would be to your advantage after retirement. He will also verify whether this advantage would be offset by state income tax treatment.

Q. About two years ago I bought Bates Manufacturing at $21. Kindly let me have your opinion on whether I will ever get my money back. --H.N.

A. Several very encouraging developments have improved Bates' position. The sale or closing of seven unprofitable divisions sharply reduced losses which in 1968 amounted to $3.44 a share. The merger of 45 per cent-owned Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke in the final quarter was reported to have reversed the two-year pattern of deficit operations. Share price levels have not been enhanced by the pall that has been hung over all textile producers in recent months. The spectre of low-cost Japanese yard goods has been difficult for these issues to dispel and the soft retail market has prolonged this downturn. With patience, you should see better price levels by late this year.

African Plant Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — Union Carbide has reported it will build its third dry cell battery plant in Africa this year. The new plant is to be located in Abidjan, capital of the Ivory Coast and is expected to be in operation by late 1970. The company already has plants in Kenya and Ghana.

JUST CLEAR THE TREES

Clearing the treetops by a scant margin, these two C-123 cargo planes climb in tight formation over a ridgeline at dawn recently in a defoliation mission south of War Zone D in South Vietnam. The ungainly cargo planes sometimes perform in ways they were not designed — such as flying in tight formations and diving into valleys. Meanwhile today, fighting was reported tapering off as the Tet holidays approached. Only half a dozen small Viet Cong attacks were reported in the Saigon area last night. (AP Wirephoto)

Grand Jury Indicts 12 Deputies For Actions At 'People's Park'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal grand jury has charged that a dozen deputy sheriffs violated civil rights of "People's Park" demonstrators last May by firing shotguns at some and beating others after taking them into custody.

Two of those indicted Monday had resigned as Alameda County deputies and already faced trial on state misdemeanor charges of assaulting demonstrators. Judge William T. Sweigert ordered all 12 indicted on federal charges to appear for arraignment Feb. 16.

The shotgun firings May 15 wounded five, one fatally, and blinded another. The grand jury's indictment said the deputies fired "with the intent of imposing summary punishment" on the demonstrators, thereby violating federal civil rights statutes.

The "People's Park" disturbances lasted more than two weeks and brought more than 2,000 National Guard troops o Berkeley.

University of California students and Berkeley residents, mostly young, made a mass march from the campus against police guarding a newly erected fence around a plot of unused university land which had been appropriated and equipped as a "People's Park."

The indictment named 10 deputies on charges they conspired to violate the civil rights of demonstrators rounded up in a mass arrest May 22 and trucked to the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center.

Many of the 482 arrested that day—all later released with charges dismissed—complained they were forced to lie face down to await booking and were threatened and beaten by their guards.

Former Deputy Lawrence L. Riche, 24, and Deputy Leonard N. Johsnon were charged with discharging shotguns in the direction of James B. Rector, 25, and Allan Blanchard, 29.

Rector, a nonstudent, died of his wounds May 20, and Blanchard, a carpenter, was blinded by shotgun pellets. The two were on a rooftop overlooking the disturbance when hit.

Sheriff Frank Madigan said he felt "it's not fair for the federal government to "zero in" on his department.

"I concur there were cases of mistreatment at Santa Rita," he said, but "we were dealing with a group whose avowed intent is to destroy the government."

Conviction on the charges of conspiracy to violate civil rights carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a fine of $5,000. Conviction of firing on demonstrators to impose summary punishment carries a one-year sentence and $1,000 fine.

Following an investigation of his own, Madigan had suspended or demoted 10 deputies, but the county Civil Service Commission overruled him in eight cases.

The Monday indictments charged Riche with firing in the direction of three other men wounded May 15 — Allan Franke, Richard Ehrenberger and Clarence Edson.

Edson, a Fremont, Calif. painting contractor, has sued the city, county, state and officials for $1 million damages for wounds he said required two operations to save his left leg.

Argentine Train Crash Toll Rising

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine government raised the death toll in Sunday's train crash to an estimated 236 Monday night, making the wreck the second worst railroad disaster in history.

"Our present figure is 236," said Dr. Ezequiel Holmberg, the secretary of public health. "It is an estimate because we are still working."

He said 110 injured persons were hospitalized.

One rescue worker said many of the bodies were so badly mangled it was virtually impossible to make an accurate count.

In some cases, whole families returning from a summer weekend in the countryside apparently were killed, and there was no one to make identification.

Several injured children were orphaned by the accident. Some of the injured were traveling with family or friends and did not know hours after the crash what had happened to them.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Speaker Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young California congressman will seek this month to repudiate the long-time House Democratic leadership of House Speaker John W. McCormack, it has been learned.

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, one of a group of young Democratic representatives seeking at least a symbolic vote this year on McCormack's continuation as speaker, will make his move at a party caucus Feb. 18.

Waldie, it was reported, addressed a letter to the 78-year-old McCormack listing his complaints against the present House leadership.

Although he had refused to discuss the letter's contents until the speaker received it, Waldie noted he had suggested publicly the caucus "should address itself to the leadership problem."

Space Skin Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Apollo 12 astronauts suffered from skin infections during quarantine, leading doctors to believe that prolonged spaceflight may intensify the action of some bacteria that man normally carries.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief physician to America's astronauts, reported the still-mysterious evidence Monday. He said scientists have yet to determine the reason for the apparent intensification of bacteria during space flight.

Astronauts Alan L. Bean and Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., who both landed on the moon, each sustained temporary post-flight infections from staphylococcus bacteria they carried with them from earth and which apparently increased in intensity during flight, Berry said.

During flight, he said, "some of the organisms died off, while 'opportunistic' ones took over . . . especially staphylococcus aureus."

Blast Mystery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An explosion ripped through the colonial-style municipal court building and police station Monday in suburban Shaker Heights, injuring 15 persons.

Police Chief Carl R. Longstreet said the blast, which left the roof lying on a heap of rubble was caused by "either a bomb or gas."

An East Ohio Gas Co. official said the gas meter still was intact, indicating the blast was not caused by gas.

Martin Kafoglis, a Treasury Department investigator who sent a team to the scene, said it would be assumed "that an explosion of this magnitude would involve a bombing" but that he had no evidence this was the case.

Nerve Transplants

MUNICH (AP)—West German doctors have developed a method of transplanting human nerves, a spokesman at the Munich University neurosurgical clinic says.

The nerve material is freeze-dried to preserve it and to kill particles that could cause infection. Thawed shortly before transplantation, the material serves until the recipient's damaged nerve can regenerate itself.

Dr. Walter Jacoby, 49, said his team transplanted nerve material from dead persons to two male patients who returned to their jobs without further difficulty. Both had severed nerves in their forearms.

TB In Borneo

JAKARTA (AP)—More than 60 per cent of the primitive Dayak tribesmen of central Borneo have tuberculosis, an American health team reported today.

The team, sponsored by the Sargent Dayak Fund, said many deaths occurred between the ages of 7 and 18 from the disease, complicated by cholera, dysentery, malaria and skin infections.

The team has been in the jungle for the last two months.

Britain Backs U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain joined the United States Monday night in resisting United Nations pressure for a ban on nonfatal riot control gases.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the House of Commons that CS gas, used against rioters in Northern Ireland because it induces nausea and vomiting without being lethal, falls outside the scope of the 1925 Geneva protocol which outlawed all chemical weapons of war.

The United States uses tear gas, CS defoliants and herbicides in Vietnam.

Six-Month Jail Term On Drugs

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday placed Terry Tsegelatos, 25, of San Francisco, on one-year probation and ordered him to spend six months in jail.

Tsegelatos had earlier admitted selling LSD to a Fairfax policewoman on May 20, 1968, and a second charge of offering to sell her mescaline was dropped.

The judge also ordered that Tsegelatos submit to periodic testing to determine if he is using narcotics to refrain associating with people to use drugs.

Successor To Poole Takes Over

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The U. S. attorney's office here has a new boss today who says he will not go easy on civil disturbances.

James Browning Jr., a Republican, succeeded Cecil Poole Monday as U. S. Attorney for the northern and central coastal counties of California.

Poole, a Democrat appointed by President John F. Kennedy in 1961, as the nation's first black U. S. attorney, was reappointed by President Johnson who later nominated him to the bench of the U. S. District Court.

That court appointment was blocked by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., and was withdrawn by the Nixon administration.

When Poole announced last December he was leaving his post, he said he was disappointed at not being confirmed as a judge and added:

"I'm leaving office with some regret, no bitterness and an enlarged view of the possibilities of use of offices like this for good or evil."

Browning, 37, with his wife and two small children present, was sworn in by U. S. District Court Chief Judge George B. Harris.

$55,000 Larkspur Apartment Blazes

Two Larkspur residents dashed from a burning apartment house clad only in their pajamas last night as flames engulfed the building in the second of two fires yesterday.

The two fires at the 75 year-old, converted office building at 557 Magnolia Avenue yesterday caused damage estimated at $55,000 according to the Larkspur Fire Department.

The first fire, its cause unknown, erupted at 2:49 p.m. in an apartment occupied by David T. Williams, who was not home at the time, according to the fire department.

$8,000 DAMAGE

Firemen limited the fire to Williams' apartment, which sustained about $8,000 damage.

Peter C. Sternberger of San Rafael, owner of the building, said this morning that his tenants had been assured by the fire chief that the building was safe to occupy after the first fire.

At 11:57 p.m. the firemen were called to a second fire at the same address.

Paul Graver and Edward Guerrero fled their apartments after awaking in a pall of smoke.

APARTMENTS HIT

Fire Chief William C. Shurtz said the second fire swept through three apartments, causing $15,000 damage to personal possessions and $32,000 damage to the building. A fourth apartment, occupied by a Mr. and Mrs. Chacon, received minor damage.

Approximately 40 men and five trucks from the Larkspur and Kentfield fire departments battled the flames for three hours. Mop-up operations continued this morning. No injury was reported by the department.

Firemen were investigating the cause of the fires today, the department said.

FIRE OUT — Asst. Larkspur Fire Chief William Lellis studies damage of last night's apartment house fire. Standing on the overhang of the first floor ceiling, he is looking down into the caved-in second story.

Youth In Fairfax Get Panel

By C. P. McCARTHY

Fairfax youth last night again asked for and this time received authorization from the city council to establish an adult-free youth commission which, in the words of Cameron Wilson, 17, "can make its own mistakes just like the city councilmen make theirs."

Following three hours of discussion, continued from the council's meeting Jan. 26, the council accepted with minor amendments a youth commission proposal presented at the previous meeting.

"POWER TO ADVISE"

The council's resolution, passed unanimously, authorizes the establishment of a commission which "will have the power and duty to advise the Fairfax City Council on programs and methods of involving youths in the areas of planning, decision making and activities which concern the youth of this community."

One member of the commission will be elected from White Hill School, another from St. Rita's School, and five by Fairfax youth at a general meeting.

This selection process appeared to be a point the council was unwilling to concede, as it insisted that there be adult representation and that the council have final control over who would be on the commission.

APPOINTMENT IDEA

Councilman Robert R. Souza said the commissioners should be appointed by the council, a they are to other Fairfax commissions. "This is your city council," he told the young people, "which is your representative government–elected by your parents."

Judi Cummings, 16, of 165 Frustuck Avenue, said the youth commission was different from other commissions because "if you appoint a youth commissioner, he might not be representative of the feeling of the youth at the time." Adults appointed to various commissions, se said, halways represent adult views.

Carol Pritchard, 16, a member of the Mill Valley Youth Commission, explained that organization, which is comprised of eight young people and three adults. She said she couldn't understand why the Fairfax youth were opposed to adults on their commission. "They're not against you," she said.

ASKS FOR EXAMPLE

As the discussion returned to council control over the selection of commisisoners, Wilson, of 189 Cascade Drive, asked the council for an example of a reason the council might not approve of a commissioner elected by the young people.

"You'd be surprised," said Councilman Adelaide P. Wilson, young Wilson's mother, to which he replied, "You're restricting the voice of youth."

Councilman Frank J. Egger proposed a compromise whereby there would be no adults on the commission, and the young people would elect a slate of possible commissioners from

Bonds, Police Chief Put On June Ballot

San Rafael Sewer, Rec Votes Set

The proposal to make the police chief appointive will again be put before San Rafael voters at the June 2 primary election, along with three city bond issues totaling more than two and one-quarter million dollars.

Also on the ballot will be proposed charter changes to increase to $10,000 per year the amount the city may spend for promotional purposes, and to eliminate the actually non existent position of city health officer.

4-O ACTION

The San Rafael City Council, with Councilman John A. Miskimen absent, last night approved without dissent the series of proposals and directed City Atty. David Menary Jr. to prepare them for the ballot.

The bond issues would be:

1. For upgrading the city's sanitary sewer system. This would be the next step in a program to enlarge sewer capacity and eliminate incursion of storm water into the sanitary sewers, as demand3d by the Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board. City Mgr. James H. McCown said the cost was figured at $1,107,000 plus attorney and financial consultant fees. He said he was unable to get these fees in time for last night's council meeting.

REC, FIRE BUILDINGS

2. For a community recreation center at Albert Park. McCown placed the cost of this, again not including attorney and financial fees, at $570,182.

3. For a new central fire station adjoining Albert Park. This was estimated at $538,000, including land acquisition but again without the fees.

Each bond issue would require two-thirds voter approval for authorization.

McCown estimated that interest would run from 7.5 to 8 per cent on the present bond market.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier cautioned that "we have to figure out what these are going to do to the tax rate — separately, item by item." McCown promised to have these figures for the Feb. 16 council meeting.

The bond issues have been

Budget Balancing On 1970 Surplus

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan proposed a delicately balanced $6.48 billion budget Tuesday that stands pat on state spending in an election year when Californians' pocketbooks are squeezed by inflation.

Reagan, expected to run for re-election this year, sent the Legislature a 1970-71 spending program that slips by with no new taxes. However, United Press International in an exclusive story, (see below) says that Reagan late today also is to ask for a one-cent increase in the sales tax and conversion to withholding on state income taxes.

The budget includes virtually no new programs, and eliminates others which the Republican chief executive called "no longer vital to the California of the 1970s."

It takes a two-thirds vote in each house to enact the budget — and partisan strife between Republicans and Democrats last year saw the July 1 deadline come and go without a new budget for the first time in history. Republicans have only a 41-39 Assembly margin and a 21-12 Senate edge.

With Reagan expected to be seeking a second term and the leader of legislative Democrats, Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, already announced as a gubernatorial candidate, the 1970 budget debate is likely to be tough and noisy.

Income for the year starting July 1 is expected to fall $89.9 million short of spending, but a surplus from earlier years would make up the shortage and leave a slim $28.4 million surplus at year's end — if the estimates are accurate.

(See other budget stories on page 26)

Reagan stamped a "hold the line" label on his fourth budget and proudly noted it is $37 million below what his experts predict will be spent when the current fiscal year ends June 30.

But the record $6,480,325,654 Reagan asked for 1970-71 is $255 million above the amount he requested last year — a 4.1 per cent rise — and $152 million

Reagan Drops Fight Against Withholding

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan has reversed his adamant four-year opposition to payroll withholding of state income taxes and decided to incorporate it in his tax revision plan, UPI learned today.

Chief proponent of the withholding tax has been Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Sources said Reagan withdrew his opposition to withholding so he could finance property tax relief and solve an acute cash flow problem in state government.

Reagan scheduled an afternoon news conference to announce his acceptance of withholding as part of the package, which is expected to shift nearly $1 billion in taxes.

Sources said other features of the tax plan include a one-cent increase in the present five-cent-on-the-dollar sales tax, a reduction in the 27 per cent oil depletion allowance, an increase for upper bracket income taxpayers and a tax break for renters financed through the income tax.

The tax increases are necessary, Reagan has said, to finance substantial reduction in property taxes.

Reagan had adamantly opposed withholding since his 1966 campaign when Democrats wanted to adopt the federal system of automatically collecting state income tax payments from a worker's regular paycheck.

Shortly after taking office in 1967 Reagan said withholding "tends to make government careless with the management" of taxpayers' money.

Reagan maintained "taxes should hurt." He contended workers would not be as conscious of the amount of taxes they paid if the funds

Fewer State Employees, But Pay Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan budgeted $81 million Tuesday for the equivalent of a five per cent salary hike for the state's 181,407 employes in 1970-71.

The governor also said he would support a bill to pay for a $2 a month increase in the state's contribution to the workers' health plan.

The budget calls for a drop in the number of employes, including higher education faculty, from this year's level of 182,240.

"The state is fortunate in having a large number of competent and dedicated employes," Reagan said in his budget.

"We have held the total number of state positions at slightly less than the current year level and have continued to resist the constant annual personnel increase which characterized state employment patterns prior to 1967," Reagan said.

Reagan aides said the budget would allow personnel-regulating agencies to determine how the $81 million would be distributed, rather than grant an across-the-board five per cent hike as in the past several years.

Bagley Decides Not To Run For Senate

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman William T. Bagley will not be a candidate for the state Senate seat being vacated by the retirement at year's end of Sen. John F. McCarhy, his fellow San Rafael Republican.

In a letter today to Republican leaders throughout the state, Bagley said he has decided against seeking election to the Senate and will remain in the Assembly, where he is chairman of the revenue and taxation, joint national tax policy, and statewide information policy committees.

Bagley's announcement was taken by political leaders to herald a wide-open race for the Senate seat from the Fourth District, which includes Marin and parts of Napa and Solano counties.

In his letter to Republican leaders, Bagley said:

"Never has one agonized more and analyzed as much over the prospect of being a freshman state senator. And never have I been as grateful for the very broad and total support that has been offered."

Nevertheless, he wrote, "it simply does not make sense to descend from a position of strong voice and impact in one house of the legislature to a freshman status in the other."

Bagley hinted also that serving in the Senate—assuming he won election—would commit him to a longer career in the Legislature than he desires. (Senate terms are four years; Assembly terms, two years.)

"I just do not believe it is in the interests of good government for any person to spend what could be nearly two decades in the state legislature," he wrote. "Legislative service is just that—a service—an avocation . . . I have seen too many spend too long a time in Sacramento."

Bagley indicated to a reporter that one more term in the Assembly is all he plans to seek.

The San Rafael assemblyman noted that passage of the governor's tax reform program this

Senate Fails To Reach Carswell Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee ended its open hearings on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell today, then held a closed session but failed to reach a vote.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., announced that the record would be kept open for Carswell to respond with a written statement if he wished to attacks on his record.

Eastland said he did not know when the committee would meet next.

Eastland also said that he remains confident that Carswell will be approved by the committee and by the Senate by a big vote.

The open hearings ended with protests from civil rights spokesman who argued Carswell should be recalled as a witness to explain what they called his segregationist record.

"If Judge Carswell were worthy of the Supreme Court he would demand to come back," said labor lawyer Joseph L. Rauh Jr., who spoke for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Rauh appealed to the committee not to approve "someone worse" in wake of the Senate's rejection of the prior nominee for the seat, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

"Judge Carswell is Judge Haynsworth with a cutting edge," Rauh said, "with a bitterness and a meanness that Judge Haynsworth never had."

Rauh told the committee that nothing in Carswell's record indicates he has really repudiated a white supremacy speech he made 22 years ago.

Similarly, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington office of the NAACP and legislative chairman of the leadership conference, said "There is nothing to show that in the long period of his public life between 1948 and the present that the judge has rejected, retracted or reformed with respect to his 1948 views."

Carswell has said he now denounces the 1948 statements as abhorrent to him.

Rauh also told the committee that there was a serious question of whether Carswell, as one of the incorporators of a private country club in Tallahassee, Fla., in 1956, that took over a municipal golf course, had acted in a way that constituted a criminal act.

He said the United States Code makes it unlawful to deprive any citizen of rights guaranteed to him by the Constitution and contended the purpose of the club was to exclude Negroes from use of the municipal links.

Their testimony followed charges Monday by other opposition witnesses that Carswell, now a judge on the Fifth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and formerly the U.S. District Court judge in Tallahassee was hostile and insulting toward civil rights lawyers from the North.

Grand Jury Indicts 12 Deputies For Actions At 'People's Park'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal grand jury has charged that a dozen deputy sheriffs violated civil rights of "People's Park" demonstrators last May by firing shotguns at some and beating others after taking them into custody.

Two of those indicted Monday had resigned as Alameda County deputies and already faced trial on state misdemeanor charges of assaulting demonstrators. Judge William T. Sweigert ordered all 12 indicted on federal charges to appear for arraignment Feb. 16.

The shotgun firings May 15 wounded five, one fatally, and blinded another. The grand jury's indictment said the deputies fired "with the intent of imposing summary punishment" on the demonstrators, thereby violating federal civil rights statutes.

The "People's Park" disturbances lasted more than two weeks and brought more than 2,000 National Guard troops o Berkeley.

University of California students and Berkeley residents, mostly young, made a mass march from the campus against police guarding a newly erected fence around a plot of unused university land which had been appropriated and equipped as a "People's Park."

The indictment named 10 deputies on charges they conspired to violate the civil rights of demonstrators rounded up in a mass arrest May 22 and trucked to the Santa Rita Rehabilitation Center.

Many of the 482 arrested that day—all later released with charges dismissed—complained they were forced to lie face down to await booking and were threatened and beaten by their guards.

Former Deputy Lawrence L. Riche, 24, and Deputy Leonard N. Johsnon were charged with discharging shotguns in the direction of James B. Rector, 25, and Allan Blanchard, 29.

Rector, a nonstudent, died of his wounds May 20, and Blanchard, a carpenter, was blinded by shotgun pellets. The two were on a rooftop overlooking the disturbance when hit.

Sheriff Frank Madigan said he felt "it's not fair for the federal government to "zero in" on his department.

"I concur there were cases of mistreatment at Santa Rita," he said, but "we were dealing with a group whose avowed intent is to destroy the government."

Conviction on the charges of conspiracy to violate civil rights carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a fine of $5,000. Conviction of firing on demonstrators to impose summary punishment carries a one-year sentence and $1,000 fine.

Following an investigation of his own, Madigan had suspended or demoted 10 deputies, but the county Civil Service Commission overruled him in eight cases.

The Monday indictments charged Riche with firing in the direction of three other men wounded May 15 — Allan Franke, Richard Ehrenberger and Clarence Edson.

Edson, a Fremont, Calif. painting contractor, has sued the city, county, state and officials for $1 million damages for wounds he said required two operations to save his left leg.

Argentine Train Crash Toll Rising

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine government raised the death toll in Sunday's train crash to an estimated 236 Monday night, making the wreck the second worst railroad disaster in history.

"Our present figure is 236," said Dr. Ezequiel Holmberg, the secretary of public health. "It is an estimate because we are still working."

He said 110 injured persons were hospitalized.

One rescue worker said many of the bodies were so badly mangled it was virtually impossible to make an accurate count.

In some cases, whole families returning from a summer weekend in the countryside apparently were killed, and there was no one to make identification.

Several injured children were orphaned by the accident. Some of the injured were traveling with family or friends and did not know hours after the crash what had happened to them.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Speaker Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young California congressman will seek this month to repudiate the long-time House Democratic leadership of House Speaker John W. McCormack, it has been learned.

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, one of a group of young Democratic representatives seeking at least a symbolic vote this year on McCormack's continuation as speaker, will make his move at a party caucus Feb. 18.

Waldie, it was reported, addressed a letter to the 78-year-old McCormack listing his complaints against the present House leadership.

Although he had refused to discuss the letter's contents until the speaker received it, Waldie noted he had suggested publicly the caucus "should address itself to the leadership problem."

Space Skin Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Apollo 12 astronauts suffered from skin infections during quarantine, leading doctors to believe that prolonged spaceflight may intensify the action of some bacteria that man normally carries.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief physician to America's astronauts, reported the still-mysterious evidence Monday. He said scientists have yet to determine the reason for the apparent intensification of bacteria during space flight.

Astronauts Alan L. Bean and Charles "Pete" Conrad Jr., who both landed on the moon, each sustained temporary post-flight infections from staphylococcus bacteria they carried with them from earth and which apparently increased in intensity during flight, Berry said.

During flight, he said, "some of the organisms died off, while 'opportunistic' ones took over . . . especially staphylococcus aureus."

Blast Mystery

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An explosion ripped through the colonial-style municipal court building and police station Monday in suburban Shaker Heights, injuring 15 persons.

Police Chief Carl R. Longstreet said the blast, which left the roof lying on a heap of rubble was caused by "either a bomb or gas."

An East Ohio Gas Co. official said the gas meter still was intact, indicating the blast was not caused by gas.

Martin Kafoglis, a Treasury Department investigator who sent a team to the scene, said it would be assumed "that an explosion of this magnitude would involve a bombing" but that he had no evidence this was the case.

Nerve Transplants

MUNICH (AP)—West German doctors have developed a method of transplanting human nerves, a spokesman at the Munich University neurosurgical clinic says.

The nerve material is freeze-dried to preserve it and to kill particles that could cause infection. Thawed shortly before transplantation, the material serves until the recipient's damaged nerve can regenerate itself.

Dr. Walter Jacoby, 49, said his team transplanted nerve material from dead persons to two male patients who returned to their jobs without further difficulty. Both had severed nerves in their forearms.

TB In Borneo

JAKARTA (AP)—More than 60 per cent of the primitive Dayak tribesmen of central Borneo have tuberculosis, an American health team reported today.

The team, sponsored by the Sargent Dayak Fund, said many deaths occurred between the ages of 7 and 18 from the disease, complicated by cholera, dysentery, malaria and skin infections.

The team has been in the jungle for the last two months.

Britain Backs U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain joined the United States Monday night in resisting United Nations pressure for a ban on nonfatal riot control gases.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the House of Commons that CS gas, used against rioters in Northern Ireland because it induces nausea and vomiting without being lethal, falls outside the scope of the 1925 Geneva protocol which outlawed all chemical weapons of war.

The United States uses tear gas, CS defoliants and herbicides in Vietnam.

Six-Month Jail Term On Drugs

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday placed Terry Tsegelatos, 25, of San Francisco, on one-year probation and ordered him to spend six months in jail.

Tsegelatos had earlier admitted selling LSD to a Fairfax policewoman on May 20, 1968, and a second charge of offering to sell her mescaline was dropped.

The judge also ordered that Tsegelatos submit to periodic testing to determine if he is using narcotics to refrain associating with people to use drugs.

Successor To Poole Takes Over

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The U. S. attorney's office here has a new boss today who says he will not go easy on civil disturbances.

James Browning Jr., a Republican, succeeded Cecil Poole Monday as U. S. Attorney for the northern and central coastal counties of California.

Poole, a Democrat appointed by President John F. Kennedy in 1961, as the nation's first black U. S. attorney, was reappointed by President Johnson who later nominated him to the bench of the U. S. District Court.

That court appointment was blocked by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., and was withdrawn by the Nixon administration.

When Poole announced last December he was leaving his post, he said he was disappointed at not being confirmed as a judge and added:

"I'm leaving office with some regret, no bitterness and an enlarged view of the possibilities of use of offices like this for good or evil."

Browning, 37, with his wife and two small children present, was sworn in by U. S. District Court Chief Judge George B. Harris.

Outlay To Fern Canyon Road Cut

Mill Valley's contribution to the Fern Canyon Road and Summit Avenue Assessment District, which stirred controversy, was cut off last night because of a shortage of funds.

Councilmen voted 3-2 last fall to participate in the road improvement project, and the city has already spent about $2,000 in engineering and miscellaneous costs.

Edwin N. Ness, assessment district attorney, estimated that the city's share would be about $5,500 more if it continued to participate.

Councilmen voted last night to contribute the $2,000 already spent by a 3-2 vote with George E. Wickham and Robert H. Andresen, who have consistently opposed a city contribution, dissenting.

The council then voted unanimously that the city would contribute nothing more to the proposed district.

Former councilmen George W. Blackwell, a property owner in the area, had asked that the city pay "the total engineering bill," which was estimated to require another $2,000 in city funds.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer explained the property owners in the area could proceed with formation of the district on their own and the council continued the public hearing on protests until 8 p.m. Feb. 16 at city hall.

The council received letters of protest from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Wilson of 740 Summit Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Tuinzing of 1 Walden Lane, who own property on Fern Canyon Road.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

PARKS AND RECREATION — Meyer reappointed Richard J. Young to the city parks and recreation commission and appointed Dr. Thomas R. Knez to succeed Jean Barnard, who resigned from the commission to run for a council seat.

ENVIRONMENT — Received a suggestion from Meyer that the city broaden the powers of the parks and recreation commission to include environment or establish "an environment of conservation" commission.

ART COMMISSION — Meyer appointed Gloria Churchman of 22 Hillcrest Drive, Glenn R. Peterson of 24 Greenwood Way and E. G. Valens, 280 Ross Avenue, to the city's art commission.

HOUSING — Heard a report from Vera L. Schultz, Marin County Housing Authority director, on the June 2 ballot to approve low cost housing for senior citizens and low income families. There will be one ballot covering cities and the unincorporated area with majority vote needed for approval, but projects cannot be started in any city without city council approval, she explained.

DRAINAGE — Awarded Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera, lowest of five bidders, a contract for the first phase of drainage improvements on Elm Avenue, at a cost of $3,180.

JUVENILE OFFICER — Deferred until budget session considering establishing the post of juvenile officer in the police department after a report from City Mgr. William H. Cunningham that the officer, now assigned to juvenile work, spends about 70 per cent of his time at the task, and there is increasing need.

REFUSE — Heard a report from Cunningham that the city's garbage collector couldn't provide pickup of plastic containers of burnable debris at the present collection rate.

ANNEXATION — Approved annexation of Robert L. Guevara's property at 96 Cypress Avenue to the city.

ABATEMENT — Authorized abatement proceedings against conditions at 160 Rose Avenue, which reportedly hindered drainage, resulting in damage to city streets.

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT — Approved an agreement with the Mill Valley School District on fees to be paid to the Sausalito Canal Assessment District on property at Project 17, with the city's share at $8,000.

RETIREMENT — Postponed until Feb. 16 action on placing city employees in the state's Public Employees Retirement System.

LIBRARY FUNDS — Heard a report from Helen Dreyfus of the Mill Valley Library Association that there would be a bid before Marin County supervisors today for reimbursement for nonresident use of the city library, and Mayor Meyer sent along a supporting letter.

STUDENT SAFETY — Received a request from Kenneth Anderson of the Tamalpais High School District Federation of Teachers for safety measures, such as sidewalks along Camino Alto.

NEXT SESSION — Adjourned until 7:45 p.m. Feb. 16 at City Hall for a closed session on possible litigation and regular session at 8 p.m.

Mountain View New Dump Site

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors unanimously approved a five-year contract Monday calling for dumping the city's garbage at Mountain View.

Garbage will be hauled in sealed, odor-free trucks 32 miles to a 544-acre plot which must be filled before it can be converted into a regional park.

Hauling and dumping will cost San Francisco $6.15 per ton, compared to the $3.50 costs of dumping on a site that is almost completely filled at nearby Brisbane.

The new agreement will cost an average householder about 20 cents a month.

San Francisco disposes of between 1,500 and 2,000 tons of garbage daily.

IN RECITAL — Baritone Elwood Peterson, Pomona College voice teacher, will sing the works of black composers to morrow at 1:15 p.m. at San Domenico School in a free public concert in observation of Negro History Week.

$150 Council Pay To Ballot On April 14

Mill Valley City Council voted last night to let residents decide at the April 14 municipal election whether city councilmen should be paid $150 a month.

The vote to put the proposition on the ballot was 4-1 with Jerome C. Hauke, who brought up the salary matter, dissenting.

Hauke had moved earlier that the council vote the $150 a month salary, effective after the April election, but got no second.

He explained that he didn't feel that a salary for councilmen should become a campaign issue, in view of other more important issues.

Under law, the only salary the council could set would be $150 a month, but voters can set any amount up to $150.

Councilman George E. Wickham proposed that the proposition be for a salary of $100 a month, but there was no second.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said that because of the city's tight financial situation, he preferred that the matter be placed on the ballot, rather than have the council vote.

With an expenditure of $9,000 a year involved, "the people of the community should have the right to make the decision," said Councilman Robert H. Andresen.

Hauke pointed out that two years ago he opposed council salaries, but since serving he sees justification for pay. There should be pay so a councilman "at least breaks even," he said.

Bala Issues Warning On Miller Slide

Mill Valley City Council got a warning last night that the Miller Avenue slide is dangerous and the whole wall of the slide may come down.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said the sliding that has occurred thus far "is a small portion compared to what might come down."

The slide, between Reed Street and Gomez Way, resulted in the closing of a section of Miller Avenue, after December storms.

Bala advised against clearing away at the toe of the slide for fear it would create a greater hazard and he recommended against putting up a chain link fence as a protection.

"A really serious slide is developing...a really deep slide," Bala said. "If you cleared the sidewalk...you still couldn't open the road."

The council proposed to push Marin County officials to remedy the situation since the slide area is within county territory, and to seek aid from Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R, San Rafael.

They also agreed to have a closed session at 7:45 p.m. Feb. 16 to discuss possible litigation against Thomas Collison of Mill Valley, owner of the property where sliding has occurred.

Proposed Downtown Plan Hits A Snag

Mill Valley's proposed downtown plan which would transform Lytton Square into a pedestrian area ran into heavy fire last night from merchants.

At a hearing before the city council comments ranged from the philosphy of planning for people or cars to the economic health of the downtown area.

There also was some feeling that creating a pedestrian area would bring to Mill Valley the visitors that have beset Sausalito's downtown park.

Under the plan, Miller Avenue would be closed to traffic in Lytton Square.

To the complaints of merchants about the proposed peripheral parking plan, Planning Commissioner Ivan S. Poutiatine, a proponent of the plan, replied: "It's not the automobiles who go shopping, it's the people."

Merchants contended that creating the pedestrian mall would require shoppers to walk longer distances from parking areas to shops, but proponents contended in some instances walking distance would be shorter.

George B. Gordon of 511 East Blithedale Avenue asked: "What do you expect to accomplish by changing downtown Mill Valley?"

Poutiatine explained that the plan was developed after it was noted several years ago that the downtown area was in financial difficulty and there were "signs of economic decay."

Merchants countered that there has been improvment since the business slump, but Poutiatine asserted that there are still signs of potential economic decay.

"I think we're foolish if we think there's nothing we can do to help Mill Valley in the downtown area," he said.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen felt the plan had some valid ideas, but urged: "We must be careful not to lose what which we have."

Councilman George E. Wickham said he wouldn't want to see the kind of "leisure-related activity" in the center of Mill Valley that prevails in downtown Sausalito, and there was applause.

Gordon said if the plan drew people into downtown Mill Valley "you're going to end up with Sausalito."

Granville L. Beedle, executive secretary of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, said there has been a noticeable improvement in the downtown area, and "things aren't as distressing as might be pointed out."

One woman, defending the plan, said: "It's obvious we have to stop playing up to automobiles."

One merchant, Norman Black, said his business has increased since he has moved from an automobile oriented location to a pedestrian oriented spot.

Poutiatine said the plan was considered by the planning commission from the viewpoint of the overall community not from the viewpoint of merchants.

"It isn't for today or tomorrow," but for the future, he commented.

The intent is to recognize the comfort and safety of people and attractiveness, rather than the convenience of the automobile, he said.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer said there would be three or four more meetings on the plan, with the next section, Upper Miller and Lower Miller avenues, to be reviewed Feb. 16.

Innocent Plea On Drug Charge

A Mill Valley youth has pleaded innocent to two charges of selling marijuana and has been set for a preliminary hearing Feb. 27 in Central Sonoma Municipal Court.

John Gerald Donhoff, $8, was arrested Jan. 7 in Santa Rosa on warrants charging that he had sold marijuana to an undercover agent on two occasions three months ago near the Sonoma State College campus.

A motion to suppress evidence on grounds it was collected illegally will also be considered at the hearing.

Bay Transit Planning Held Vital

SAN FRANCISCO (BW)—Coordination of the Bay Area's transportation planning is an immediate necessity, and a regional mechanism with full authority and power should be established by the current legislature, the San Francisco Bay Area Council declared yesterday.

The council is made up of business and civic leaders of nine Bay Area counties.

A multi-purpose regional organization that would control the planning of all regional functions, including air and water pollution control, bay conservation and development and open space planning as well as transportation, is the best answer to the problem, declared Nils Eklund, vice president of Kaiser Industries, and chairman of the council's transportation committee.

If such a regional "umbrella" agency cannot be achieved at this time, however, said Eklund, the council urges the formation of a regional agency to coordinate all Bay Area transportation planning, including highways, rapid transit, local transit, bridges and airports.

Such an agency, Eklund stated, should have the authority to "review and approve the plans of any agencies involved in the planning and management of any transportation functions within the Bay Area."

year and reapportionment next year are subjects to which he intends to devote much of his time and on which he would be most useful in his Assembly position.

Three Republicans already have announced their candidacy for the Senate nomination: Peter H. Behr of Mill Valley, former Marin County supervisor; Raymond H. Shone, Nicasio and San Rafael attorney, and Don Pinkerton, mayor of Fairfield. Two Democrats are in the race although neither has yet officially announced: Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael and Richard M. Adams of Belvedere.

There have been rumors of other potential candidates holding back to await Bagley's decision in the belief that he would be too formidable to challenge.

15-Year-Old In Weed Trouble

Nicholas James Miller, 15, of 52 Hillcrest Court, San Anselmo, was cited to juvenile authorities yesterday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and petty theft, San Anselmo police reported.

Police said Miller was suspected of taking two girls' purses at a basketball game at Sir Francis Drake High School Friday night, and when questioned and searched was found to have two marijuana cigarettes.

Miller escaped from police after being questioned and ran into the school parking lot and disappeared, but police spotted him again after school yesterday and arrested him.

Now, most taxpayers write a check for their entire bill in April.

But by withholding income tax payments from paychecks the state receives a steady, year round flow of cash.

Government financial experts predict the state faces a serious "cash flow" problem by the end of fiscal 1970-71. Withholding would ease the shortage.

which the council would select the commissioners.

The young people stood their ground. "I see no reason why we should have to come to a compromise," Josh Roth, 17, of 180 Bothin Road, told the council.

Several adults in the audience came to the youngsters' aid. "We shouldn't put up any roadblocks," Mrs. Louise Velte, 32 Mountain View Road, said, and Gary Graham, 105 Forrest Avenue, told the councilmen that the kids should be given a chance. "They're not going to hurt you," he said.

When Mayor Francis J. O'Connell asked again if there were objections to the elected slate--council selection plan, Margo Roth, 15, of 180 Bothin Road, said to him, "I don't see anybody picking you out of the hat like that."

A final compromise plan, suggested by Glen Dines, 30 Rock Ridge Road, which would have had seven commisisoners elected and one appointed by the council, also went nowhere.

The one appointee, Becki Sullins, 16, of 33 Park Road, said, would just be a council puppet."

With that, and an eye on the clock, the council made a few minor clarifications to the youngsters' proposal, passed it and adjourned.

long discussed. Decision to try again in June with the thrice-defeated proposal to make the police chief appointive came unexpectedly last night, at a council meeting with an unusually small audience.

McCown raised the possibility when asked by Mayor C. Paul Bettini if there were matters not previously discussed that should be put on the ballot.

The city manager said San Rafael is one of only two cities in California electing its police chief. He was quickly corrected by Police Chief Joseph J. Brusatori, who said it is one of three, the others being Albany and Santa Clara.

"I'm certainly in favor of having the police chief appointive," said Mayor Bettini. "That should go on the ballot," agreed Barbier. There was no objection from Councilmen Fred E. Jensen or Frederick C. Robbins Jr.

Bettini then raised the possibility of trying again to make the city clerk, treasurer and attorney also appointive; but Barbier and Robbins warned that this might result in defeat of all changes, and the major dropped the idea.

CHAMBER HELP

Raising the ceiling on promotional spending would make it possible for the city to give more money to the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, which has in most years received the total $1,000 promotional fund permitted by the charter. An attempt to eliminate the ceiling entirely was voted down at the 1969 city election.

The city health officer position has been vacant since retirement last year of Dr. Harry Hund, with the duties being contracted to the county health department. Eliminating the position from the charter would allow continuance of contracting with the county.

Woman Fair From Fall Through Glass

Kathleen Gill, 60, of 96 Marion Avenue, Sausalito, was reported in fair condition today in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital.

She suffered a two-inch cut on her stomach when she fell through a plate glass window at her home at 5:20 p.m. yesterday, according to Sausalito firemen who responded to the call.

Bus Line Has A Little Trouble

The second day of service of Marin's new intra-county bus service left a small group of passengers stranded in Mill Valley today.

According to Reggie Tobert of the Marin County Transit Systems, the mixup resulted from the 6:28 a.m. bus starting early from Reed Boulevard and Knoll Lane near Strawberry. The scheduling will be on target in the future he said.

"Both buses were full the first time around and we already need two more buses," he reported.

Two have been ordered, Tolbert added, with one scheduled to go into operation in about two weeks and the other two weeks later.

Library Pay Plan Backed

Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce directors voted yesterday to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to pay for Mill Valley Library use by Southern Marin residents who live outside Mill Valley city limits.

The board's recommendation supports the Mill Valley Library Assocaition's request that the county appropriate funds for this. Such residents must now pay the library for service.

The board also appointed Steven C. Kanewske, manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for Southern Marin, to the board. Kanewske succeeds James E. Egger, owner of Egger and Sons Nursery, who recently resigned.

Juvenile Panel Member To Quit

Rex T. Silvernale disclosed today he wants to resign from the Marin Juvenile Delinquency Prevention Commission because he is unable to attend meetings regualrly.

"I feel that at this time the prevention commission needs the full participation of all of its members if it is to meet the challenge laid down by your board," he wrote to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Silvernale's letter, dated Jan. 26, reached the clerk of the board of supervisors this morning.

Auto Overturns; Driver Injured

A San Rafael man was injured yesterday when his car hit a railing and overturned in avoiding a collision with another car, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Daniel R. Walwork, 22, was treated for scrapes and bruises on the right arm at Marin General Hospital at 8:40 p.m., five hours after the accident on Doyle Drive in San rFancisco.

The patrol said Walwork was driving south at 3:30 p.m. when a car driven by Stanley V. Marcum, 25, of 389 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, switched into his lane. Walwrok braked and his car hit a concrete railing, the patrol said.

Special Takeover Session Called

A special meeting to discuss a possible takeover of operation of the Alto Sanitary District by the Marin Municipal Water District was called for last night by the sanitary district board.

The board, which has asked the water district to study a takeover received a letter from water district directors saying they felt the plan was "feasible."

The sanitary district has invited representatives of the Almonte and Homestead sanitary districts, which have also expressed interest in the plan to attired. William H. Cunningham, Mill Valley city manager who has indicated there may be opposition by the city to the takeover, will also be invited.

The meeting will be Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Alto fire house, 27 Shell Road, Mill Valley.

Driver Sprains Wrist In Collision Of Cars

Richard E. Neal, 37, of 24 Francis Street, San Rafael, was treated for a sprained right wrist at Marin General Hospital yesterday suffered in a two-car accident at 7:34 p.m. at Second near Irwin streets, San Rafael police reported.

Driver of the other car was Charles L. Corbin, 18, of 125 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, according to police. Details of the accident were not available.

Point Reyes Outlay Clears Major Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. John P. Saylor, R-Pa., withdrew Monday his opposition to legislation to increase authorization for land purchase for the Point Reyes National Seashore in California.

Saylor, ranking Republican on the House Interior Committee, told the House Rules Committee that a liberalized spending policy for park acquisition in President Nixon's new budget meets objections he voiced last year.

The new budget, Saylor said, promises spending of $364.5 million in the next 18 months for Point Reyes and other authorized and pending park projects.

Saylor said he always has been a supporter of the Point Reyes Seashore, but not to the exclusion of other areas. Last year, he said, there was indication that Point Reyes was to be an exception to a general administration policy against funding new park authorizations.

"Point Reyes is important, but so are other areas," he said. "If my understanding of the budget is correct, then Point Reyes and other areas will be taken care of."

The bill would increase land purchase authorization for the 64,000-acre park from $19,135,000 to $57.5 million.

Chairman Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., blamed primarily land price escalation and the threat of subdivision encroachment on a pastoral zone for the inability to acquire the land from private owners within the $14 million original estimate in 1962.

"Point Reyes is one of the outstanding units of the National Park System," Aspinall told the Rules Committee. "It has a wonderful potential for recreation. It is well worth the price."

Rep. Roy A. Taylor, D-N.C., chairman of the Interior subcommittee on parks, said the Point Reyes purchase would be "a wise investment by the Government."

"We have no alternative," he said. "The longer we wait the more it is going to cost."

Nixon's budget message to Congress Monday provided for a $7.1 million supplemental estimate for Point Reyes for the current fiscal year, and an unspecified additional amount in the 12 months beginning July 1.

The Rules Committee cleared the bill for House debate probably next week.

over the figure he finally signed into law.

In most areas where he has direct control. Reagan allowed only enough increase to handle inflation and population pressures. This meant, for example, that the state university and colleges again didn't come close to getting what they really wanted, and various state agencies will have to shelve expanded or new programs they sought.

But in areas where the state spends vast amounts of money and yet has little control, spending was budgeted to rise sharply.

Reagan called the taxpayers' attention to welfare, in which the state and counties mainly carry out orders of the federal government. He noted that one out of every 10 Californians draws welfare of one type of another — and the number of children under 18 supported to some degree by welfare is expected to hit 14.3 per cent in 1971.

The general cost of welfare and the Medi-Cal program of free medical care for the needy will go up about 16 per cent. Welfare costs have gone up enough in the past four years to build "an additional nine-campus university system," Reagan commented.

The biggest area of state spending, for local schools, was listed for $1.66 billion in the coming year, up 2.1 per cent although enrollment from kindergarten through junior college is expected to rise 1.8 per cent.

One reason Reagan was able to submit a tight budget is a dropoff in planned spending for various state construction, including the big State Water Project which needs fewer dollars every year since 90 per cent of the work has been completed or is under contract.

Part of the dropoff stems from Reagan's deferring some projects in compliance with President Nixon's anti-inflation campaign, and from the inability to sell construction bonds in the current tight market.

A $319.6 million chunk of the state money reflects the various tax relief bills adopted by the legislature in recent years. Some $75 million more will go back to taxpayers next year than this, earmarked for homeowners and businessmen.

Only a few programs received more than a workload boost from current levels. One of these was a $3 million hike in special programs for minority students in higher education, a 50 per cent increase. Another is about 27 per cent more for anti-pollution projects, and state parks and recreation projects would get about 23 per cent more — if bonds can be sold, which is uncertain.

Reagan also asked for 21 new state narcotics agents and special added pay because of the risky nature of their work.

Two of the oldest meteorites in existence are the Beardsley meteorite in Kansas and Forest City in Iowa. Both are believed to be over four million years old.

Rail Strike Plea Likely To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration official said today the White House will soon have to ask Congress for special legislation unless a voluntary wage settlement ends the threat of a nationwide rail shutdown.

"If we can't get something going in the next few days that's meaningful, we will have to start thinking about what we might want to do in Congress," said Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery.

Usery said railroad and union negotiators today will explore in depth a controversial work rule change that blew up an earlier tentative two-year, 68-cent wage hike agreement for 45,000 shopcraft workers who now earn $3.60 per hour.

The negotiations resumed Monday after a federal judge on Saturday halted until Feb. 10 a shopcrafts strike against the Union Pacific and a nationwide lockout that had been called by the industry in retaliation.

Congress starts a long Lincoln's Birthday recess Feb. 10, the day the temporary restraining orders against both sides run out.

Usery said it was too early to tell how the congressional recess might affect any plans of President Nixon to introduce special railroad legislation.

William W. Winpisinger, vice president of the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists and chief negotiator for four shopcraft unions in the dispute, said if the unions can't resolve the disputed work rule, "Maybe we'll consider getting into a whole new ballpark."

That would mean renegotiating the entire package of wages and working conditions, he said.

Earlier, it was reported the union negotiators were trying to figure a way around the controversial work rule involving job jurisdictions without disturbing the proposed 68-cent wage package.

The proposed work rule change that torpedoed the earlier tentative agreement would have permitted members of all four unions to perform a limited amount of work in each others' job jurisdictions.

The Sheet Metal Workers, smallest of the four, voted it down out of fear of losing jobs to the other unions. Members of the Machinists, Boilermakers and Electricians unions approved it, but the four had agreed all must accept any settlement or none would.

Chief industry negotiator John P. Hiltz had no comment after Monday's session, but he had said earlier the railroads would give up the jurisdiction work rule only by lopping 17 cents off the 68-cent wage package.

G.E. Pact Reported In Danger Of Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor sources said today the General Electric Co. wage settlement, negotiated after a nationwide strike of more than three months, was in danger of being rejected by voting union members.

"There conceivably could not be enough votes here" to approve the settlement by the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, said one source.

"It's really unpopular out in the country," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists, the third largest of the 14 unions that total some 147,000 members in the strike.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, apparently responding to the reports that approval of the contract was in jeopardy, urged its acceptance.

"The contract does not satisfy all the needs of the GE workers, but it is a truly significant gain over GE's original offer," Meany said.

Well placed sources said the vote so far among some 80,000 IUE members was 36,000 to approve and 22,000 against approving the 40-month contract providing about 80 cents an hour.

A key vote was scheduled to come sometime today in Schenectady, N.Y. site of one of GE's largest plants with about 15,000 union members eligible to vote.

The machinist's union, with some 15,000 workers involved in various plants, said the outcome of its voting was still in doubt.

Meany said in his statement "The IUE General Electric Conference Board deserves warmest congratulations on a great collective bargaining victory.

"It spells the end of Boulwarism, that doctrine that has too long disgraced and discredited GE's labor relations policy," he said.

Boulwarism, named after former GE labor relations director Lemuel Boulware, centered on making a first contract offer on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, and then refusing to budge from it. It has been ruled an unfair labor practice by the National Labor Relations Board.

Novato Still Sees Hope School Funds

The Novato Unified School District may get about half the $226,000 federal funds for impacted districts budgeted this year in Novato, Supt. James G. Bunker last night told the trustees.

He said that nothing definite has been worked out in Congress. Under the compromise bill being developed as a substitute for the education bill President Richard M. Nixon vetoed, the Novato district will probably receive about half the money budgeted for this fiscal year. It may not receive any next fiscal year, Bunker said.

The Novato Unified School District board also:

ACCREDITATION — Received notice that San Marin High School has been accredited to June 30, 1972.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Approved holding summer school this year. It will be 30 days for high and junior high schools and 24 days for elementary schools.

VOCATIONAL — Voted to spend $11,040 in vocational education funds for auto shop and business machines at Novato and San Marin high schools, and testing handicapped students for vocational training.

COURSES — Approved additional course offered for junior and senior high school. The vote was 4-1 with trustee Carolyn Crabtree against and trustees Irving D. Chapman Jr. and William Schneeflock absent.

GIFT — Accepted $44 from the San Ramon Parent-Faculty Club for library books for the school.

Paris Talks Almost Sunk By Navy Missile Success?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secrecy surrounds it, but officers are saying privately one of the most successful Navy feats in Vietnam were two 1968 missile launches some admirals feared might undermine the Paris peace talks.

Involved, ironically, was the Navy's Talos missile, one of a series of ship-to-air weapons highly criticized in Congress in recent years as unreliable.

The Navy turns aside all questions about the incident, but sources report Talos missiles destroyed two North Vietnamese MIG jets in May and June of 1968.

The shots occurred in a combat setting in the Gulf of Tonkin but actually were more of a staged test of Talos' capability than a battle action.

The ship that launched them was not under attack nor, officers believe, did the MIG's suspect they were being targeted.

Generally credited with having a 65-mile range, the Talos missiles knocked down the two enemy planes as they flew along North Vietnam at distances variously estimated by officers at 78 to as much as 110 miles.

The first MIG was struck as it flew out of Hanoi May 23, 1968.

Only a few weeks before President Lyndon B. Johnson had gotten Hanoi to agree to negotiate by limiting the bombing of North Vietnam to that country's Southern Panhandle.

The second missile hit came in June, still in the early stages of the Paris peace talks.

Sources say the Pacific Command, which calls the shots for the 7th Fleet off Vietnam, twice has turned down requests by information officers to release information on the operation.

One hint of the activity came last August, however ,when the cruiser USS Long Beach was awarded a Navy Unit Commendation for destroying two MIG aircraft and helping in the destruction of three others.

The award praised the 16,000-ton, nuclear-powered guided missile cruiser for helping direct U.S. carrier-based planes shooting down three MIG's.

The citation then said without elaboration: "Even more significant, on two occasions direct aggressive action by the Long Beach combat culminated in the destruction of two additional MIG aircraft."

Hike Seen In Commute Bus Ticket Costs

Greyhound's 20-ride commute book is likely to go up by 85 cents to 95 cents unless the Golden Gate bridge board rescinds its toll raise for buses, Marin County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reported today at a meeting of the Marin County Transit District directors.

Transit directors voted 5 to 0 this morning, asking the Golden Gate bridge district board to reconsider the bus toll raise. Effective last month, the bridge toll on buses was raised from 13 cents to $1.

Greyhound reacted by applying to the state Public Utilities Commission for a raise in Marin commute fares by 95 cents, which will mean Marin commuters will pay about $1.90 per month more to commute to San Francisco by Greyhound.

Transit Director Dean N. Meyer also tried to get the transit board to support the Golden Gate bridge district's increase of commute books from $6.50 to $10, because the increased revenue is needed to finance an improved bus system between Marin and San Francisco.

However, Chairman John F. McInnis and Director Peter R. Arrrigoni Jr. objected. They declared that the commute book increase was made by the bridge district without adequate public explanation, and until such an explanation is made, the Marin County Transit District should not support the increase to $10.

William A. Gnoss and Edward W. Colthurst were absent this morning.

The Marin County Transit Dist t directors also:

OFFICERS — Reelected McInnis chairman and Gnoss vice-chairman of the transit district for 1970.

DEMONSTRATION GRANT — Tabled a request by the Marin County Transit Systems Inc. of Marin City to endorse its application for a federal or foundation grant to study intracounty transporation needs. Transit board members said the county transit district or the bridge district, rather than a private bus firm, may be a more appropriate agency to seek such demonstration grant..

Philosopher Bertrand Russell Dies At 97

PENRHYDEUDRAETH Wales (AP) — Britain today mourned philosopher Bertrand Russell, one of the great minds of the 20th Century and one of its most controversial figures.

Lord Russell died Monday night at his home in North Wales. He was 97.

A spokesman said Russell's fourth wife, Edith, was with him when he collapsed. He reportedly had been suffering from influenza.

Friends of the family said Russell will be cremated without religious ceremony or flowers Thursday. He was an agnostic.

Only the widow, other relatives and those who worked with the philosopher in his peace foundation will attend, the friends reported. Cremation will be at Colwyn Bay on the Irish Sea.

"This has come as a terrible shock to everyone," said Kenneth Coates, a director of the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation. "I spoke to Bertrand only a few days ago and he seemed in good health, still working on peace foundation projects."

The Times of London said "Bertrand Russell's claim to be remembered by history rests securely on his work in mathematical and symbolic logic and in philosophy on which his influence was pervasive and profound."

In recent years Russell, a lean man with sharp bird-like features and a shock of white hair, was in the vanguard of the militant opposition to nuclear armament and U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war.

The peace foundation he set up seven years ago held a tribunal in Denmark that in December 1967 found the united States guilty of genocide against the Vietnamese people. Russell did not attend, and the tribunal had no backing from any government.

Author of more than 60 books, Russell won the Nobel prize for literature in 1950 and was a member of the British Order of Merit, restricted to 24 members at any time. He was the third Earl Russell and the grandson of a British prime minister, the first earl.

Yet in 1940 his appointment to lecture at the College of the City of New York was revoked by a state Supreme Court justice who said the appointment was "an attempt to establish a chair of indecency." A woman taxpayer brought the suit because of Russell's open endorsement of trial marriage, premarital and extramarital sexual relations.

Few men prompted such extreme feelings as Russell did. He was reviled as a crank because of his antiwar views. Others regarded his as a sage. His conversation was dry and crackled with a biting wit that never lost its edge.

In his autobiography published just before his 95th birthday, Rusell wrote: "Three passions, simple but overwhelmingly strong, have governed my life: the longing for love, the search for knowledge and unbearable pity for the suffering of mankind." But only the longing for love was fully satisfied, he wrote.

Bertrand Arthur William Russell was born May 18, 1872. His parents died when he was 3; his grandfather, Lord John Russell, the former prime minister, raised him for three years, and after Lord Russell's death in 1878 his grandmother reared him. But the great event of his childhood, he wrote more than 80 years later, was his introduction at the age of 11 to Euclid and mathematics by his older brother.

"From that moment until Whitehead and I finished 'Principia Mathematica' when I was 38, mathematics was my chief interest and my chief source of happines," he wrote in his autobiography.

During World War I Russell went to prison for six months as a pacifist. After the war, Russell, a member of the Labor party, visited Russia, met Lenin and Trotsky and wrote a book, "The Practice and Theory of Bolshevism." He was one of the first intellectuals to warn of the dictatorial evils of Bolshevism.

Despite his World War I commitment to pacifism, he supported the war against Hitler.

Strawberry Marina Plan Is Revised

Eight recommendations for amending a plan for the proposed Strawberry Cove yacht harbor development were accepted last night by the Tiburon Planning Commission.

The commissioners also agreed to forward the changes to the Marin County Planning Commission which is presently studying a master plan for the area.

The recommedations to alter the development, which will include apartments and a restaurant, came from Wayne E. Moody, Tiburon planning director.

The changes would include permanent view easements to preserve views between buildings on the harbor, boat access easements over the water and parking areas below street level.

Moddy also asked that the developers, Clipper Yacht Co. of Sausalito and Leonard Fleischman, a Strawberry Cove land owner, dedicate a public waterfront park and reduce the planned marina in size to reduce necessary parking areas.

Other recommendations were purchase of a small parcel of property adjacent to Fleischman's property for inclusion in the development and a common access road to Strawberry Drive.

The commission also heard a detailed report of land use distribution in the city's proposed harbor plan for development of the downtown area. Phillip Buskirk, consultant who is helping to prepare the plan, agreed to submit a three dimensional map of the area under consideration at the planners' final public hearing on the plan Feb. 26.

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 3 the 34th day of 1970 with 331 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1913 the 16th Amendment, the income tax amendment, became part of the Constitution after ratification by Wyoming.

In 1917 the United States broke off diplomatic relations with Germany after that nation announced unrestricted submarine warfare.

In 1924 Woodrow Wilson died at his home in Washington.

In 1956 the Russians put an unmanned satellite on the moon. It was a soft landing.

A thought for the day: Jane Austen said, "Those who do not complain are never pitied."

Most Americans Now See Educational TV

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Four of every five persons are now within viewing range of educational television, the U.S. Office of Education reported.

Since federal funds became available to support ETV in 1963, the potential audience has grown from 103 million to 165 million. According to the Office of Education, only three states —Alaska, Montana and Wyoming —now are without educational television.

Grandstand Play At No-Trump Upsetting To An Old Kibitzer

"Harrumph," the Old Kibitzer said in a fiercely critical tone. And he got up from his chair and crossed the room to sit at another table. He wouldn't say much, except to mutter something about grandstand plays, but it was clear that some unusual maneuver had upset the old gentleman.

FIRST TRICK

"He left at the first trick of an ordinary no-trump hand," one of the players told me that night at dinner. And he wrote down the cards as well as he remembered them.

"The opening lead was the six of hearts," my informant told me, "and the ace won the trick."

NEEDS FINESSE

South can tell that West has led from a suit headed by Q-9-7 (if his lead of the six is a fourth-best card). Declarer will get only one heart trick and needs three spade tricks to make his contract. The best chance to get the spade tricks and still prevent the hearts from coming in is to take two finesses through East.

How does declarer get to dummy twice to finesse through East?

Now you have it! South must drop the king of hearts at the first trick! This was the grandstand play that annoyed the Old Kibitzer.

HEART TO DUMMY

Regardless of the return, South can lead a heart to dummy's jack to take a spade finesse and can return to dummy with the ace of diamonds to take another spade finesse. The rest is easy.

South goes down if he keeps the king of hearts. He cannot get to dummy in hearts to take a spade finesse, and therefore gets only eight tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 2 no-trump (22 to 24 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
S-6 5
H- Q 9 7 6 2
D- 8 4
C- Q 10 7 6
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts.

This response (forcing to game) gives partner a choice between four hearts and three no-trump as a final contract. He should bid four hearts if he has three or more hearts; but should bid three no-trump if he has A-x or K-x of hearts.

Weighty Alibi

HAVANT, England (UPI)— Champion jockey Terry Biddlecombe, in court on a traffic violation and faced with the loss of his driver's license, was allowed to keep the license after his attorney told the Judge Biddlecombe had to make hurried trips from the race track to a Turkish bath three times a week to keep his weight down.

$9,000 Robbery In Corte Madera

Two men posing as insurance agents yesterday robbed a Corte Madera woman of $8,500 worth of jewelry and $585 in cash and checks after tying her up at gunpoint, police reported.

Lillian Gellick of 1015 Meadowsweet Drive told police a man calling himself Larry knocked at the door of her secluded home at 10:30 a.m. and asked if she wanted to buy life insurance. She said no and started to close the door, but the man held the door open and produced a long-barreled gun, possibly a rifle, police said.

The gunman ordered her to tell where her stockings were kept, and his companion, who was called Bob, then got the stockings and tied Mrs. Gellick hand and foot. The gunman ordered her not to look up or he would shoot her or her four-year-old daughter, Tracy.

They then asked where the jewelry was kept and Mrs. Gellick told them.

The two took an Omega watch with 100 diamonds valued at $2,500, a gold bracelet with 15 diamonds valued at $5,000, a jade pendant of a Buddha holding a diamond valued at $250, and a diamond necklace valued at $700.

They also took $465 cash and two checks of $100 and $120.

Before leaving, the men warned her not to call police or her other daughter, Cathy Tucker, a Redwood High School student, would be killed.

Police picked up Miss Tucker at school and escorted her home.

A neighbor reported hearing a car door slam at the time of the robbery.

The gunman was described as 5 feet 11 inches, 155 pounds, thin and "clean cut" with dark hair. His companion was bearded and of medium build, and may have been wearing a salmon colored suit, police said. Both were Caucasian and appeared to be in their 20s.

Federal Cash Sought For Chicano Training

The Marin County Board of Education last night approved applying to the federal government for a $238,977 two-year program of job training and post-prison help for Mexican-American inmates of San Quentin Prison.

Project Empleo, as it is called, is budgeted at $115,173 for the first year and $123,704 the second. Chicano inmates would get academic and vocational training to fit them for jobs outside prison.

The board accepted bids from two firms for relocatable classrooms, reported administrative director Robert E. Spain. School districts in the county will be able to order portables at the quoted prices without going through the bid procedure again, Spain said.

Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa had a base bid of $13,416, and a bid of $15,595 for "modular component" portables. Compass Structures of Richmond had a base bid of $13,250, and a bid of $12,850 for the same structure with a redwood foundation.

The board accepted a seven-page set of guidelines for appeals procedures on interdistrict transfers. The guidelines spell out the steps to be taken by the county board, the school, the student, parents, the school districts involved and the county counsel, Spain said.

Marin County Board Of Education Also:

TRANSFER — Approved an intercounty transfer to allow Lauren Boyd, whose family has moved to San Francisco, to complete her sophomore year at Sir Francis Drake High School.

SPECIAL EDUCATION — Named trustee Lee C. Richardson Jr. as board representative on the special education advisory commission, a new group which will advise the board and the county office on all phases of special education.

OCCUPATIONAL EDUCATION — Accepted a list of organizations to be represented on the occupational education advisory council, and added the Marin County Board of Supervisors to the list. Letters will be sent to each organization asking them to name a council representative.

SUPPLIES — Approved bids from eight companies for a wide range of schoolroom supplies.

DIPLOMA — Awarded a diploma from Loma Alta High School to Cynthia Strouss.

HIRING — Hired Mary Kersh as a teacher of the aphasic class at San Clemente School at $10,862 a year; Beverly Levy as coordinator of volunteers at Marindale School at $220 a month for part-time work; Sandra Charshaf as a Marindale instructional aide at $2.60 an hour; Robyn Griffin and Curtis Cummings as instructional aides at the child development center at $2.60 an hour; and Doris Snyder as a bus driver at $2.73 an hour.

PSYCHIATRIST — Was told that psychiatrist and author Dr. Bernard Rimland, an authority on child autism, will visit the class for autistic children at Henry C. Hall School at 8 p.m. Feb. 17 to meet with teachers and parents.

MEETINGS — Set the next meeting of board committees for 8 p.m. Feb. 17 at the district office, and the next board meeting for 8 p.m. March 2 at Sunny Hills School, San Anselmo.

Novato Chamber Opposes Freeze

Unamimous opposition to the proposed moratorium on new building and rezoning was voted yesterday by the Novato Chamber of Commerce board of directors in a special meeting at the chamber offices.

Theodore R. Schuman, owner of Schuman Chevrolet, asked for the meeting so the chamber could take a firm position against the moratorium, according to secretary Billie Garl.

"We cannot afford to have Novato get that kind of image, one of stopping progress," Schuman said.

The proposed moratorium will come before the Novato City Council, the Novato Planning Commission and the Novato Downtown Study Committee at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

Foundation Adds Money For Loans

College of Marin Foundation directors last night added $1,000 to its emergency loan fund for short term loans.

Foundation treasurer Robert Soderblom said the $5,500 in the fund had been exhausted, and the additional funds were needed to aid students in buying books for the start of the new semester today.

The directors established an endowment fund for all memorial donations. Income from the fund will be used for scholarships.

The directors urged faculty and students to assume advisory roles to the foundation.

San Franciscan's Car Found In San Rafael

A stolen 1962 two-door blue Chevrolet with license plate BOG 907, ownd eby Andra Fitzgerald of San Franicso, was recovered today at 5:30 a.m. in a parking lot at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael police reported.

The patrolman reported he had seen the vehicle parked in the lot on two previous occasions, police said.

Chancellor, Staff Laud Dr. Nichols

The resignation of Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. as president of Sonoma State College has brought words of regret from Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke and the college faculty.

Nichols said yesterday he would relinquish the pressures of the presidency in favor of joining the college chemistry department as a professor next fall.

Chancellor Dumke said yesterday, "The nine years of remarkable growth and development of Sonoma State College, including the assembling of an outstanding faculty and staff, are a great credit to President Nichols' administration. I regret that situations have developed which make President Nichols feel compelled to seek a change of assignment, and I wish him the fullest measure of success."

The executive committee of the college Academic Senate lauded Nichols for his leadership in making Sonoma State one of the most innovative schools in the country.

"You have earned the trust and admiration of students, faculty and administrators during a time when pressure has produced turmoil on campuses throughout the world," the faculty told Nichols. "Nothing has occurred on this campus to endanger the integrity of the academic process during your presidency."

Treated For Pills

Carol A. Giovinazzo, 33, of 1825 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael was reported in good condition after treatment for an overdose of a barbiturate yesterday at her home.

Housing Board To Decide Ballot

A countywide housing ballot measure which, if passed, would open the door for more low-income housing in Marin will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Marin County Housing Authority, set for 7:30 in the Northgate seniors' housing development, 5 Golden Hinde Boulevard, Terra Linda.

Commissioner Vera Schultz will report on the status of the campaign for the measure.

The housing authority also will consider a recommendation currently before the Marin County Board of Supervisors to divide the housing authority and redevelopment agency administration and boards, now largely served by the same persons.

Rainfall Table Figures Corrected

Due to errors in computation, some of the figures in the Independent-Jouranl's daily rainfall table for Jan. 21-26 were incorrect.

The correct total to date Jan. 21 was 37.40. Correct 24-hour totals for the following five days were: Jan. 22, 1.92; Jan. 23, .38; Jan. 24, none; Jan. 25, 1.35; Jan. 26, none.

The first woman to drive an automobile from New York City to San Francisco was Mrs. Blanche S. Scott, who drove a 25-horsepower Overland on a trip that required 69 days in 1910.

Petition To Belvedere On Flood Action

By ERIK M. INGRAM

More than 200 irate homeowners petitioned the Belvedere City Council last night to take "affirmative and immediate action to prevent further flooding."

"The people of Cove Road and Lagoon Road are angry," Henry Cornell, accompanied by about a dozen signers, told the council as he presented them with the petition. "What are you going to do about it?" he asked.

TO FORM PANEL

His question was answered when the council's four members present voted unanimously to form a committee of interested Belvedere and Tiburon residents.

Councilman Meritt K. Ruddock was absent.

But a committee wasn't what some members of the audience had in mind.

If a committee is formed, Robert A. Davies of 160 San Rafael Avenue told the council, "You'll be talking to Tiburon for the next 100 years."

Mayor Thomas S. Price told the council he didn't like committees any more than anyone else. "But this is the way you start," he added.

The petition blamed last month's flooding in the Belvedere Lagoon area on building developments. Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel later said the "additional building" had occurred in the hills around Tiburon and had destroyed ponds which traditionally caught run-off water.

LONG A PROBLEM

Flooding had been a problem since 1966 and two plans for drainage districts have been prepared--one by each city, Drechsel said. However, neither city can agree on the others' plan, he added.

"Come March and dry weather, everyone forgets this problem," Price said. "I can assure you this won't happen this year."

hTe mayor suggested the two cities co-operate in dredging existing holding ponds. If done, the mayor added, the holding capacity could be doubled.

Mountain Play Auditions Set

Auditions for this year's Mountain Play, "Tamalpa," will be held Feb. 11 and 15 at Park School, 360 Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley.

The auditions on Wednesday, Feb. 11, will start at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, Feb. 15, at 2 p.m.

All major roles are open, including those for Tamalpa, a siren of the mountain; Wona, her best friend, Aw-Shawn-Nee, a beautiful but evil Indian; Piayutuma, an Indian brave, and Nikko, a male comedy-drama role.

Parts are open for "character" actresses and for men of the village. Children will not be auditioned.

"Tamalpa" will be directed by Dan Totheroh and presented at the Mount Tamalpais outdoor theater on May 17, 23, and 24.

Gunshot Exchange Called Accidental

A Marin City man injured by gunfire Saturday said yesterday the incident was accidental.

Robert Bradley, 35, of 931 Drake Avenue, said the accidental discharge of a single bullet from one gun wounded him and John Hill, 34, of 203 Drake Avenue.

The Independent-Journal reported Saturday that Marin County sheriff's officers said the incident was an exchange of gunfire following an argument between the men.

Hill was treated and released Saturday at Kaiser Foundation Hospital, and Bradley was reported in good condition yesterday at Marin General Hospital.

Sewer Line System Smoke Check Ordered

The Belvedere City Council last night authorized a smoke check on city sewer lines to determine where massive infiltration of water is occurring.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli told the council the system's main pump on Cove Road struggled to handle nearly one million gallons a day during six days in January. It averages 220 gallons a day. The added gallons, he said, were run-off water from January's storms.

Worried that a failure of the pump at a critical time might cover part of Belvedere in sewage, the council approved the testing.

The Belvedere City Council also:

WASTE DISPOSAL — Approved unanimously recommendations from the Marin County Management Conference that cities, towns and special districts contract or franchise for disposal of rubbish and join the county in a federally assisted study of efficient waste collection and disposal.

BALLOT MEASURE — Delayed appointment of a Belvedere representative to a committee studying a ballot measure on low-cost housing in the county. The council was told 6,000 to 8,000 new units will be built in the county, but not in Belvedere.

MEMBERSHIP — Approved unanimously a $15 membership in the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

BRIDGE AUTHORITY — Called for support by the council for a Golden Gate Bridge Authority, at a meeting on Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center, sponsored by the Golden Gate Bridge District.

CARMEL SUIT — Refused request for $200 from the City of Carmel in support of its suit against the state on legislation requiring disclosure of assets by public officials.

Accident Report Facts Corrected

The Independent-Journal erred yesterday when it reported Robin H. Rogers of San Anselmo stepped into the path of a car at the intersection of Fourth and B streets.

Police reports show Miss Rogers was crossing Fourth Street with the light when hit by a car turning right from B Street. Driver of the car was Gaylene R. Smith of Sausalito.

Benevest introduces the Instant Tax Refund:

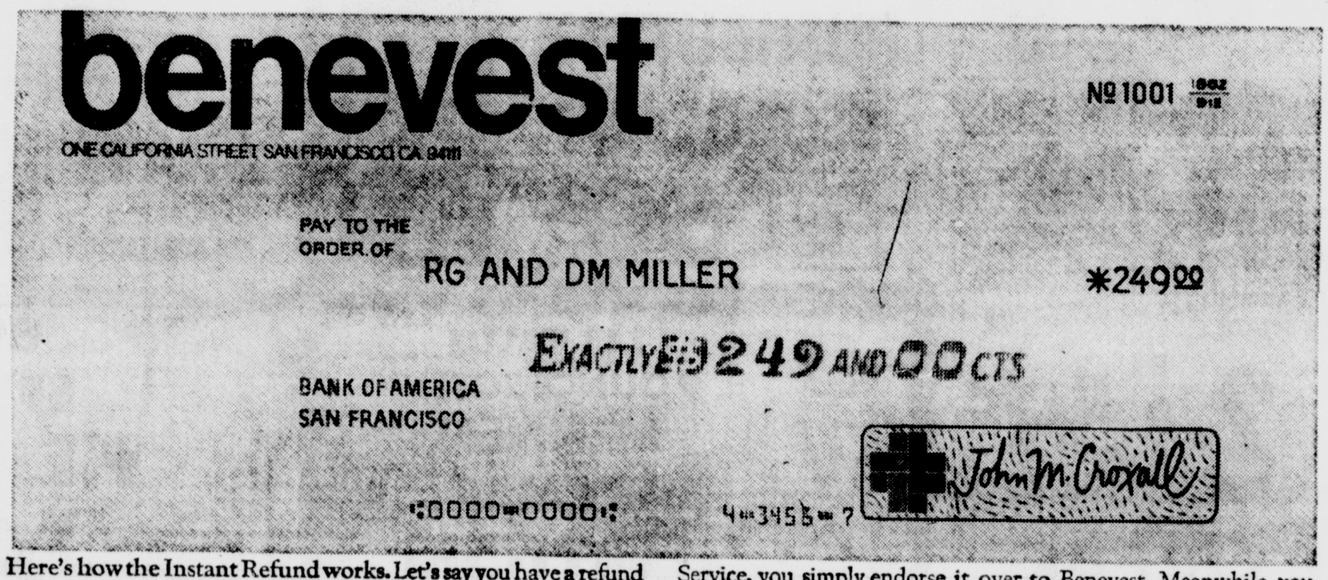
A new way to do your taxes. So thorough, so accurate that we back it up with our own refund money.

Benevest is a new way to do your income tax, using the new tax forms. Experienced tax accountants have joined computer experts to develop a system that prepares your tax return quickly, inexpensively, and accurately.

The secret is the use of high-speed computers to handle all the mathematics required by the new forms.

Since the computer does all the math, our tax people can concentrate on analyzing your personal financial situation, to make sure you get all the deductions you're entitled to.

And that's the only way to make sure you don't pay more tax than you need to. (In fact, that's why the government introduced the new forms.)



Here's how the Instant Refund works. Let's say you have a refund of $249 coming from the government. When you stop in at Benevest to sign your completed return, Benevest can have a $249 check ready for you—your full refund.
Later, when you get your $249 check from the Internal Revenue Service, you simply endorse it over to Benevest. Meanwhile, you have had your full cash refund to use any way you wish.
There is no special fee, no percentage, no extra charge of any kind. The Instant Refund is part of Benevest's service, subject, of course, to your approval and ours.

At last, a friendly computer. It's on your side.

The Benevest computers are programmed to find the lowest legal tax at every step of the way. There are always several ways to figure any tax return.

The computer swiftly and accurately figures all of them. Then it selects the best way from your particular point of view. Example: Suppose you decide to itemize your deductions. The computer also figures your tax using standard deductions. Then it chooses the way that gives you the lowest tax. And so on.

This would be almost impossible to do by hand—far too time consuming. But not for the computer.

DRAWINGS BY TOMI UNGERER

Extra services, no extra charge.

In addition to your Federal tax return, Benevest also prepares these documents at no extra charge:

California State Income Tax.

Quarterly estimates. If you are required to file them, Benevest prepares the necessary forms for you.

Retirement Income Credits. As a special service to over-65 taxpayers, Benevest automatically calculates retirement income credits and prepares the necessary documents at no extra charge. (Most tax services charge a substantial extra fee for this complicated calculation.)

How much does it cost?

Perhaps it sounds expensive. It isn't. The exact fee depends on how complicated your return is, just as with other tax services. But the use of computers helps keep the cost down and makes it possible to provide the Instant Refund as part of the service. Our people give you an accurate estimate of the cost before they start work on your return. (With or without the instant refund, your charge will be exactly the same.)

You'll like the Benevest way.

No waiting. Mail coupon or phone direct for an appointment at your most convenient Benevest office. (See below)

It's a good way to be sure you get immediate attention when you come in.

Permanent, comfortable offices. Benevest offices are spacious, well appointed and comfortable. They're open all year 'round. The people don't disappear after April 15.

Less than half an hour. That's all of your time it takes for the average return—including itemized deductions and everything. (You don't need to wait around while someone does arithmetic: the computer does it after you leave.)

You get 2 copies. One copy is for the Government, one copy for your records.

100% accuracy. The Benevest system has been tested for 2 years, and its mathematical accuracy is unconditionally guaranteed. The computer even rechecks every return, looking for the same things government computers look for.

Paris Concensus–Mid-Calf Hemline With Mini Hangover

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — The Paris openings of spring and summer fashion collections ended with Yves Saint Laurent's presentation, and one thing is clear: midcalf is most popular for the hemlines, although there is a strong miniskirt hangover.

Some designers do not hesitate to drop hemlines to around the ankles. In dressier dinner numbers they look elegant. The young dresses that hit midcalf take on a demure look instead of the aggressive mood of past seasons. They gain in charm and the mood is soft and often tender.

Although Cardin is against suits, Chanel, Givenchy and Balmain favor them. On many occasions the suit look proves to be a "costume" that is a dress worn with a tailored jacket.

Everyone is still doing some gypsy dresses, but they seem to be dated. Far newer is the Oriental harem trend, with Turkish trousers and a paisley turban. Evening gowns are subtly draped in soft opaque fabrics or sheer crepe Georgette touched with jewelled embroidery.

Borders in general are in for attention. On tunics, Cardin has a wide white edge, Patou edges his funnel-flared dresses in navy, in black or white at the neckline and hemline. Chanel borders her suits and coats at the collarless neckline and wrists in a dark braid. This does not eliminate the many crisp white touches, collars, and deep cuffs everywhere.

There are innovations in coats at many houses. The fitted redingote at Dior's with its unpressed back pleat shares honors with Cardin's straight slender back-slashed topcoats. Many coats are sleeveless and show the dress print. Ungaro does them in every length.

Colors are gay. Pastel ranges vie with bright orange, vermillion red, ultramarine blue. Navy is strong, putty and white are extremely important.

Ann Evju Is Bride In Ross

St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Ann S. Evju and Donald G Parsons. A reception followed at the San Rafael home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Evju.

Mrs. Lawrence J. Kline of San Anselmo was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Mark Evju of San Diego and Clementine Hyndman of San Rafael.

The bride's brother, Mark Evju, was best man, and ushers were another brother of the bride, Peter Evju of San Rafael, and Larry Bruns, also of San Rafael.

Ann was graduated from San Rafael High School and College of Marin. She is employed in the offices of Dr. R. B. Stewart in San Rafael. Mrs. Vivian Dietz of Berkeley is her grandmother.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parsons of Houston, Tex. He was graduated from high school in Houston and attended the University of Houston. The bridegroom is employed by United Ambulance Service in San Rafael. He is the brother of Claude Silvey and Rosemary Parsons, both of Houston.

The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

Sorority Officer

Joanne Cieri of Larkspur has been installed first vice president of Sigma Kappa Sorority on the University of California at Santa Barbara campus. She is a sophomore majoring in history.

DIOR'S 'NEW LOOK' of 1947, at left, is brought back to fashion 1970 by French and Italian high fashion designers. As in the example at right by Valentino, hemlines are dropping to mid-calf or below and a less aggressive look is coming in for the season. There is a strong miniskirt hangover from the Sixties in many collections, however. (UPI Telephoto).

Peace Corps Girl Returns From Peru

By DOROTHY NEWELL

"An area which could be developed in the Peace Corps would be more unity between the agencies and volunteers in those agencies," says Melinda Mixer, who recently returned after two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Chuquibamba, Peru.

"Being so far out in the country, I had trouble carrying out plans for my people," she said.

MELINDA, NOW living with her sister, Mrs. Juanita Reynolds in Novato, was graduated from San Francisco State College in 1967 with a degree in social welfare.

An extensive three-month course followed her graduation with two months of that time spent in Toluca, Mexico, learning Spanish, eight hours a day, six days a week.

She was sent to Chuquibamba, a town of approximately 2,000 persons, just north of the Chilean border where she taught people about agriculture, "I.E. fertilizer, seeds and plantings." She also taught nutrition, personal care and child care to the classes of third, fourth and fifth graders who were six to 19 years old.

She helped to build a school, traveling on horseback five miles to Arequipa for bricks, windows and other building supplies.

IN ALL, SHE taught in seven schools, two in Chuquibamba and five other schools in the country. She rode horseback to the five schools two days a week with traveling time to the pueblos about one and one-half hours each way.

She told of one of her most harrowing experiences. Leaving Chuquibamba at 7 a.m. she traveled between the high stone fences that separate the farms. Going around a corner she faced a herd of 20 bulls, bellowing and stampeding, being taken to market. She was horrified she said, but she got off her horse, placed a hat over his eyes to keep him from panicking and waited until the bulls had passed.

Her most embarrassing experience was when the seed that the agency gave her was found to be too old, and the garden they planted with the help of the townspeople failed to grow.

The altitude at Chuquibamba is 8,500 feet. She bathed in a secluded area outside her house in water that she heated on two bunson burners. Eletricity was available from 6 to 8 p.m., and if the dinner dishes were not washed before then, ice would form in the pan before morning. Heat for the home was a kerosene stove.

THERE WERE no prepared foods, so a meal beginning with soup could take three hours to prepare. The markets open at 6 a.m., Melinda said, and meat is hung out in the open. The main diet is potatoes and corn, and she said she found 25 different ways to prepare potatoes.

The Indians still chew coca leaves with limestone. Used as an escape the drug numbs the body, much like novocaine, Melinda was told, and turns the teeth green.

The mode of dress for the women features as many as five highly colored skirts, all worn at one time with a vest. The women particularly like large safety pins to decorate the vests or sweaters. With this costume they may wear a derby, go barefoot or wear sandals made of old tires.

"It was like living in a fishbowl," Melinda said about her life in Peru, but she said she really enjoyed the people, and they treated her well.

Melinda was born in Argentina when her father had an experimental farm there. She visited the area while living in Peru. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton Mixer Jr. now live in Santa Rosa. She also has a brother, Anthony Mixer of El Paso, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Ronald Johnson of Milpitas.

MELINDA HAS returned to an entirely different life and employment. She is a secretary for the Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

A part of Peru will follow her to the United States however. She is engaged to marry Emilio Villanueva Fernandez, a student in Arequipa, who plans to continue his education here.

MELINDA MIXER of Novato displays some of the souveniers she brought home with here from Peru, where she was a member of the Peace Corps at Chuquibamba, Peru, just north of Chile. She is wearing a poncho made of alpaca with a pattern on the border of llamas. She is holding a leather bag costing only $3 and on the table are two tapestries, woven into a burlap-tape material of wool. The one of the doll is just for "fun" said Melinda, but the lighter one, depicts the earth, sun and sea, she said.

Mrs. Carswell Eyes Capital

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Virginia Carswell, whose husband has been nominated for the U.S. Supreme Court, says she will miss her Florida home but is looking forward to Washington.

"I'll miss Lake Jackson and having my granddaughter next door, and my Thursday bridge group—they say they're going to fly up," said the dark-haired, 44-year-old Mrs. Carswell.

SHE AND her husband, U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals Judge G. Harrold Carswell, will be moving to Washington if his appointment is confirmed by the Senate.

"I've always enjoyed the beauty of Washington," Mrs. Carswell said, "I never get my fill of exploring the Smithsonian. Last time there I visited the old Episcopal Cathedral, it's such a historical city."

Mrs. Carswell has a reputation in Tallahassee for having a smooth hand with large parties at her home, such as a reception for 500 several years ago at the wedding of her younger daughter, Nan.

The Carswells' other daughter, Ramsay, 24, and her attorney husband, Fenton Langston, live next door.

JUDGE CARSWELL visits there every morning to play with his first grandchild, Virginia Ramsey, 7 months old.

Nan, 22, and her husband, Redford Cherry, an accountant, make their home in Tampa.

The Carswells' have two sons, George Harrold Jr., 20, a student at Tallahassee Junior College; and Scott, 18, a student at Florida State University.

The Carswells lead a relatively quiet social life. They take part in charitable events such as the Red Cross ball and enjoy regular bridge sessions with longtime friends.

DURING THE summer, the family spends a great deal of time at a beach house on Alligator Point, 40 miles to the south on the Gulf of Mexico. The house is owned by Mrs. Carswell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmons.

She met her husband in Bainbridge, Ga., where she was born and where he lived with his sister, Ellen Carswell Simmons, after his father died. Ellen Simmons was married to Virginia's uncle, Ramsay Simmons.

Mrs. Carswell is handy around the house. When newsmen's camera lights blew a fuse, she was the one who fixed it.

"She even has her own tool box—everybody has to borrow Mama's hammer," said the judge.

She has gone to the same hairdresser for five years, but is thrifty enough to manicure her own nails.

MRS. CARSWELL often wears her daughters' hand-me-downs.

"They're just too good to throw away," she said.

She's a size 8, or 10, depending on the style.

Muscle Spasm

Don't sit too long in one position. When the body is held in a fixed position, muscles are constantly contracting without letup. Unless the muscles are given a break or stretch, they tend to shorten and go into spasm.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

A Family Dinner Arrangement That Can Cause Hard Feelings

DEAR HELEN:

We were at a family reunion that included close friends. It was in a big hall and the adults were supposed to line up on one side for steak dinners, while the children got hamburgers in another part of the room.

That's just fine for kids. My little brother would eat a hamburger any day instead of a steak. But I'm almost 15--and the guy I wanted to sit with is 17. I got put over with the babies, but he ate with the adults. The cut-off was 16.

There was only one person near my age at that second table and he was a creep who acted like six.

It's no wonder kids my age shudder when someone mentions family dinner. I think they want us along mainly so we'll babysit the younger ones.

Besides, I prefer steak.

What do you think of this? —

SECOND STRING SUE

DEAR SUE:

I think the planners goofed. It's permissible to serve both hamburgers and steak at a big dinner where there are many small children, but the second-table thing not only causes hard feelings among teens but usually becomes a food-throwing bedlam.

As you say, it's no wonder young people groan at family reunions. Here's one who doesn't—and her thoughts are so refreshing I want to share them with my readers:

DEAR HELEN:

Last night after all the guests had gone and the last dish was finally put away, I got to thinking about family reunions and put my thoughts down on paper. Mom suggested I send them to you, so here is:

What Is A Family Reunion?

A family reunion is being informed by some dozen relatives that you've certainly grown. (You mean everyone else hasn't shrunk?)

It's the chance to show off the new color television . . . then an argument between your brother and cousins over which game to watch, while the younger kids shout for comics. But the dispute settles itself nicely when the television refuses to function.

A reunion is eagerly watching for the arrival of a distantly related family with their cute college-freshman son—only to find out he is spending the weekend at his girl friend's home.

It is Granddad falling asleep during Grace.

It is two drumsticks, and three small cousins.

It's making a wish on the wishbone and having both ends break half way up.

A reunion is everybody talking at top voice—and then a sudden quiet lull, just as you say ot an understanding second cousin, "But he kisses so icky." Oh boy, the kidding.

It's holding the newest baby, but not having to change his diaper.

It's teasing your favorite nephew, and playing street-ball after dinner.

A reunion is everyone very politely eating the squash ambrosia you thought looked so fantastic in the cookbook.

It's your brother dreamily eating the contents of the cornucopia centerpiece. ("Oh, is that what is was?")

It's cleaning up and trying to fit the leftovers into the refrigerator. ("What should we do with all this squash ambrosia?")

It's doing the dishes with your two female cousins in a fit of giggles.

A family reunion is for putting aside your unhappiness and discontent and realizing how lucky you are to have such nice people. If I could live the last one over again, I wouldn't change a minute of it. — THANKFUL

Dad Builds A Home Computer

By JACQUELINE SNYDER

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Some old junk Jim Sutherland brought home from the office is now regulating the furnace in his home, selecting channels on his television, typing papers for his wife and helping his children with their homework.

Sutherland, a computer designer for Westinghouse Electric Corp., bought some obsolete parts from the company and built Echo IV, an electronic computer for home operation, in the basement of his home.

It took Jim six months to design and build Echo IV, housed in a white cabinet along one wall of his basement work room. Since he completed it about three years ago, he's been busy writing programs to make it operate various appliances in his home.

"The real fun of a home computer," Sutherland says, "is when you can tie into the apparatus you're using."

"For instance, I plan to hook up the television picture tube to the system so that Echo can communicate with the family through an unused channel," he explained. "On school nights, the set will switch to that channel at a certain time and remind the children to go to bed."

Jim's three children, including 4-year-old Jay, are learning about computer operations through their father's hobby. Sally, 9 was able to explain the lights and buttons on the small television control board.

"When they all light up, it mean's it's messed up," she said. And she knew which button would remedy the problem.

The computer can analyze math problems quickly for 13-year-old Ann and Mrs. Sutherland said the editing feature of the computer typewriter in her kitchen came in handy when she was preparing a term paper for a night-school course in computers.

Since the system retains only the last thing typed in a certain space, she can simply go back and type over errors, then direct the computer to reprint, producing a perfect copy.

Mrs. Sutherland, a home economist, also plans to program recipes into the machine so she can call for one from the memory bank whenever she needs it.

"It won't be long until the computer will be taking care of the bookkeeping for our household," Mrs. Sutherland said.

JIM SUTHERLAND, a computer designer for Westinghouse Electric Corp., shows his wife, Ruth, a logic board from the computer he designed and built from obsolete parts he bought from the company. It controls the television and stereo, among other things in the home. He hopes to program it to play games with Ann, 13, Sally, 9, and Jay, 4. (AP Wirephoto)

Phillip Smith Is Elected

Hike In Classroom Allotment Asked

Teachers, principals and the superintendent last night asked the Tamalpais High School District board to boost the classroom equipment allotment for the rest of the school year, but the board remained unbudged and asked for specifics on the need for more money.

The maintenance and equipment allotment was cut from a proposed $60 to $55 per student late in budget session last year, in order to keep district reserves above the desired $1.3 million figure.

Now, according to a report by business director Frank A. Cassou, it appears the extra $5 could be restored for the spring semester without endangering the reserve figure, and would cost $17,775.

Cassou said many teachers had planned their courses with the higher figure in mind and some classes had been disrupted by running short of money for supplementary books and materials.

The Tamalpais District Teachers Association asked for the restoration, and association president Robert O. Bachelder said the money would go for paperbacks, laboratory experiments, textbooks, mimeograph equipment and the like.

Trustee David R. Ring elicited from Cassou that at $60 the district ranked first in 12 Bay Area districts for the allotment, but Bachelder challenged "Is it quality or economy you want in this district?...Are you afraid of being first? What do you want to be?"

Principal Harold Allison of Sir Francis Drake High School said Drake lives within its budget, but found it "more difficult this year than ever before." The same situation exists at Tamalpais High School, Principal Raymond J. Bell said.

Trustee Robert W. Corlett moved to restore the $60, but the motion died without a second.

"We have a responsibility to live within a budget," Ring said. "I'm ready to listen to specifics, (but) to justify this the board needs more than a general demand of the need for more money."

The board closed the discussion by asking Supt. Robert D. Torrey to learn from the three principals what specific programs are most in need, and to inform the board Feb. 16.

Tamalpais High School District Board Also:

SAFETY—Heard a complain by the Tamalpais Federation of Teachers about unsafe conditions at Tamalpais. The teachers cited a low-hanging awning, speeding in parking lots, and seven places where sidewalks are steep or slippery and need non-slip surfaces or terracing. Off campus, sidewalks are needed so students can walk safely to school, the teachers said. Bell said several of the slick spots have already been improved and work is planned on others.

BUILDING—Reaffirmed its intent to go ahead with the second phase of the "immediate building needs program" adopted in January, 1969, although first phase work has gone over budget to leave only $776,873 instead of $996,100 for the second phase. First phase included construction of portable classrooms and renovation at Redwood High School. Second phase is to include a lecture hall and a multi-use center at Drake, a girls' gym, student center and rest rooms at Redwood, and renovation and a student center at Tamalpais.

RETIREMENT—Accepted the resignation of Herman C. Graves, head of business education at Drake, Graves, who has been in the district since 1943, is retiring at the end of this year.

LIBRARY—Passed a resolution supporting the Mill Valley library's request for financial support from Marin County.

GIFTS—Accepted the gift of $200 worth of electronic equipment from William Robertson of San Anselmo, and a book, "The Inaugural Story," from Marin Federated Republican Women, both for use at Drake.

LEAVE—Granted an unpaid leave to Penny Nelson, Redwood counselor, for the spring semester of 1971.

STRIKE—Took no action on a request by Richard H. Bradshaw III, assistant librarian at Tamalpais, that the board take a position on San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike of the Independent-Journal. "We all have our private wars with the I-J," said chairman Bette Wallace. "But it's all good clean dirty fun."

Maritime Academy Deadline March 1

Young men who want to enter the California Maritime Academy in Vallejo in August of this year must apply by March 1 to the academy's director of admissions, P.O. Box 1392, Vallejo, the academy has announced.

Candidates must by youths between 17 and 22, with a high school diploma. All candidates must take College Entrance Examination Board tests not later than March 7.

Dates For Sonatas

The College of Marin's Music Department will present all of Beethoven's violin sonatas in a series of concerts Feb. 6 and 27 and March 20 at 8:30 p.m. in room 72 of Choral Hall of the Fine Arts Building. The correct dates were omitted from a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Judge Finds One Guilty In Land Fuss

A Marin Municipal Court judge yesterday found a Tiburon man guilty of battery against his neighbor and acquitted the neighbor and his wife of misdemeanor charges stemming from a fracas last November that climaxed a long-standing and backyard feud.

However, Judge Hadden W.Roth, after convicting James Lewis Green and acquitting Mr and Mrs. Nathaniel Marans, said that he did not wish his decision to be "construed as an endorsement of the conduct of the Marans or a taking of their side in the dispute."

The judge found that Green was innocent of maliciously destroying property (a fence post) belonging to Marans, found Marans innocent of battery against Green and Mrs. Marans innocent of disturbing the peace by shouting at the Greens.

The charges arose from a skirmish on Nov. 9 in which Green allegedly used the fence post as a weapon and Marans reportedly wielded garden clippers.

The couples have feuded for about two years over a tiny strip of land which each claims.

Roth made it clear yesterday that he was not ruling on the long list of "incidents" which have high-lighted the feud, only the Nov. 9 occurrence.

During six days of testimony the judge, who heard the case without a jury, learned of a long series of events which included mangled honeysuckle vines, strategic placing of a omposit strategic placing of a compost heap and outdoor lights.

Both couples told of repeated calls to various officials, including police, fire department, district attorney and finally, the grand jury, to complain of each other's behavior.

Roth set sentencing for Green for March 13.

Organ Scholarship Competition Is Set

The Redwood Empire Chapter of the American Guild of Organists will hold a scholarship competition for organists under 21 on May 5 in the auditorium of the Sonoma Community Center.

Further information, including entrance fees and application blanks, may be obtained from G. Franklin Morris, P.O. Box 853, Sonoma.

Appeal Plan Adopted On Long Hair Policy

The Tamalpais High School District board last night adopted an appeals procedure for students objecting to the Redwood High School ban on long hair for athletes.

The board then set next Monday night to hear appeals from 15 Redwood students appealing the hair rule, turning down an adult's request to hear some of the cases last night.

The Redwood group was put in a squeeze play by the Redwood athletic department, which ordered signups for track to be held today, instead of the last week of February as has been the practice for the past two years. Practice starts in March.

The aim, according to Gordon Pusser, father of two of the athletes, was to make all 15 ineligible for the entire season if they appealed and lost.

The board circumvented that possibility by ruling that the students, if they lose their appeals, will still be eligible if they then cut their hair.

The board then quickly approved proposed athletic rules for Sir Francis Drake High School which include the same wording as Redwood's on athletes' hair — "clean shaven with hair out of the eyes, trimmed above the ears, and tapered above the collar in the back."

Supt. Robert D. Torrey recommended the board approve the rules, since Redwood's had been debated at length before being approved.

Torrey added, however, that if Redwood's rules had not been approved he would not recommend approval of Drake's. The justification for the Drake rule, he said, was on a philosophical basis which does not meet the criteria requested.

"I don't see that the document explains how high morale . . . is accomplished by some crew cuts and some hair to the collar, but somehow is lost when it goes below the collar," Torrey said.

The 15 Redwood students are to submit written appeals by Thursday noon for next Monday's hearing. At the hearing, they may add oral pleas.

The only other speaker will be a spokesman for the athletic department defending the school's position. No other witnesses and no public participation will be allowed, according to the procedure.

Koch And Sons Ordered To Remove Two Billboards

Corte Madera town councilmen voted unanimously last night for removal of two large billboards at H. Koch and Sons at the town's entrance on Highway 101 over the protest of the firm's attorney who threatened to take the issue to court.

The attorney, Steven J. Dedina of San Francisco, argued the signs, each 27-feet high comprising a total 1200-square feet, had been put up with a permit before the 1958 zoning ordinance restricted sign size to 200-square feet.

He said the luggage manufacturing factory need the signs for identification because "it is in a hole off the side of the highway."

When Dedina declared that a denial would lead to court action, David I. Freed of 35 Harbor Drive, rose from the audience saying, "the citizens are exhausted," so let the matter "go to court as quickly as possible."

The hassle over the signs started last June when the council made removal of the signs a condition of approval of plans for a 72,000 square-foot expansion of the factory.

On Dec. 8 on a recommendation of the board of design, the Corte Madera Planning Commission refused an application for the signs.

Behr Opens Office For Senate Bidding

Former supervisor Peter H. Behr, candidate for the Republican nomination to the Senate seat held by John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has opened Marin campaign headquarters at 1007 A Street, San Rafael.

Behr also announced his selection of Mrs. Aline McClain of Mill Valley as campaign coordinator.

Aid To Ballet

The Marin Civic Ballet has been awarded a $500 grant by Belvedere Scientific Fund. The funds, along with proceeds from the performance of the Nutcracker, will be used to purchase new equipment, Mrs. Max Thelen Jr., has announced.

Dog Show Is Approved; Noise Clause

The Marin County Dog Training Club can hold a dog show at the town park June 21 if it keeps things quiet, Corte Madera town councilmen decided last night.

Over the arguments of Mayor Edward W. Colthurst that "parks are for people," the council voted 3-2, with Colthurst and Councilman Byron D. White dissenting, to allow obedience trials as long as the sound produced was subdued.

"If you think sound will be subdued, you're dreaming," White told the council.

Fees collected from the show could help "to get the park back in condition," Councilman Harol B. Wagstaff, countered, adding "the amplification of sound" could be controlled.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

HOUSING — Heard a report on the low-cost housing proposition for the June election by Donald A. Stutsman, executive director of Marin County Housing Authority and unanimously elected Councilman Robert P. Simmons as Corte Madera's representative on the county wide advisory committe studying the proposal.

RECREATION — Unanimously approved recommendation of the park and recreation commission for negotiation with San Rafael Park and Recreation Department to supervise a program of youth activities in two school and the park and gave permission for the remodeling of a town-owned building at 500 Tamalpais Drive as a recreation center.

ZONING — Unanimously approved prezoning to single family dwelling the Lucky Drive Annexation and set a hearing for March 2 at 8 p.m. in the council chambers on calling a special election in May on whether the more than seven acres on Lucky Drive should be annexed to the town.

SIGNS — Voted 4-1, with Wagstaff opposing, to allow variance requests on the sign ordinance by businessmen seeking non-conforming signs.

Jail Sentence On Bad Check Charge

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Alzepher Johnson, 41, of Marin City, to 15 days in the county jail after she pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing a bad check with intent to defraud on Feb. 21, 1969, in San Rafael.

She had earlier been accused of passing the $173 check.

Marin Students Get Environment Proposal Passed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—A delegation of eight Marin high school students successfully guided a bill through the YMCA Model Legislature last weekend to require deposits on beverage bottles and cans.

The bill was the only one of 78 measures considered that dealt with problems of environment.

Merrily Milmoe of Redwood High School testified before the Civil Affairs Committee Friday that the bill would cut down on the littering of bottles and cans.

"To start on a journey of a thousand miles, you must take the first step," she said.

The committee approved the bill, calling it the most important measure it had considered, and sent it to the Model Assembly, where it was approved by a wide margin.

After narrowly passing in the Model Senate, the bill was signed by Gov. Tony Martin of Berkeley.

Sheryl Barnard and Judy Hartman of the San Rafael YMCA accompanied the students.

A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY TURNS TO BOATS

After weeks of rain, a few sunny days turn one to the green thoughts of spring. Mrs. Jeff McAndrew of 50 Grande Vista, Novato, enjoys such a pensive moment in Novato's Pioneer Memorial Park, while son Jeffy, 4, skippers his boat in the park's new sailing pond. While rain and sun combined to paint a bright green lawn the other day, the slightly muddy water was a reminder of storms past and others, perhaps to come before the rainy season ends.

Assessment District For Street Work

A $180,000 assessment district for street improvements was approved last night by the Rohnert Park City Council.

City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said the work woudl extend Avram Drive to Santa Alicia Drive and Santa Alicia from Arlen to Alicia Park.

A public hearing on the plan was set for March 16 at 7 p.m. Callinan said the plan is in conformity with the city master plan for street development.

The Rohnert Park City Council also:

NICHOLS — Approved a resolution of commednation of Dr. Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., who resigned yesterday as Sonoma State College president, citing his community service.

APPOINTMENT — Named Mrs. Rose Sweeney and Armando Flores to the cultural arts commission to bring the group to full membership.

HOME CARE — Granted the request of Mrs. Betty Reynolds to operate a family care center at ther home at 7524 Blair Avenue. She plans to care for four retarded women.

SEWER — Agreed to study the possibility of extending sewer service to property owned by Chris Knudtsen on the west side of Highway 101.

PHEASANTS — Asked the chamber of commerce and recreation commission to study the possibility of starting a pheasant club on 50 acres of unused city property near the sewage disposal plant.

State, Sierra Club Seek Shoreline Access

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The State and the Sierra Club joined Monday in legal attempts to protect the public's right to use timeworn roads or paths across private property to beaches.

They presented arguments before the State Supreme Court in cases involving Santa Cruz and Mendocino beaches.

Time, Money Ruin Novato Park Idea

Time and money last night punctured the Novato City Council's short-lived dream of 428 acres for a park west of San Marin High School along Novato Boulevard and north up Bowman Canyon.

J. C. Garlick presented his plan of splitting the 856-acre ranch into several parcels before a joint meeting of the council and the parks and recreation commission. He would sell half of these parcels to the city for $500,000 the same price as the city is considering buying 67-acre O'Hair property at Novato Boulevard and Sutro Avenue.

"The city can buy it for so much down and so much per year," he told the council. Details could be worked out later, but he needed an early commitment, he added.

Garlick said that he had other partners in the ranch. They are putting pressure on him to sell half of it so that they can finance the development of the other half, he said.

"The man has made a generous offer. He can't take time and the city needs time," said Mayor Harley A. McAskill.

The mayor left the door open to future negotiations if Garlick has not sold and the city has the finances at some future date.

The Lord made this area so beautiful like a park that it ought to be kept that way," Garlick said.

Councilman J. Wayne Womack said that the land would have to be parceled by the state because the city would be buying it.

"That could take 15 to 18 months," Womack said.

City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. said that such a deal had many legal difficulties which could not be worked out in a short time.

"The proposition is fantastic," said Councilman Babe Silva, who first aired it at last Tuesday's council meeting.

He said that Garlick was used to dealing with private firms where decisions can be made immediately.

"Things just do not work like that in government. It took me a long time to learn it, but it's true," Silva said.

Garlick flew in from Salt Lake City and spent yesterday afternoon discussing the sale with City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Palmer.

Garlick thanked the council for its consideration of his proposition and said he would have future dealings with the council as he would annex the land to the city when he started his development.

Suspected Con Artist Is Held

A Santa Rosa man was arrested yesterday by Petaluma police on suspicion of grand theft from an elderly man.

Richard Perry Helms, 31, was booked into the city jail for arraignment today in Southern Sonoma Municipal Court. Police said they received a call from Robert Koenitzer, a loan officer at the Golden West Savings and Loan Association, that Merrill La Clair, 79, of Petaluma, had withdrawn $2,500 from his account on Jan. 23 and yesterday wanted a check made out to Helms.

Two Plead Guilty To Robbery

Two men accused of kidnaping, armed robbery and car theft in the Thanksgiving night abduction of a Homestead Valley man pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the armed robbery charge, and the other counts were dismissed.

Judge E. Warren McGuire set sentencing for Larry David White, 20, of San Rafael, and Stuart Harry Amey, 20, of Mill Valley for March 9.

A third suspect, Clark Anderson, also known as Steven Room, is still being sought by authorities.

The victim, Calvin C. Gaare, 39, told officers he met the three men in a San Rafael bar and went to the apartment of one of them.

He said the other two then arrived and he was forced to take pills which made him lose consciousness. He said he awoke the next morning in Hayward, stripped of his pants, his wallet and his car. His car was later found abandoned in Utah.

Ross Hospital Doctors Elect

George Oliva, San Anselmo general practitioner has been named president of the Ross General Hospital medical staff.

Administrator John C. Siemens announced that Dr. Oliva was appointed by the hospital nominating committee to succeed Dr. Charles Hoffman of San Rafael.

Other new officers are vice president Laurence Friedman, an internal medicine specialist and secretary Edward Brennan, psychiatrist.

Petalumans Reassured On Sewage

Honesty in reporting and a true effort for improvement led to Petaluma's being named as a target in the state's anti-water pollution fight, the city council heard last night.

City Engineer David A. Young said that reports issued to the news media by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board were incorrect and that Petaluma is not listed sixth on the "most unwanted" list, but actually trails at least 37 other polluters.

Young said the city staff carried out not only the letter of the law, but also the spirit and has sent more test samples than required and always sent the worst samples in the hope of receiving constructive criticism from state experts.

"We could legitimately submit only good reports," Young said, "but we've tried to be honest. It's actually just a statistical guessing game."

He said the control board needs a better method of interpreting reports and samples submitted by possible polluters to get an accurate picture of where problems actually exist.

Young said the city is not in danger of coming under a cease and desist order and that a full report with recommendations will be prepared by district engineers at his request.

The Petaluma City Council also:

DISCLOSURE — Received a letter from the planning commission stating opposition to the disclosure of assets law and approved a resolution showing council opposition and calling for immediate legislation to delay its enforcement.

SHOPPING CENTER — Approved the rezoning request of the Golden Eagle Milling Co. to change the industrial zoning to commercial on 6.5 acres on East Washington Street at the Petaluma River to permit construction of a shopping center.

EQUIPMENT — Authorized the purchase of an automatic chlorinator for use at the municipal swimming pool.

REZONING — Approved the request of Bundesen Realty to rezone 15 acres on Lakeville Highway at Casa Grande Road from agriculture to light industrial.

ABAG — Heard a presentation from Talbert W. Bean, mayor of Sonoma, on the advantages of membership in the Association of Bay Area Governments. The council said it would consider action on joining at a special meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Ali Akbar College Sets Music Courses

The spring session of the Ali Akbar College of Music opened this week at the Creative Music School, 1623 Fifth Avenue in San Rafael.

Both registration and classes are held at the Creative Music School. The Ali Akbar College offers instruction in classical Indian music. The staff is headed by sitar master, Indranil Bhattacharya.

Old Coleman School Abatement Discussed

A continuing crackdown by the City of San Rafael to abate old, nonstandard buildings may move next against the former Coleman School building at Grand Avenue and Linden Lane. (Another San Rafael City Council story, page 1.)

Chief Building Inspector Jack Coates, reporting to the city council last night on the abatement program, said he would like to discuss with City Atty. David Menary Jr. a move against the old building, which has been untenanted since the county library and public works department moved from it to the Civic Center seven years ago.

Councilmen agreed the building should be abated.

Coates reported that two garages extending over creeks had to be removed during recent heavy rains as they were about to fall into the creeks. He said there will be a public hearing March 2 on the cost involved.

One problem arising from the abatement program is the lack of inexpensive housing close to the downtown area for elderly people of small means, Coates noted.

"We need some public housing for old people who are living in buildings near the downtown area which really should be condemned," he said.

Councilmen were quick to point out that nobody has been ejected from his home by abatement proceedings. Coates agreed, but said abatement of substandard buildings is delayed by the fact that elderly renters have no place to move.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

TRUCK — Awarded contract for supplying a new one and one-half ton truck to DeLong Chevrolet Co. at $3487.58 including sales tax, subject to check of the specifications by the city manager. DeLong was the only bidder.

AWARD — Honored Pat Hetherton, who recently resigned from the planning commission. Mayor C. Paul Bettini presented Hetherton a framed certificate citing his 16 years of exceptional service on the commission.

DRIVER LICENSE — Passed a driver license ordinance to make city law conform to the state vehicle code.

ELECTRICAL PERMITS — Adopted a new schedule of electrical permit fees which Coates said brings city fees in line with those of the county. The new schedule has been adopted by Novato and it is hoped to make it uniform in all of Marin's cities, he said.

PROPERTY SALE — Delayed until April 1 closing of escrow on the portion of the city corporation yard property sold to Dexter Pontiac. City Atty. David Menary Jr. said Robert A. Roumiguiere, realty broker who arranged the sale, had refused an extension for payment of his $16,500 commission, so, Dexter had paid him that amount, to be credited toward the purchase.

COMMISSION APPLICANT — Received a letter from Willis K. Elliott asking appointment to the planning commission vacancy, but delayed action until Feb. 16 in hope of more applications.

CITY-COUNTY PLANNING — At suggestion of City Mgr. James H. McCown, scheduled for Feb. 16 discussion of joining the city-county planning council, of which all cities except San Rafael and Larkspur are members.

Moving swiftly, the council disposed of its entire agenda, including measures for the June 2 ballot, in one hour and five minutes.

Blasting Caps Stolen From Larkspur Quarry

A weekend burglar stole 198 blasting caps and a detonator from the Hutchinson Company rock quarry on East Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Larkspur police reported today.

Police said someone broke into the company's explosives shed between Friday evening and 7:50 a.m. yesterday when an employee discovered the theft.

Taken were 139 electric explosive caps, 59 fuse caps, and a plunger-operated detonating box.

A radiator was also stolen from a nearby truck during the weekend, but police said it probably was taken by another thief since a door was taken from the truck several weeks ago.

Value of the caps and detonator was set at $250. The caps can only be exploded intentionally, police said, but could cause injury if exploded at close range.

Novato Mother Asks $250,000 In Fatal Crash

The mother of a 16-year-old Novato girl, who died last year five hours after a car crash in Novato, filed suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court asking $250,000 and charging that the youth who drove the car was under the influence of alcohol as well as being careless and negligent.

Shirley F. Wright said that her daughter, Cadice Louise, was a passenger in a car driven by Reginald Bruce Johnson, 21, of Novato. His car crashed into a fence on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, officers said.

Although Johnson was injured, two other young persons escaped serious injury in the crash.

Mrs. Wright also named 22 John Does in the suit as well as Johnson as being responsible for the death of her daughter.

Argentina has an area of 1,072,067 square miles.

Tax Talk 'Off The Record'? No, Thanks, Gov. Reagan!

The following telegram was received by the editor of the Independent-Journal yesterday:

"I would like to invite you or your representative to a private background session concerning California's budget and plans for a sweeping tax reform program at 10:30 a.m. until noon on Wednesday, Feb. 4. The meeting will be held at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, Comstock Room. State Controller Hugh Flournoy and Finance Director Verne Orr will attend to assist in answering your specific questions. We hope to inform you fully regarding the details of the budget and tax reform and I have asked that the meeting be off the record so that there may be a candid and frank discussion. Please call my press office by noon Tuesday, Feb. 3, with your acceptance or the name of the person who will represent you. Looking forward to seeing you. Sincerely,

Ronald Reagan
Governor of California."

THIS IS THE FIRST time we have heard of a governor of California proposing to talk to the press about the budget and taxes "off the record."

Governor Reagan's suggestion "that the meeting be off the record so that there may be a candid and frank discussion" appalls us.

If there is anything about which the people of California need a candid and frank explanation from their governor it is the tax picture.

The state government's hand is in every man's pocket. Certainly every man would like to know how much it is going to take out of his pocket—and why.

If Governor Reagan expects support on tax reform, he must be willing to talk candidly and frankly to the people of California who pay the taxes.

THE ROLE of the newspaper is to inform the people. When Reagan proposes that he discuss the budget and taxes "off the record" with newspaper representatives, he is in effect asking the press to be party to withholding of information from the people. He is, whether he realizes it or not, trying to subvert the purpose of the press.

The tremendous advantage of the American free press over the controlled press in dictator countries is that it can tell the people frankly and candidly what it finds out about their government. Sometimes the press has difficulty finding out — because elected officials and government bureaucrats know that if it does find out, it will tell the public.

Governor Reagan's "off the record" conference on the budget and taxes is an attempt to put the press in possession of facts it cannot then tell the people. He is attempting, whether he knows it or not, to substitute a controlled press for a free press.

OUR ANSWER to Governor Reagan's telegram is our usual answer to proposals that the press be admitted but the public barred from what is the public's business:

No, thanks! We will be pleased to have a representative present — but only with the understanding that he can report what he learns to our readers.

That's what we're here for.

"I understand he's next in line for the U.S. Supreme Court if we turn down Carswell!"

Commuters Want Transit System But Don't Want To Pay For It

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

A fair number of Marinites squealed at the price hike for Golden Gate Bridge commute books. They don't object to the district buying them a transit system–they just don't want to pay for it.

We can just imagine their reaction when they encounter the inevitable westward move an imaginative proposal taking root in New York City. The idea is to at least double tolls into Manhattan to subsidize rapid transit.

San Francisco, like Manhattan, is something of an island, so the idea would work as well here. It hasn't been tried even in New York yet, but steadily escalating subway fares are sure to put steam behind such an idea.

The bridge district hasn't even mentioned doubling tolls, but it has pointed out that its own considerable reserves cannot afford the full cost of a transit system. So more money will be needed.

NEW YORK TIMES' columnist Tom Wicker, writing about the idea in New York, said it would "improve the quality of city life for everyone." Congestion would ease in streets and parking facilities, and the major source of air and noise pollution would be cut "with splendid consequences for everyone's lungs, eardrums and nerves"

Also, fewer police would be diverted from crime to traffic, and the persistent automobile commuter would at least face less traffic.

As a Marin commuter recently told the bridge board, there is no such thing as the divine right of the automobile.

WE HAVE discovered in the Saturday Review, incidentally, that early steam automobiles were partly done in by an epidemic of hoof-and-mouth disease in the early 1900s. It seems that the epidemic caused the removal of public water troughs, the very source of relief for many a steamer gasping for more water.

Now, if steamers make a comeback to meet the need for a smog-free engine, perhaps we also could bring back the troughs. Then we'll be all set again for horses, which, when well-behaved, create little pollution.

FEDERAL legislation to complete purchase of Point Reyes National Seashore is moving so slowly through Congress that it is hard to detect any progress. But Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, an author of the bill, reports "significant progress."

The bill has been sitting for months in the House Rules Committee, awaiting assignment to floor debate. Clausen, however, cited as progress a request to the rules committee by Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall, D-Colo., chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, that the rules committee set a date to consider when the bill could be heard on the floor.

Almost anything passes for progress in Congress.

William O. Weissich of San Rafael, a Reagan appointee to the Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges, has joined the Senate campaign of Raymond H. Shone of Nicasio. Weissich is forming a lawyers' committee to push Shone's campaign.

Sees Inconsistency In Pollution Stand

You are really something else! In your lead editorial of Jan. 24 you say and I quote, "Environmental quality care begins at home. Each of us must first do his own part to maintain a clean nest." Yet your paper has repeatedly criticized the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District for its farsighted ban on open and backyard burning.

Then you go on to knock politicians who have taken up the torch. Better watch it—you're way ahead of the politicos when it comes to talking out of both sides of your mouth!

Contrasting Reports From Soviet Union

A news article in the I-J of Jan. 24 headlines "Russia's Baptist Churches Thriving" and quoting Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Smith of the World Council of Churches. . . is in sharp contrast to an article appearing in the S.F. Jewish Bulletin of Jan. 23 which stated "'The status of the Jewish religion in the Soviet Union is tragic in the extreme."

Mr. Moshe Decter writes in the Jewish Bulletin that in all of Communist Russia there are only three functioning rabbis, two of them over 75, and no replacements in sight, and that the few existing synagogues are infested with informers.

Could it be that Dr. Smith took the guided tour and Mr. Decter relied on other sources of information? . . .

Radio Talk Show Called Unfair

The radio "talk" shows are a delusion and a snare and also a farce. In the early evening of Jan. 28 a discussion of the "chicano" situation was taking place on one of them. I phoned to express an opinion. The boy who answered the telephone asked me specifically what I wanted to talk about. I told him that I was tired of hearing some Mexicans, who emigrate to this country for a better life than the one they left at home, complain and gripe and demand that we print our voting ballots in Spanish and that we furnish their children with Spanish speaking teachers, etc. etc. I asked the boy rhetorically how far we would get if we went to Mexico and made such demands. My remarks seemed to infuriate him because he screamed hysterically, "They are American citizens" and slammed the phone up in my ear. Now it seems to me that if the topics of conversation on these talk shows have to meet with the approval of the telephone boy before being allowed on the air, the radio stations had better cancel these programs because they aren't getting an honest expression of public opinion as they claim. Viva El Vice-Presidente Agnew!

Pessimistic View Of Our Future

Besides banning burning, a lot of our trouble could be helped by the simple (?) expellent of rationing gasoline. It would not only help the pollution problem but also the traffic problem on the bridge.

However, this is not likely to happen soon, if ever. The big gas companies would fight it. People in recreation businesses, skiing, gambling interests in Nevada, restaurants, motels, anyone depending on the tourist trade would fight it. Average citizens, even those with children, would not cooperate. They only want to drive as far and as fast as they can while they still have the chance.

My guess is we will keep going on in our carefree, reckless, extravagant, stupid way until our whole civilization comes to a grinding abrupt halt — like the one-hoss shay — from too much pollution, too large a population, lack of sanitation, lack of oxygen, lack of sunlight, lack of food, lack of clean water and other resources.

I won't wonder that the younger generation has taken to drugs. They haven't much of a future, anyway.

Environment Suffers As Talk Goes On

Daily we read of the importance of our environment, yet raw sewage is permitted on the streets of San Rafael and the hills of Ignacio are sliced by Marin Country Club Estates. Plagues and slides don't just happen. This is probably the richest and best educated county anywhere yet our representations seem to lack the courage to use the power given them by the voters to protect us.

Student Speaks Up For His School

This letter is in reference to the acusations toward the faculty and students of San Rafael High Scool.

I am a senior at San Rafael and feel obligated to tell the Board of Education, and the community what S.R.H.S. is really like, from a students point of view.

First I would like to ask, what other high scool has a principle that would take the time to talk to any of his 2,000 students personally?

Lee Archbold, journalism teacher, is one of the best, self-sacrificing teachers, in my opinion. The only reason he is under fire from high-er ups is because he "tells it like it is." Is honesty now wrong?

I have found that San Rafael's administration is one of the best. That statement is based on my findings after touring many schools through-out the state. Just because they treat students as mature young adults rather than prisoners is no reason to call them "overly permissive".

I, as student body and class officer have had many dealings with our administration and have found them to be down-to-earth — and willing to listen and help you out at any time, which is more than I can say for some of our "upstanding" civic officials.

To the community: Don't knock it unless you know wat its all about. As for Coach Brown — why not let the students help make decisions, after all its affecting their life. . .

Rock Throwing Near Marin City

Twice last week while traveling by bus to San Rafael, the bus I was riding on was struck by a fusillade of rocks — cracking and breaking windows — at Marin City at the overpass.

One of these days someone is going to be seriously injured. After spending thousands of dollars to eradicate the "discrimination" this condition still persists...

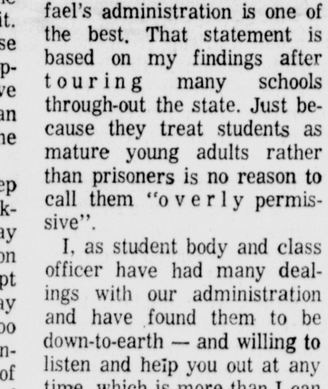
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

There's a wonderful, old-fashioned doctor up New Hampshire way who has an instinctive knowledge of how to break a piece of startling news as gently as possible. One evening, for instance, an agitated man stopped him as he was emerging from his hospital's delivery room and quavered, "End my suspense, Doctor. Is it a boy?" Calm as a cucumber, the doctor answered him, "Well, the one in the middle is."



Gordon Comay reports that he was wandering through the toy department of a big store one day during the holiday rush when a voice over the loudspeaker announced: "Mrs. Arthur Jones reports that her 7-year-old son, Spike, has been lost. Will Spike Jones please come immediately to the manager's office." A small boy inspecting an electric train display alongside Mr. Comay was visibly depressed by this announcement.

"Damn it," he grumbled, "I'm lost again!"

Humphrey On Comeback Trail, With No Help From Johnson

WASHINGTON—Hubert Horatio Humphrey is in orbit again. His schedule on campuses around the country, on forums and at policical rallies is a dizzying hour-by-hour progression.

In the weeks ahead he is speaking at fund-raising dinners in each of Minnesota's eight congressional districts. He has been lining up the support of organized labor, an important element in the Democratic-Farmer-Labor combine. In early May, to the surprise of practically nobody, he will formally announce his candidacy for the Senate seat now held by Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Humphrey believes he will be elected in November and return to the Senate where he began in 1949 to create a national reputation for himself.

AFTER THAT? The man who was vice president for four of the most troubling years in the life of the nation—not to mention in the life of Hubert Humphrey—is not saying. But, for a politician who came so close to the presidency that a shift of a little more than 150,000 votes, distributed geographically in the right places, would have given him victory, the virus is in all likelihood incurable.

Few men in recent political history have taken the buffetings that Humphrey has endured, beginning with that strange convention in Atlantic City in 1964 when Lyndon Johnson finally gave him his blessing. As vice president, after an initial attempt to halt the escalation of the war in Vietnam, he joined the team and became one of the most-loyal supporters of the President's Vietnam policy.

The climax for Humphrey came with the first of Johnson's television interviews with Walter Cronkite. His former chief, under whom he had endured so much, really cut him up. He said Humphrey had lost the election when in his Salt Lake City speech he promised to halt the bombings of North Vietnam if he were elected president. One of Humphrey's campaign aids said:

"I sat there listening to that interview and I got so mad that I began to talk back to the television screen, It was with that speech on Sept. 30 that we began to get over the Chicago holocaust and have a real chance to win."

PRESIDENT NIXON has carefully cultivated his predecessor, in office, giving a birthday party for him at the summer White House at San Clemente and naming a stand of surviving redwood trees for Mrs. Johnson.

For President Nixon, the careful cultivation of his predecessor in the office is both shrewd politics and astute policy. While Mr. Nixon has by implication criticized the Johnson administration for failing to equip and train the South Vietnamese army to take over the fighting, he has avoided any direct attack on the Johnson policy. Having accepted such a close relationship, assuming the posture of benign elder statesman, the former President can hardly disagree with the direction of Nixon policy no matter how it goes.

In the second interview, soon to be released, Johnson pays his respects to the media, notably the columnists and commentators who ventured to criticize him. But he can hardly fail to throw another harpoon or two into the vice president who served so restively in harness with a temperamental chief.

From the other end of the spectrum, an assemblage of new leftists meeting in New York marked down Humphrey in Minnesota and Adlai Stevenson III in Illinois as two candidates they mean to defeat. This, says Humphrey, should be a help. He talks today chiefly about political and electoral reform, as he did to 8,000 students and faculty at Kansas State University in the course of a crowded 24 hours. Each day is unbelievably crowded for this aspostle of nearly perpetual motion.

No Love For The West On Streets Of Baghdad

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Rashid is the name of Baghdad's chief shopping street, narrow, covered with the red dust of the nearby desert, its doorways filled with the loungers who make up Baghdad's bloodthirsty mobs. When a current ruler travels the street with his bodyguard and bullet-proof car, he is greeted with a rhythmic handclapping whose slow cadence eventually goes the whole length of Rashid until it seems to fill the air.

Those are in good times.

In bad times, the ruler cheered today may, as has happened more than once in the past, be torn apart by mobs and his remains dragged through the streets.

It is a frightening city that does not welcome foreigners, especially Americans.

THIS CORRESPONDENT arrived in Baghdad during one of the many bloodbaths that followed the 1958 overthrow of the Iraqi monarchy. At an army command post alongside the Tigris River, I asked what degree of safety there was, if any, for newsmen trying to cover the story.

The officer questioned shrugged his shoulders.

"If you are seized," he said, "it will be the will of the people. The army cannot help you."

MOB ACTION and the cold-blooded efficiency with which each succeeding regime eliminates its opponents via the route of show trials and public hangings are what have given Iraq the reputation of being the most savage among the Arab states, unable even to get along with its own allies against Israel.

In the show trials, guilt is assumed at the outset. The degree of punishment is all that remains to be decided.

Since the current regime took power on July 17, 1968, it has executed at least 98 persons for "political" offenses and arrested thousands.

THE RADICAL socialist Baathis regime blames the United States for most of its troubles—for fomenting troubles among the Kruds of the north, recruiting spies and enemies of the regime to plot its overthrow, and encouraging Israeli expansionism.

Accused of joining in these plots have been a former president, a former premier and many high ranking officers. The regime conducts a running feud with neighboring Iran and has an uneasy truce with the more moderate Baathist regime of Syria. UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser has at various times been highest on the Iraqi list of heroes and highest on the list of criminals.

Chief foreign beneficiaries of today's regime have been the Communist states.

Iraq was the first country outside the Communist bloc to give formal recognition to East Germany. The Russians are developing the rich North Rumelia oil fields under terms of a $120 million Soviet loan, the East Germans are providing $80 million to finance industrial projects, and Poland is to invest $100 million for development of sulphur deposits in north central Iraq.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

Lies, often detected and refuted, are still revived and repeated, in the hope that the refutation may have been forgotten, or that the frequency and boldness of the accusation may supply the place of truth and proof. — Alexander Hamilton.

First Student Adviser Proves Worth To Board Of Education

The younger generation is being heard in Petaluma on the subject that affects it the most—education.

Feeling it was important to involve students in school decisions and to keep them aware of problems, the Petaluma Board of Education invited students from the district's three high schools to attend meetings on a rotating basis.

JEANNIE GESCHKE, a Rancho Cotate High School senior, has been attending meetings since December. After her three-month term as an unofficial adviser ends, students from Petaluma High School and San Antonio High School will take their turns.

A serious young lady, Jeannie assumes the role of adviser with vigor. The student shows no hesitancy to ask questions or to give the students, point of view on anything.

Her questions and comments have added 30 minutes to the already tedious board meetings, but board members always receive her opinions with respect and rarely attempt to limit her discussion.

NOT THE LEAST bit reticent, the 17-year-old sat with the board during interviews with prospective architectural firms and studied closely the plans and drawings as part of the presentations.

Looking at them from a student's vantage point, Jeannie told the board she would discount one firm completely because of hall patterns shown in drawings, and showed how much trouble a student would have in trying to get from class to class within a reasonable time period.

While Jeannie was not permitted to vote, the firm she rejected was not selected by the board.

In discussing the new a la carte plan offered at high school cafeterias, the board heard Jeannie's opinions about the level of cafeteria cuisine and how the new plan permits young ladies who watch their figures to pass by the starches.

Small matters that the professionals on the board may never consider are brought to their attention.

As plans for the new junior-senior high school are developed, students will play a role in some of the decision making. Hoping to have working drawings by June, a committee of students will be organized to offer views in time to be included in the plans.

The days of children being seen and not heard are gone.

How Could Owning Few Slaves Pose Any Conflict Of Interest?

WASHINGTON — If for some reason the Senate doesn't confirm Judge Carswell for Justice Abe Fortas' Supreme Court seat, the Whte House ia already prepared to submit another name.

Waiting in the wings, in case the Senate balks on Carswell, is Judge Caleb Robert E. Lee, of the Fifth Circuit Juvenile and Bankruptcy Court of Juniper County, Ala. Judge Lee has already had a thorough security clearance check by Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, who told intimates, "This is one man they'll never be able to smear."

I WENT to visit Judge Lee in his chambers at the Juniper County Courthouse.

"Your honor, are you aware that you are in line for the Supreme Court seat, if for some reason the Senate sees fit not to seat Judge Carswell?"

"Ah heard something about it," Judge Lee told me. "Course Ah'd consider it a great honor even though Ah would hate to leave Juniper County."

"Sir, I do not want to get personal, but do you own any stocks or bonds, or have interests in companies that could be considered a conflict of interest?"

"No sirree!" said Judge Lee. "Ah have no investments of any kind. The only thing Ah own of any property value are slaves."

"Slaves?"

"Ah just own a dozen, and half of them are in my wife's name."

"BUT JUDGE LEE, don't you consider owning slaves a conflict of interest?"

"If anyone makes a fuss about it, Ah'm willing to sell the slaves or at least put them in trust for mah grandchildren."

"Sir, owning slaves is against the Constitution. How can you serve on the Supreme Court and be for slavery?"

"As far as the Constitution is concerned Ah'm a strict constructionist, except where it comes to slavery. Ah don't think a man has to be for everything in the Constitution just to sit on the Supreme Court."

"BUT DIDN'T the Justice Department ask you about your slaves when they interviewed you for the Supreme Court?"

"The question never came up, and Ah didn't think it was worth bringing up. Ah never hid the fact Ah owned slaves. You can look at mah record. Ah always eliminated myself from any case which involved slaves in Juniper County."

"Judge Lee, aren't you afraid slaves will make it difficult for the Senate to approve of your nomination?"

"Ah don't know. In left-wing liberal circles there might be some hollering, but Ah know the attorney general will stand behind me. After all, if they want a southern judge on the Supreme Court, they have to take him as he is.

"Ah don't know how owning a few darkies could affect the way Ah decide the constitutional issues. Besides, you have to have some balance on the court, and right now it's heavily weighted in favor of the antislavery forces."

"ONE MORE question, sir. Besides owning slaves, is there anything else the Justice Department security people overlooked when checking you out?"

"Can't think of anything. Ah once organized a lynching, but that was when Ah was a kid, and Ah don't think that should be held against me now. We all do stupid things when we're sowing our oats."

Traffic, Income Up On Richmond Bridge

Traffic on the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge for the year ending last Oct. 31 rose by more than 340,000 vehicles over the previous 12-month period, and revenue increased by $196,000, according to a report from the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

Total toll traffic in 1969 was 5,985,993 compared with 5,644,517 in 1968. Total gross revenue in 1969 was $4,995,369, compared with $4,798,995 in 1968.

Tape Deck Taken

A $100 auto tape deck was stolen Friday from a car owned by Anthony H. Zuravel while it was parked outside his home at 23 Front Street, San Rafael, police said yesterday.

Ex-Convict's Gun Protest In Court

A preliminary hearing has been set for Friday in Marin Municipal Court for William Ralph Cannon Jr., 31, of 912 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, who has been charged with being an ex-convict in possession of a gun after he tried to test federal weapons laws.

Officers said that Cannon took a .38 caliber pistol to the U.S. attorney's office in the federal building in San Francisco Dec. 29. Instead of being charged with violating a federal law, he has been accused of having the gun under the state stature which prohibits persons who have been convicted of committing felonies from having such weapons. A spokesman for the district attorney's office said that Cannon purchased the gun in Novato Dec. 27.

Pope Enters Celibacy Fight

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI ordered the Roman Catholic hierarchy of the Netherlands today to revise its stand against the celibacy rule for priests.

He said it was indispensible for the Dutch bishops, priests and laymen to change "such a grave attitude contrary to the holy laws in effect in our Latin Church."

The Pope reaffirmed "what we have already declared and many times repeated" that priests must not marry.

The Pope called on the Dutch bishops to talk the situation over with him and the Vatican agencies "through a faithful and fraternal contact.

On Jan. 20, Holland's eight bishops called for churchwide discussion of priestly celibacy and said there should be room in the Church for both married and celibate priests. They also said there should be a way to restore priests who have married to their priestly role if they meet certain conditions.

The Dutch Pastoral Council, a body of clergy and laity, voted a few days earlier a recommendation to end the obligation of celibacy as a condition for ordination.

Since celibacy is a matter of the church's universal discipline, the consensus is that, even if the Dutch bishops made the council's recommendation their own, they cannot change the law even for Holland on their own responsibility.

In an unusual letter to the Vatican secretary of state, Jean Cardinal Viliot, Pope Paul said he had tried in every way to prevent Dutch bishops from taking their stand for a change in the celibacy rule.

"You know very well," the Pope wrote Cardinal Villot, "the always respectful and friendly action which we have taken both in personal conversations, in letter exchanges, and with the intervention of the agencies of the Holy See, to prevent these statements (by Dutch bishops)."

The Pope's letter was made public as controversy grew over his statement Sunday that celibacy was "a capital law" of the Church and could neither be abandoned nor discussed.

Auto Vandalized

A vandal slashed two front tires, smashed the windshield, removed a hub cap and broke the radio antenna, causing more than $250 damage, early Sunday to a car owned by Hubert W. Sharpe of 34 Redge Avenue, parked in front or 1420 Grand Avenue, San Rafael police reported yesterday.

(b) "CATV" means "Community Antenna Television System" which is defined as a system of antenna coaxial cables or other electrical conductors and equipment used, or to be used, primarily to receive television or radio signals directly or indirectly off-the-air and transmit them together with locally originated programs to subscribers within the unincorporated area of the County of Marin.

(c) "Gross annual receipts" means any and all compensation and other consideration in any form whatever and any contributing grant or subsidy received directly or indirectly by a licensee from subscribers or users in payment for televisuon or FM radio signals or service, excluding installation and line extension charges, received within the county.

Gross annual receipts shall not include any taxes on services furnished by the licensee imposed directly on any subscriber or user by any governmental unit and collected by the licensee for such governmental unit.

(d) "Service area" means the unincorporated area of this county in which a licensee is authorized, pursuant to this chapter, to construct, maintain and operate a CATV system.

SECTION II. Section 5.28.030 of the Marin County Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

5.28.030—License. Exclusive licenses to construct, operate and maintain CATV systems within all or any portion of the unincorporated area of the county may be granted by the Board to any person, firm or corporation which offers to furnish and provide such systems under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this chapter, provided, however, that the Board may grant non-exclusive franchises when in its judgment the condition of the area, public convenience and necessity warrants it.

SECTION III. Section 5.28.050 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.050—Subscriber rates and charges. The licensee may make a charge to subscribers for installation or connection to its CATV system and a fixed monthly charge not to exceed the amount set forth in the application for a license. No increase in rates and charges to subscribers, set forth in the schedule filed and approved with licensee's application, may be made without the prior approval of the Board.

No license shall be construed as a permit or license to transmit any special program or event for which a separate and distinct charge is made to the subscriber in the manner commonly known and referred to as "pay television," and no licensee shall directly or indirectly install, maintain or operate on any television set a coin box or any other device or means for collection of money for individual programs.

SECTION IV. Section 5.28.060 is hereby amended to read as follows:

5.28.060 — Duration and revocation. No license granted by the Board shall be for a term longer than twenty years following the date of acceptance of such license by the licensee or the renewal thereof.

Any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the terms or conditions of this chapter including changes or additions thereto during the term of the license by a licensee, following thirty day's notice thereof by the county, shall be grounds for revocation, in addition to such other penalties and rights provided in this chapter; and the Board may, after a public hearing thereon, declare the license revoked, and may exclude the licensee from further use or acts thereunder. Thereupon the licensee shall be deemed to have immediately and automatically surrendered all rights hereunder. Revocation shall not of itself operate to release the bond herein required. Subject to the provisions of Section 5.28.190 hereof the licensee shall remove his equipment from the streets within this county within sixty days after receipt of notice of the Board's declaration that his license has been revoked. Notice may be given and will be deemed received for the purpose of this section when deposited in the mail, addressed to licensee at the address contained in his application for a license.

SECTION V. Section 5.28.070 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.070—License payments. Any licensee granted a license under this chapter shall pay to the county, during the term of such license, a sum equal to two percent (2%) of the gross annual receipts of the licensee derived from the service area for which the license is issued. Such payment by the licensee to the county shall be made annually. In addition, county and all public schools within the county shall, upon request, receive CATV reception service from licensee in the amount of one primary outlet per school during the term of his license without charges.

SECTION VI. Section 5.28.150 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.150—Additional requirements. During the term of any license, the county may amend any section or part of this chapter so as to require additional or greater standards of construction, operation, maintenance or otherwise, on the part of the licensee, including the payment of a larger or greater percentage of the gross annual receipts of any licensee for the remaining terms of such license. If this chapter is amended to require additional or greater standards, the licensee within ninety days after the effective date of such amendment shall comply with the new standards.

Prior to adoption of such amendments, the Board shall conduct a public hearing thereon. Notice thereof shall be given to all licensees by registered mail directed to each licensee at the address specified on the license application and by publication in a newspaper of general circulation once not less than ten days prior to said hearing, provided, however, that unintentional failure to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any amendments adopted by the Board. The hearing may be continued from time to time and the Board may direct the Department of Communications to investigate and conduct collateral hearings on technical aspects of the proposed amendments, as it deems appropriate.

SECTION VII. Section 5.28.170 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.170—Permits, installation and service.

(a) Within thirty days after acceptance of any license the licensee shall proceed, with due diligence, to obtain all necessary permits and authorizations which are required in the conduct of its business, including, but not limited to, any utility joint use attachment agreements, microwave carrier licenses, zoning approval and any other permits, licenses and authorizations to be granted by duly constituted regulatory agencies having jurisdiction over the operation of CATV systems, or their associated microwave transmission facilities.

(b) Within ninety days after obtaining all necessary permits, licenses and authorizations, licensee shall commence construction and installation of the CATV system.

(c) Within ninety days after the commencement of construction and installation of the system, licensee shall proceed to render service to subscribers, and the completion of the construction and installation shall be pursued with reasonable diligence thereafter, so that service to all areas designated in the license, shall be provided within one year from commencement of construction.

(d) Failure on the part of the licensee to commence and meet each of the requirements set forth herein shall work an automatic forfeiture of the license previously granted. A forfeiture shall not of itself operate to release the bond herein required. Upon application by the licensee prior to said forfeiture, the Board shall hold a hearing and the Board may, in its discretion, extend the time for the commencement and completion of construction and installation.

SECTION VIII. Section 5.28.210 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.210—Failure to perform street work. Upon failure of the licensee to commence, pursue, or complete any work required by law or by the provisions of this chapter or by its license to be done in any street or other public place, within the time prescribed, and to the satisfaction of the Director of Public Works, the Director of Public Works may, at his option, cause such work to be done and the licensee shall pay to the county the cost thereof in the itemized amounts reported by the Director of Public Works to the licensee within thirty days after receipt of such itemized report.

The licensee shall at its expense install and maintain adequate shielding, filtering and grounding at affected installations to eliminate within the CATV system television interference from fundamental frequency overload by radio amateur transmissions which are in compliance with Federal Communications Commission regulations.

SECTION VIX. Section 5.28.240 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.240—Inspection of property and records. (a) At all reasonable times, the licensee shall permit any duly authorized representative of the county to examine all property of the licensee, together with any appurtenant property of the licensee situated within or without the county and to examine and transcribe any and all maps and other records kept or maintained by the licensee or under its control which deal with the operations, affairs, transactions or property of the licensee with respect to its license. If any such maps or records are not kept in the county, or upon reasonable request made available in the county, and if the Board shall determine that an examination thereof is necessary or appropriate, then all travel and maintenance expense necessarily incurred in making such examination shall be paid by the licensee.

(b) The licensee shall prepare and furnish to the Director of Communications at the times and in the form prescribed by said officer such report with respects to its operations, affairs, transactions or property as may be reasonable, necessary or appropriate to the performance of any of the rights, functions or duties of the county or any of its officers in connection with the license.

(c) The licensee shall at all times make and keep in the county full and complete plans and records showing the exact location of all CATV system equipment installed or in use in streets and other public places in the county.

(d) The licensee shall file with the Director of Communications upon his demand the current map or set of maps drawn to scale, showing the location of all CATV system equipment installed and in place in licensee's service area and such other information as the Department of Communications may specify.

(e) When any portion of the CATV system is to be installed on public utility poles and facilities, certified copies of the agreements for such joint use of poles and facilities shall be filed with the Director of Communications.

SECTION X. Section 5.28.250 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.250—Operational standards. The CATV system shall be installed and maintained in accordance with the highest and best accepted standards of the industry to the effect that subscribers shall receive the highest possible level of service. In determining the satisfactory extent of such standards the following among others shall be considered:

(a) The system should be installed using all band equipment capable of passing the entire VHF and FM spectrum, and it must have the capability of converting UHF for distribution to subscribers on the VHF band.

(b) The system must produce a picture in black and white, or in color, that is undistorted, free from ghost images and accompanied with proper sound on typical standard production TV sets in good repair, as good as the state of the art allows. Facilities used by grantee shall be capable of distributing color TV signals and when the signals are received by the grantee in color they shall be distributed in color. Said system shall transmit signals of adequate strength to produce good pictures with good sound at all outlets without causing crossmodulation in the cables or interfering with other electrical or electronic systems.

(c) The system and all equipment must be designed and rated for twenty-four hour per day continuous operation.

(d) The system must provide a nominal signal level of two thousand microvolts, measured across three hundred ohms, at the input terminals of each TV receiver.

(e) The system signal-to-noise ratio must be not less than forty decibels.

(f) Hum modulation of the picture signal shall be less than five percent.

(g) That the system shall employ components having a VSWR of 1.4 or less.

(h) The system shall provide, on a continuous equal basis, all available TV and FM radio channels to the extent allowed by applicable law and regulations.

(i) The system must be maintained so as to limit failures to a minimum by locating and correcting malfunctions properly but in no event longer than 24 hours after notice, except in cases of war, natural disaster or other calamity. Licensee must have equipment capable of demonstrating to subscribers that a signal of adequate strength and quality is being delivered.

(j) There shall be no editing of programs as received by the licensee.

(k) In the case of any emergency or disaster, the grantee shall upon request of the Board of Supervisors make available its facilities to the county for emergency use during the emergency or disaster period.

SECTION XI. Section 5.28.260 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.260—Complaints. The licensee shall be required to reimburse county for costs incurred by county in investigating subscriber or potential subscriber complaints when it is established to the satisfaction of the County Director of Communications that the licensee has not investigated the complaint and made a reasonable effort to resolve it within three working days from receipt, or that the licensee has failed or refused to bring the system as it applies to the particular subscriber up to operational standards, as set forth in Section 5.28.250 hereof. Said reimbursement shall be at the rate of $25 per man hour or any part thereof, incurred in investigating the subscriber complaint. Reimbursement shall be made to the Communications Department of the County of Marin and shall be deposited in the general fund of the county. Failure to make reimbursement within 60 days of the date of billing shall constitute grounds for recovery of the total amount due from the performance bond specified in Section 5.28.220 hereof and shall be grounds for revocation of the license.

SECTION XII. Section 5.28.280 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.280—Service to subscriber. No person, firm or corporation in the existing service area of the grantee shall be arbitrarily refused service; provided, however, that the licensee shall not be required to provide service to any subscriber who does not pay the applicable connection fee or monthly service charge, except as indicated above.

The franchisee shall render service to all persons who desire such service without rate differential regardless of distance from the facility or other cause unless such differential rate is approved by the Board at the time of the application for franchise or at a subsequent date.

Upon termination of service to any subscriber, the licensee shall within three working days remove all its exposed exterior facilities and equipment from the premises of said subscriber upon his request.

SECTION XIII. Section 5.28.290 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.290 —Subscriber contract. Before providing antenna service to any subscriber, the licensee shall obtain a signed contract from the subscriber containing a provision substantially as follows:

Subscriber understands that in providing antenna service (licensee) is making use of public rights-of-way within the county and that the continued use of these public rights-of-way is in no way guaranteed. In the event the continued use of such rights-of-way is denied to (licensee) for any reason, (licensee) will make every reasonable effort to provide service over alternate routes. Subscriber agrees he will make no claim nor undertake any action against the county, its officers or its employees, if the service to be provided by (licensee) hereunder is interrupted or discontinued.

The form of the licensee's contract with its subscribers shall accompany the application for license and shall not be thereafter amended without consent of the Board.

SECTION XIV. Section 5.28.360 is amended to read as follows:

5.28.360—Acceptance of license. Application for license shall be deemed an acceptance of said license if granted by the Board. After grant of said license, licensee shall file with the County Clerk his agreement to be bound by and to comply with and to do all things required of him by the provisions of this chapter and the license, together with bonds and insurance policies as herein required.

SECTION XV. Section 5.28.430 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

5.28.430 — Communications. Copies of all petitions, applications and communications submitted by licensee to the Federal Communications Commission in respect to any matters affecting CATV operations authorized pursuant to this chapter shall also be submitted simultaneously to the County Counsel of Marin County.

SECTION XVI. Section 5.28.440 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

5.28.440 — Refund of installation fee. If service to the subscriber is terminated without good cause within six months of the date of first rendered service to such subscriber, or because the licensee ceases to operate in the CATV business authorized herein for any reason except expiration of his franchise, the licensee shall refund to such subscriber an amount equal to the initial installation and connection charge paid by him.

SECTION XVII. Section 5.28.450 is hereby added to the Marin County Code to read as follows:

5.28.450 — Revocation for non-payment of taxes and other fees. If at any time during the life of a franchise granted hereunder the licensee becomes delinquent in the payment of any fees or taxes to the County of Marin or any public district within the county, such franchise is subject to revocation as provided in Section 5.28.060.

SECTION XVIII. Effective date. This ordinance shall be and is hereby declared to be in full force and effect as of thirty days from and after the date of its passage and shall be published once before the expiration of fifteen days after its passage, with the names of the supervisors voting for and against the same in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in the County of Marin.

Vets' Housing Pinch Reflected In Budget

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's budget calls for spending less money on returning Vietnam war and other veterans because inflation has crippled the state's ability to finance loans.

The governor warned that the bond market is so tight that the state Department of Veterans Affairs will make only 1,500 loans to veterans during the current fiscal year. That compares with 7,137 last year.

Contributing to the squeeze, Reagan said, is the likelihood that "there will be an escalation of veterans returning to civilian life in view of proposed troop reductions in Vietnam."

Reagan, in his spending plan for the fiscal period starting July 1, calls for a $50.6 million budget for the department. This is the agency which administers the low cost Cal-Vet farm and home loan program.

Reagan's proposed veterans' budget represents a reduction of $2.7 million from estimated spending by the department this year.

Because of the state's inability to sell bonds in the inflated market, the department is unable to issue any of its $200 millions in authorized bonds which could finance the loans.

The state is banking that voters in June will approve a constitutional amendment increasing the maximum interest rate on state general obligation bonds from 5 to 7 per cent. State officials hope the increased rate would enable sale of the bonds —thus allowing them to make home loans to veterans.

In his budget message to the legislature, Reagan said the "minimal" 1,500 loans which can be financed during the remainder of the current fiscal year will be financed by $12 million in repayments on existing loans and $13 million loaned from the general fund.

The governor acknowledged that while the available cash "falls short of the demand" the money "will help to alleviate some of the hardship cases."

The department has continued to accept loan applications and has completed loan processing but has urged applicants to secure interim financing elsewhere until state funds become available.

On this basis, Reagan noted, "it is estimated that the entire $200 million in unsold bonds will be fully committed by mid-1970."

Lack Of Cable TV Upsets Residents In Lagunitas

Lagunitas residents are up in arms over lack of cable television service and natural gas service in their area.

About 70 residents of Lagunitas, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cohen of Spring Avenue, asked for action in a bitter letter to Supervisor Louis H. Baar.

"Once again we have heard clamor for cable TV service in the Lagunitas area, and again, some more indefinite projections about spring or summer," the residents wrote. "Doubly infuriating is now advertisements by cable TV for free hookups in the existing area; meaning, of course, as far as Forest Knolls."

They asked Supervisor Baar to press for a firm date on when cable television will be available in Lagunitas. They said they are ignored in other areas too.

"Just what does it take to enlighten the PG&E for example, to bring gas to the area?

"Do your damnedest, for a community that gets no response soon defaults by diffidence or extremity."

On Dec. 30, the Marin County Board of Supervisors warned both cable television companies which provide service in San Geronimo Valley to produce or get out. On a motion by Baar, the supervisors asked Clearview Systems to expand service to the entire valley and instructed Cable Television of Marin to quality of service on a par with Clearview. Otherwise, franchises will be revoked, the supervisors warned.

1,151 Take Ferry Sunday

A record 1,151 passengers rode the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry on Sunday, a warm and dry day.

Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, operator of the ferry, said the district switchboard was "swamped all day Saturday and Sunday" with calls from persons wanting information on the ferry schedule.

He noted that the heavy patronage was "with virtually no advertising."

The district has been operating weekday commuter service since Nov. 10, and began Sunday service last month.

Budget Rises Sevenfold In Two Decades

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's proposed $6.48 billion budget is almost seven times as big as the one Gov. Earl Warren governed the state with 20 years ago.

It's more than 2 1-2 times as large as Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget a decade ago.

Here's how California State budgets have grown:

1950-51—$973 million
1960-61—$2.47 billion
1965-66—$4.17 billion
1966-67—$4.58 billion
1967-68—$5.07 billion
1968-69—$5.69 billion
1969-70—$6.24 billion
1970-71—$6.48 billion.

All budgets except for 1970-71 are as signed by the governor.

Transit Plans To Be Explained

Golden Gate Bridge District directors will explain their transit plans, and the need for the recent commuter toll hike to finance transit, in a meeting of their transportation committee at 8 p.m. on Thursday in the Marin County Civic Center.

Also scheduled Thursday are meetings of the district's insurance committee at 10 a.m. and the legislation-public relations committee at 2 p.m., both in toll plaza offices.

The insurance committee will consider a proposal to market all major bridges as one package for insurance coverage, which they individually have difficulting securing.

The afternoon meeting will be to consider the district's 1970 legislative program, and to set a policy governing the appearance of directors before the Legislature.

Church Wins Nod For School Plan

A private day school for up to 30 children will be allowed at the First Congregational Church in Los Ranchitos.

County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill yesterday granted a use permit for the school on church property at 8 North San Pedro Road. Rev. Francis Geddes, who asked for the permit, said pupils will range from kindergarteners to eighth graders.

The zoning administrator also denied Ben Langdon's request for a temporary mobile home at Walnut and Larch roads, Bolinas. Langdon wanted the mobile home for storage, tack room and shelter purposes during construction of a single family home on the site.

The judge made his finding that Stiltner is an addict after reading reports of two doctors who said that Stiltner has a long history of heavy use of drugs including LSD, methedrine and heroin.

He had a history of drug and drug-related arrests in Marin and was currently on probation.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Venereal Disease Now Curable Easily, But Seldom Reported

VAN DELLEN

Venereal disease such as syphilis and gonorrhea can be cured. Both respond to penicillin within a week.

Prior to 1946, cure of syphilis involved injections for three years.

But, the ease of treatment has created certain problems. Many physicians do not notify public health authorities, even though reporting of venereal disease is generally required thruout the country.

IT IS ESTIMATED that only one of nine cases of gonorrhea and one of eight cases of syphilis are reported. The physician wants to be loyal to his patient but is not doing the community a favor. Our public health officials want to know who has the disease so they can treat the source and other possible contacts.

Many physicians treat any person with a suspicious lesion in the pelvic area or mouth without confirming the diagnosis. They reason that if the suspicious lesion is, in fact, syphilis, an adequate dose of penicillin quickly renders the individual noninfectious and shortly thereafter brings about a cure.

A QUESTIONNAIRE sent to more than 206,000 medicos showed that during the fiscal year of 1967, almost one and a half million Americans developed gonorrhea and 75,000 syphilis. This represented an increase of 35.3 per cent of the former and a decline of 29.3 per cent of the latter.

Gonorrhea usually develops within 3 to 8 days of sexual contact with an infected person. Men develop a whitish discharge and burning on urination. Women also develop a discharge but it may be so slight that it is missed. Unless treated, the disease may lead to sterility, chronic arthritic heart disease, blindness, and even death.

THE FIRST SIGN of syphilis is a painless chancre (sore) that develops 10 to 90 days after exposure. The sore may be concealed in women. Furthermore, it disappears spontaneously but the disease smolders for months until the second stage erupts. Meanwhile, the infected person can pass along the disease.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

ANEMIC BABIES

I. F. writes: Do anemic infants need iron?

REPLY

Yes, if they have an iron deficiency anemia. Most infants come into the world with enough iron to last for several months. On the other hand, iron may be lacking if the mother is anemic and cannot supply the proper quota to the child. There is practically no iron in milk, hence anemic infants must be given iron products and foods containing this mineral as soon as possible.

VEIN CLOTS

I. R. writes: What causes a vein clot?

REPLY

Injury to or inflammation of the wall of the vein is the most common cause. The blood may also clot when the flow is sluggish. Our leaflet on phlebitis covers this subject. It may be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

RESEMBLES TYPHOID

P. F. writes: What is paratyphoid fever?

REPLY

It is an intestinal infection that causes chills, fever, headache, and diarrhea. Although similar to typhoid, it is milder and of shorter duration. The only way the two can be distinguished is through blood tests.

BLADDER TEST

A reader writes: Can a cystoscopic examination be given while a person is under a general anesthetic?

REPLY

Yes, and many are.

WARM HANDS AND FEET

Mrs. B. writes: My hands and feet burn and itch at the same time. Could this be due to a fungus?

REPLY

When the hands and feet burn, a circulatory disorder usually is responsible. Victims of erythromelalgia have this complaint especially when the extremities are covered with blankets or put in hot water. In some instances, the manifestation is caused by an over-active nervous system. Why not bring this to the attention of your physician?

TONGUE-TIED

Mrs. D. D. writes: Our doctor wants to clip our infant's tongue-tie but the baby book says this should not be done. What is your opinion?

REPLY

Surgery is not required if the tongue can be extended to the lips. In rare instances the frenum is so short and fibrous it must be clipped to allow the child to suck and, later, to talk.

HERNIA AND SURGERY

H. R. T. writes: When is surgery advised for hiatal hernia?

REPLY

When symptoms are severe and cannot be relieved via antacids and diet. In this condition, a hernia in the diaphragm allows the upper part of the stomach to protrude upward into the chest. It is a definite problem when the acid in the stomach irritates the lower part of the esophagus.

GALLSTONES AT 16

W. K. writes: I have a 16-year-old daughter who has gallstones. Other than surgery, is there any treatment to free her of these rocks?

REPLY

No, surgery is the only way to eliminate calculi, despite the quacks who claim that stones can be dissolved.

Today's Health Hint— Aspirin may relieve the symptoms of flu.

TV REVIEW

Johnny Cash Is Big Winner

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The return of country-folk singer Johnny Cash in a weekly ABC-TV series seems to have been an excellent decision all-around by the network.

Cash, a larger-than-life fellow who has been likened to John Wayne—and seems certain to have a movie career too—was a critical success with a summer series on ABC-TV last year, but his ratings weren't too hot.

The network nevertheless brought him back as a midseason replacement several weeks ago. And the national ratings for the week ending Jan. 25 indicate that his fine debut—with Arlo Guthrie, Bobbie Gentry and Jose Feliciano—finished a very strong 16th among all shows.

BEAT BENNY

Among other things, he beat out a star-studded Friars Club tribute to Jack Benny on NBC-Tv's "Kraft Music Hall," his head-on competition. The tribute to Benny, which included an appearance by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, came in a strong 21st, so it was an added coup for Cash to win under the circumstances.

Detractors might claim that Cash had the novelty attraction of his debut going for him. But actually he had been exposed and his debut was more in the nature of a return. And, as for novelty attraction, Agnew's appearance on the Benny "roast" probably ranks higher because the Vice President turned up on such an entertainment entry after being involved in a continuing controversy with television.

More remarkable information, meanwhile, continues to come in on the top-rated show for the week ending Jan. 25, NBC-Tv's "World Premiere" movie entitled "My Sweet Charlie," which dealt with the friendship of a pregnant southern white girl and a young Negro lawyer—thrown together while on the run.

HIGHEST YET

In addition to ranking No. 1 in the national ratings as well as the 70-city survey, the made-for-television movie, according to NBC-TV, was the highest-rated "World Premiere" ever, and the most statistically successful motion picture on video this season and last. As preciously suggested here, its quality may also be significant in opening creative doors for television movies.

Few specials will do honor to the home screen the way last weekend's syndicated version of "The Front Page" did—a very funny production, though hardly perfect—but one annual special visit from another American tradition succeeded mightily again in the ratings. That is the CBS-TV hour featuring the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team on tour. It ranked fourth among all the shows in competition, right behind "Laugh-In."

Columbia Names New President

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wiliam L. McGill, 47-year-old chancellor of the University of California at San Diego (UCSD), will become the 16th president of 216-year-old Columbia University sometime this summer. Columbia trustee chairman William E. Petersen announced Monday that McGill had been chosen unanimously by the trustees with the cooperation of student and faculty groups.

No specific date was set for the installation of McGill, except that it must take place before Sept. 1. Andrew Cordier, the 68-year-old president McGill succeeds, took the job last August with the understanding that he would serve only one year.

Calley Accepts Defense Check

Smiling and cheerful, Lt. William Calley made a rare personal appearance Monday night to accept a check for $1,000 from the Charles S. Harrison American Legion Post 35 to be used in behalf of his defense.

Calley, charged with the murders of 102 South Vietnamese civilians in the alleged My Lai massacre, wore a dark blue suit rather than his military uniform.

Post judge advocate Vince McCauley, who initiated the movement to raise funds for Calley, said contributions for the lieutenant had been received from 47 continental states and Alaska. He said the check presented Monday night was only the beginning and the drive will continue.

A Page In History: Thomson Returns To Brooklyn

By MIKE RECHT

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Thomson returned to Brooklyn Monday — and lived to tell about it.

"I remember some years ago I came here to speak—at a communion, I think—and when I told the guy at the door who I was he slammed the door in my face," recaleld Thomson, one of the biggest villains in Brooklyn history.

"I guess they must have hated me at one time, but they've mellowed now."

They better have mellowed because Thomson once again showed his face in Brooklyn Monday, the invited guest speaker at a Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce luncheon. In the audience were the very men who, as rabid young Dodger fans, cursed him 19 years ago.

It was in 1951 that Thomson of the hated crosstown New York Giants, cut deeply into every Dodger rooter with his dramatic three-run home run heard round the world.

It was the last of the ninth with two men on base and one out and Brooklyn ahead 4-2 in the decisive playoff game when Thomson delivered against Ralph Branca, snatching the National League pennant away from the Dogers and giving it to the Giants.

From that moment until the years softened the blow, Thomson was as popular at Flatbush as the Bubonic plague. He would have had to disguise himself to walk through the streets of Brooklyn unharmed.

But Monday, he rode through the city on the subway, and no one cursed him or badgered him. In fact, no one even recognized him. He is just a 46-year-old graying sales representative for beer and paper companies.

And when he was introduced to those old Dodger fans, they greeted him warmly and laughed with him about the past, hissing him only good naturedly. He even won a set of glasses in the raffle. And they gave him a passport to return any time.

"After 1951, I was self conscious every time I came to Brooklyn," said the tall, still trim Scotsman who retired from baseball in 1960. "But it's different coming here now to speak. It's been fun, talking to businessmen who still remember, instead of youngsters who never heard of Bobby Thomson.

"My 16-year-old daughter just heard her old man was a ballplayer and she came home and asked me if it were true.

"I'm just an old ballplayer who hit one home run," he told the crowd with the same modesty that marked him during the Giant-Dodger heydays. "Honestly, it was the only thing I did in my lifetime, but I don't play that record for my kids before they go to bed each night. Today is today. Ebbetts Field and the Polo Grounds are gone. The Giants are gone. The Dodgers are dead."

The grudges were gone now too. The room was silent for Thomson had struck a nerve that now bound together even these once fierce rivals—the glorious past and its never-to-be-forgotten battles.

Then he thanked them for inviting him, for being so nice, but he had one question for them:

"Why isn't Branca here? Are you still angry at him?

OFF AND RUNNING — Horses are out on the track at Santa Anita, working out for the opening today. The Arcadia track, along with Bay Meadows, resumed racing today after the ending of a strike. The track was dark for 27 days of racing at a cost of $12 million in lost wges, purses and taxes.

It's Signing Time In Major Leagues

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

It's the signing season again in major league baseball.

The first Monday in February —traditionally a slow news day before the start of spring training and after the end of the football season —is traditionally a busy day for making signing announcements and this year was no exception.

Among the key players who inked their pacts for photographers were Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who's the highest paid Pirate ever eat $100,000, and Mel Stottlemyre of the New York Yankees, who received the second highest Yankee salary for a pitcher in history —$70,000.

The Yankees also announced the signing of Pete Ward, Ron Woods and Bill Olsene, the club's top draft choice in the 1968 free agent draft.

The Minnesota Twins announced that Jim Perry signed for a good raise from his $30,000 of last year after winning 20 games in 1969. Darrell Brandon and rookie Rick Dempsey also signed and the Twins now have 24 of their 40 players in the fold.

CUBS SIGN 11

The Chicago Cubs, still trying to figure out what happened last September, signed 11 players to bring their total to 34 as they prepare for the new season.

None of the Cubs signed were regulars although Jim Hickman saw a lot of action.

The Baltimore Orioles, who are still trying to figure what happened last October, signed reliever Dick Hall, catcher Clay Dalrymple and outfielder Roger Freed. The Orioles have now signed 15 players.

Of course, it will soon be the holdout season although it's a bit early for formal holdouts. The winners usually expect some problems in signing players and it's no different this year.

WINNERS

The New York Mets, who caused all the consternation that the Cubs and Orioles suffered last fall, are now finding out what it's like to be winners. The Mets have signed 18 players on their 40-man roster and gave almost 100 per cent raises to players like Cleon Jones, Jerry Koosman and Tommie Agee.

But they also offered just $4,000 raises to Ron Swoboda and Ed Kranepool and those two aren't too happy about it. Swoboda, who had a lifetime average of .245 going into last year and "slumped" to .235, and Kranepool, who took a lifetime average of .248 into last year and also "slumped" to .238, both want more money.

Both players were symbols of the Mets when they were the jokes of the league and they feel their contribution to the Mets surge was worth more than $4,000. They both made around $25,000 last year.

A Busman's Holiday For Redwood Boys

Redwood High School's basketball team observed its big victory over San Rafael last Friday with a busman's celebration on Saturday.

Coach Dick Hart treated his mighty Giants to Palo Alto Saturday afternoon and Berkeley Saturday evening to watch the Stanford-UCLA and Cal-USC basketball games, respectively.

"I figure if the boys can watch some of the best collegiate teams in action, some of it might rub off on them," said Hart, whose Giants need little rubbing, what with an 18-3 won-lost record and 10 straight triumphs.

To sustain the giant appetites during the long day, the Redwood Benchwarmers Club shelled out 100 clams to treat the gang to a fish feed at Spenger's Restaurant in Berkeley.

Incidentally, I understand some Redwood kids were miffed Saturday because the losing San Rafael team had a five-column picture in the I-J as opposed to a two-column pix of Redwood.

One sadly mistaken student went so far as to say, "Gee, the I-J sports section never gives Redwood any good writeups," which is hysterical.

They Get Equal Time

However, the kids who felt short-changed by the pictorial coverage Saturday might brighten up by turning the page where we have given Redwood equal time with a five-col. spread of some of the Larkspur school's long-hairs.

THERE ARE at least 20 Marin Countians signed up for the San Francisco Giants Boosters Club's trip to Japan next month to follow the National League team in its exhibition games.

According to GTS Travel of San Rafael, which is arranging the trip, the Marinites are:

Greenbrae — John Davidson; San Anselmo — Hector Giuntini; Tiburon — Mrs. Rae Zgraggen and Mrs. Christine Cannon; Kentfield—Mrs. Rowene Kerlin; Fairfax — Mrs. Letha Jenkins; Sausalito — Mrs. Caroline Elliott; Larkspur — Mrs. Daisy Briscoe; Ross — Allan B. Murray, Boosters president.

And, of course, Russ Hodges of Mill Valley will be with the Giants to broadcast their games.

Marin Tar On Second Team

CALIFORNIA JUNIOR COLLEGE Football Coaches' Association last week finally came out with its 1969 All-State squad, with College of Marin guard Charlie Keppel gaining second team honors.

AND TO PROVE that old football seasons never die, they don't even fade away:

More than 1,300 pigskin mentors are expected to attend the 1970 Kodak Coach of the Year Clinic at San Francisco's Sheraton-Palace Hotel this weekend, according to Bob Troppmann of Larkspur, clinic manager.

Tropp says the special guest coaches will include Charles McClendon of Louisiana State, Dan Devine of Missouri, Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, Bob Devaney of Nebraska and Jake Gaither of Florida A & M.

Moderators will be Pappy Waldorf of the 49ers, John Ralston of Stanford, Ray Willsey of Cal, Vic Rowen of S. F. State and Pat Malley of Santa Clara.

Meadows Racing Resumes

SAN MATEO (UPI)—A full field was on tap today as an abbreviated 18-day harness racing meeting began at Bay Meadows, which was closed more than a month by striking pari-mutuel clerks.

The first race was to begin at 1 p.m., which will be post time for the remainder of the meeting. On Fridays, however, the starting time will be 7:45 p.m. The meeting closes Feb. 23.

The strike, which lasted 27 racing days beginning Dec. 26, caused several stables to desert Bay Meadows in favor of East Coast meetings.

Entries for the harness meet were taken with less than 300 horses available, but the void was filled by more than 100 additional horses on Monday.

Today's featured race is the $2000 Inaugural Pace, pitting eight sidewheelers in a mile run. Daily doubles will be sold on the first and second races.

CHRISTIANSEN, TOO

'Hurrying Hugh' In Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — "This is it. There are no more touchdowns to be made."

Hurrying Hugh McElhenny spoke for himself, Tom Fears, Pete Pihos and Jack Christiansen, contemporary standouts in pro football's booming '50s, after the announcement Monday of their selection to the Professional Football Hall of Fame.

McElhenny, a breakaway ball-carrier for 13 pro seasons with San Francisco, Minnesota, New York and Detroit; Fears and Phios, premier pass receivers for the Los Angeles Rams and Philadelphia Eagles, respectively, and Christianson, a gifted defensive back for the Lions, reacted alike—with pride and humility—to the coveted honor.

"THRILLED"

"I'm thrilled to death," said Fears, coach of the New Orleans Saints. "It's a great honor and I think its the epitome of professional football. I'm really flabbergasted to be put up there with some of the immortals of pro football."

"It was such a shock, but it made me feel wonderful," said Pihos, a Richmond, Va., business executive who played offense and defense for the Eagles through a good part of his eight-year career which began in 1947. "Hey, that's some kind of group—Christianson, Fears and McElhenney were three really great football players."

'ULTIMATE'

"This is the ultimate for a pro football player," added McElhenny, who lives in Los Altos, Calif., and works as a radio broadcaster at San Francisco games. "It goes to prove to me that football was awful good to me. This honor bestowed on me relates to all the fine ball players I played with from high school on up to the pros."

"I think everybody that plays would like to think he has an opportunity to get into the Hall of Fame," said Christianson, who was the 49ers' head coach for five years and is now on the Stanford University coaching staff. "I'm proud and honored that people thought enough of me to nominate me and I'm grateful to the sports writers who voted for me."

63 IN HALL

The four former stars were selected by a board of writers from the pro football cities at a meeting in New Orleans Jan. 12. Their formal induction into the Hall of Fame at Canton Aug. 8, before the Saints and Minnesota Vikings collide in an exhibition game, will swell the total membership to 63.

McElhenny came to the 49ers in 1952 out of the University of Washington. Christiansen played his college ball at Colorado State University, Pihos at the University of Indiana and Fears at Santa Clara and UCLA.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Pistol Pete Passes 3,000; Tom Seaver's $10,000 Belt

COMBINED AP & UP

BATON ROUGE, La.—Pete Maravich soared past the 3,000-point mark here last night with a 49-point splurge which led Louisiana State to a 109-91 Southeastern Conference basketball victory over Mississippi State.

A free throw with 7:17 left in the first half gave Maravich his 3,000th career point. Last Saturday he became college basketball's all-time leading scorer as he shattered Oscar Robertson's total for 88 games.

Pete's total last night gave him 3,036 points. He has 12 games left. He hit on 21 of 40 from the floor and sank seven of nine free throws. He also had nine assists.

Baseball

ROCHESTER, N.Y.—The achievement of pitcher Tom Seaver and his New York Mets teammates was the miracle of the 1960s, says Astronaut Richard Gordon, a member of the first man-on-the-moon crew.

Gordon was speaking at a dinner which honored Seaver as the winner of the S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award for 1969. In winning the $10,000 diamond-studded, gold-buckled belt, Seaver received the most votes in the 20-year history of the award. The Cy Young Award winner outdistanced runnerup Willis Read of the New York Knicks, 406-92, in votes.

NEW YORK—Arguments on $90,000 outfielder Curt Flood's suit challenging baseball's reserve clause were scheduled to open today in Federal Court here.

Flood traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to Philadelphia last October contends the reserve clause puts him in a "state of involuntary servitude."

OAKLAND—The Oakland Athletics announced yesterday that they have signed catcher Larry Haney and pitcher Milciades Olivo to 1970 contracts.

Football

NEW YORK—Johnny Unitas the precision passer who has gained 20 miles in the air since starting his career as a $6-a-game quarterback, was named Pro Football Athlete of the Decade today in a special poll taken by the Associated Press.

The Baltimore Colts' quarterback easily outdistanced three other stars who have played significant roles in the sport's impact on the American scene in the 1960s—Bart Starr, Jimmy Brown and Joe Namath.

MILWAUKEE—Henry Jordan a four-time All-Pro as a defensive tackle for the Green Bay Packers, announced his retirement. Jordan announced he is becoming executive sales director of Summerfest, Milwaukee's annual festival.

Boxing

WASHINGTON—In spite of congressional rebuff, Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier were able to get together before their heavyweight championship fight Feb. 16—but all the sparring was verbal.

Ellis, partial owner of the title, challenged Frazier, who also owns a piece of the crown, to make their championship fight in Madison Square Garden a "winner take all" bout but Frazier declined.

Rep Martin B. McKnelly, R-N.Y., had invited the limited heavyweight champions to box with him and two other congressmen in a House office building cafeteria but the idea was kayoed by the House restaurant committee in early afternoon.

Skiing

ABETONE, Italy—France's other half of that famous slalom sister act is keeping success in the family. Britt Lafforgues won the ladies' giant slalom Sunday and yesterday Ingrid Lafforgues raced off with the ladies' special slalom of the Famin Cup competitions.

Changing With The Times

BY RALPH CHATOIAN

With all the screaming about the wild youth of today, College of Marin track and field coach Tony Bailey is not about to throw in the towel on the younger generation.

"Young people are not that much different than they were 10 years ago," he said. "They are definitely more concerned, more aware of world issues, but they're still having fun if they want to."

There is a change, he feels, and coaches must realize this. "But I still see people, coaches, trying to hold on to the past. Most track coaches I know are changing with the times."

Bailey taught both football and track at Redwood High School in Larkspur before going up to College of Marin, and he realizes there are different methods of coaching different sports.

TONY BAILEY
'Wasn't very fast'

"You can work more individually with a boy in track. Three milers, for instance, have different training programs to fit each of them individually," he said.

An import from Southern California, Bailey was born in Bell, Los Angeles County, but came to Marin County as a youth. He went to Tamalpais High School for two years before Drake High opened, attended Drake his junior and senior years, and played football, basketball and track.

He went to University of California, Berkeley, and was a sprinter for one of Brutus Hamilton's track teams. "I had a lot of fun but wasn't very fast," said Bailey, recalling his 10 seconds flat time in the 100-yard dash and 22.2 in the 220.

ARMY RESERVES

After graduation from Cal, Bailey put in six months active duty with the Army Reserves, then started work on his teaching credential at San Francisco State. He taught for one year at Robert Louis Stevenson High School at Pebble Beach before returning to Marin County.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Sturgeon Fishermen Have Fair Weekend

Well, that was a pretty fine weekend, especially Sunday. Did you see the boats out on San Pablo Bay and all the way down below the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge? I counted more than 100 boats, all fishing in that general area.

The stripers seemed to be staying undercover, but the sturgeon, in some cases, made the day for a few of the fishermen. It's funny how it goes at times.

I had the fishing bug so gave it a try last Friday with Frank Sue of Corte Madera and Marty Medin of Woodacre. We anchored near a small aluminum skiff below the Richmond Bridge, occasionally moving down with the tide, figuring the fish would be moving down too. On the first cast, Frank took a 12-pound striper, so we thought we would be having a "hot" day. Four hours later, we were still waiting for our second strike.

But then it happened! From 1:15 p.m. until 4 p.m. one of us had a sturgeon on. Frank hooked four, Marty two and I hooked one. We kept the first three; two weighed about 40 pounds each and Frank's weighed about 60 pounds. Two of the fish which we had to release probably weighed 10 pounds or so. The fish jumped a lot, sometimes close to the aluminum boat with the man and the two kids. They never got a hit, and if it had been duck season, I think they would have taken a shot at us. It can be frustrating, I'll tell you!

SAM KNOLES of San Anselmo, and a friend also had two sturgeon. Sam has been using his fly rod and he says it's a ball! Sam has been building a smokehouse since sturgeon smoked can be the tastiest of fishes.

Ray Mathias of Novato landed a sturgeon that weighed about 100 pounds. He got it to the side of the boat, then his line busted, but being quick on the trigger, he managed to gaff the fish before it took off. Pretty lucky fellow.

Of course, the old champ, Bob Wilson of Woodacre, was out there, too. He came home with his fourth sturgeon in four trips. When you bet with him, your money has wings. Every time he hooks a fish, you can see the dollar signs in his eyes, and hear the sounds of the cash register ringing. He's tough.

THE MINUS TIDES brought out the clam diggers en masse. (Don't forget that the abalone season is closed.) The low tides tomorrow and Thursday are excellent for clams and cockles. Abalone opens again on March 15.

This is the chance to go poke poling for eel and rock fish. Take an old rod or long bamboo pole, attach a short leader for the poking and with a Number 3 hook, bait it with clam, mussel, prawns, etc., and push the pole, leader and hook under large rocky crevices and deep hole areas and stand by for some kind of a strike.

Give a jerk, and you will come out with an eel that might weigh five pounds or a cabezon, or one of the many types of rock fish in the area. They're all good eating, especially the eels. Skin and fillet them, and chunk the meat up, breadcrumb, and fry. The meat is white, and readily separates from the backbone when cooked. Man, they are good—and they aren't really eels, just a fish that looks like an eel.

EELING is best in the abalone bed areas. Go out near Bolinas in the National Seashore and watch the experts do it. You need a fishing license for this interesting and fulfilling sport.

John Costa of Olema along with Marty Medin tried it Sunday northwest of Muir Beach. Marty showed up at my house with 11 eels, so we had a fish fry with smoked sturgeon and fried oysters. Brother, was that ever good! Now is the time for oysters; they are in prime condition. You can get them either at the Tomales Bay or Drake's Bay oyster farms.

THE GIACOMINI RANCH is still open to mud hen shooting. There were lots of birds there last week.

I haven't seen any brant in Tomales Bay yet this part of the late season. Last year, they came in just before the close of the season on Feb. 22.

DUCKS UNLIMITED is having a drive on for members. Their recent brochure gives a clear cut picture of all the good they are doing. If you're a duck hunter, or a conservationist, you can do your part by joining the very worthwhile organization.

Beaty Says He Doesn't Know What's Going On

NEW YORK (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, who hope they have lined up a big man for the future, will have to worry about the condition of their present center tonight when they visit the high-riding New York Knicks.

Clyde Lee, who has filled in well at center since Nate Thurmond injured his knee and was knocked out of the lineup for the season, may not be able to play.

The 6-foot-10 veteran pulled a groin muscle Sunday in the Warriors' victory over the Boston Celtics.

Monday, the Warriors announced the acquisition of National Basketball Association rights to Zelmo Beaty from the Atlanta Hawks.

Beaty, a 6-9 seven-year star from Prairie View, has signed to play for the Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association and is sitting out the year. He owns a 17.4 points-per-game lifetime scoring average.

The Warriors said a player or players to be named would go to the Hawks after this season.

Beaty, now working for a bank in Los Angeles, commented, "I really don't know what's going on. I'll have to wait and see what happens."

The Stars have reportedly signed Beaty to a three-year contract that would pay him $500,000.

But the Stars are in financial trouble and may be sold soon.

Stars General Manager Jim Hardy says the league wants to keep a team in Los Angeles, though and added, "Atlanta realizes Beaty is gone for good and is trying to make whatever deal they can."

Franklin Mieuli, owner of the Warriors said, "We'll do our best to sign him as soon as possible."

MARIN HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS NOTES

A Few Surprises In Basketball Race

By GARY TISCHLER

Reflections on the first half of the Marin County Athletic League basketball race:

Despite the fact that Redwood High School's streaking (10 wins in a row) and unbeaten (7-0 in league) Giants are ruling the roost, which is not a surprise, there have been quite a few surprises in the race so far.

Three of the small wonders of the league standings are the progress, or lack of it, made by Terra Linda, Drake, and Novato.

Terra Linda and Drake, to say the least, looked disorganized and punchless in the Drake Tournament in December, with Drake losing all three of its games and Terra Linda losing two of three.

But since then, Terra Linda has compiled a 4-3 record in league play with a team that stays and plays together. Coach Bob Corley's Trojans don't have exceptional size and no real super-stars, although center Joe Casteel, forward Mark Jones and guard Gary Wall are standout performers. But there are a lot of players on the club who are not bad at all. The Trojans have shown tremendous improvement since the Drake Tournament debacle.

MEEKER LEAVING

Drake itself has won only two games in league play, but one of the wins was over San Rafael and the Pirates, behind the steady and high scoring of Jeff Meeker, have not been beaten badly by anyone, including Redwood.

Meeker, incidentally, a junior, won't be around to play for Drake next season. He's transferring to Bellarmine High School in the Catholic Athletic League.

Novato has been something of a surprising disappointment, winning only one game in league play after what looked like an impressive non-league showing earlier in the season. The Hornets won two games in the Drake Tournament, and beat Napa, a contender in the tight North Bay League II race, twice before MCAL play started.

CASE IN POINT

But the Hornets, with potentially explosive scorers in Joe DeMaestri, Marty Moroski and Gene Barnes, have not come up with any offensive punch, with the latest 46-42 loss to Drake proving a case in point.

San Marin probably would have been doing a lot better than it is now (2-5). But the Mustangs are playing without injured hotshooter Gary Howard, and the senior star is sorely missed, leaving a big hole in the offense and letting opposing defenses worry about fewer things. They haven't found a way to stop Dana LaFerriere, the 6-foot-8 junior center who's been carrying almost all of the load for the Mustangs. LaFerriere has had games of 33 and 41 points and is averaging around 27 points per game in league play, but with no help from his teammates, it's not enough.

Redwood, barring unforeseen and shocking surprises, looks to have a clear road to the title. The Giants have been shooting over 50 per cent from the field lately and, if they win the rest of their games, could go into the Tournament of Champions with a 25-3 record, which may be enough to get them a high seed and prevent a first-round showdown with other top-seeded competition.

GEORGE GUSTAFSON, veteran athletic director, department chairman and tennis coach at Tamalpais High School, is at home, recovering from an operation last month which resulted in removal of his right kidney. And George is doing fine.

"It's like lifting a big load," Gustafson said. "I'm getting along fine now and expect to be back in time for tennis season. After that, I don't know."

Gustafson has been at Tamalpais since 1934 and has been teaching for 40 years, starting at Ukiah High School.

Currently Al Ahlsten is handling athletic director duties while Mike Campas is the acting department chairman.

West's Free Throws Puts Him In Front

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry West is using the free throw line as a pointer as he shoots for his first National Basketball Association scoring title.

West went 11-for-11 from the foul line last Sunday in a 36-point effort against Philadelphia that carried the streaking Los Angeles Lakers into first place in the NBA's Western Division and boosted his league-high scoring average to 31.5 per-game.

Runnerup Elvin Hayes of San Diego, hitting 27.1 points per-start, and third place Lew Alcindor, with a 26.8 mark, each has more field goals than the Los Angeles veteran. But West's 455 free throws in 550 attempts, both league highs, more than make up the difference.

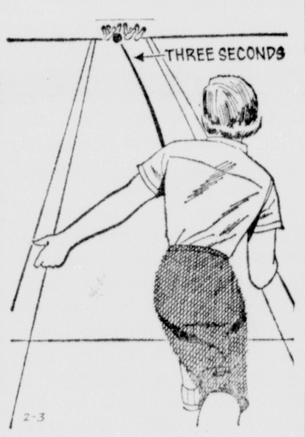
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Most women should bowl with enough speed so that the ball takes three seconds from foul line to the head pin. Even four seconds isn't bad, as long as you're consistent. However, if your ball takes more than that, work on speeding up your action. The too-slow ball won't have any spin by the time it reaches the pins, and won't get much action.

Adult Basketball League Scheduled

hTe 34-year-old Bailey now living in Novato, is in his second year at College of Marin and says the biggest difficulty is planning for upcoming seasons. Just when you plan for certain people, says Bailey, they drop out of school because of grades, work, or they go off to military service.

IT'S IMPORTANT

"I'm a real believer in a boy having confidence in himself," said Bailey. As far as the long hair question, he said, "As a general rule, I like them to be neat appearing and well groomed, within reason. I think this is important. They don't have to have a crew cut, but they should be well groomed."

But above all, says Bailey, "athletics has to be fun or it's all wrong."

Bailey rates George Stewart, last year's distance runner for the Tars who now is No. 2 miler at Oklahoma State College, as the most talented trackman he has coached, but goes back to his high school coaching days recalling the best "come through" performance.

His Redwood track team was battling Tamalpais High School for the league championship and needed points in the high jump to win. Bob Ballou, who had a previous best of 5-foot-7, was going up against Tam boys who had jumped 5-10 and 5-11. Well, Ballou cleared 6 feet, won the event, and Redwood won the title. "That was really something," said Bailey.

Bailey's wife, Melinda, is quite a golfer. Although runner up in the San Francisco Women's Amateur tournament four times without winning it, she is currently champ at Sonoma National. She plays to a five handicap.

"I beat her once," Bailey laughs. "I was playing way over my head, but I beat her."

They have a son, Jay, who will be 3 Feb. 15, and two baby daughters, Jan, 20 months, and Jil just born Jan. 10.

Bailey is a member of the California Coaches Association Track Committee and is in the University of California Track Officials Association.

Auto Glass Firm Joins Shops In Northgate Industrial Park

Scheduled to open sometime this month at Northgate Industrial Park is Central Allied Glass Companies, which has its headquarters in Detroit and its district offices in San Francisco.

The firm has leased space at 40-A Mark Drive through William W. Hoey and Co. for a store and and the installation of automobile glass. There are five stores in San Francisco and others are located throughout the United States.

CHEM CORP. ENGINEERING in Sausalito has moved from 3030 Bridgeway to a new and much larger plant at 2660-A Bridgeway. This gives the company another 10,000 square feet in which to do its manufacturing of components for its automated pollution control systems.

The 42-month old firm's expansion has been necessitated by a 46-per cent sales increase in the last year. An even greater gain is expected for 1970 as the public demand for pollution abatement intensifies.

Partners Jerry Walter of San Anselmo, Douglas May of Sausalito and William Hannah of Mill Valley are now making plans to incorporate the company.

DYNA-GROWTH FINANCIAL CORP. of Oakland has purchased 2.5 acres at the entrance of Loma Verde in Novato from Michael Wornum for an apartment house project that is expected to cost altogether about $2 million. The transaction was handled by Langsam Realty Co., Sausalito.

Planned are 96 two-bedroom luxury units with a swimming pool and sauna bath. Completion is scheduled for this summer.

SAN RAFAEL LANDSCAPE DESIGNER and contractor Albert Bidegain is enlarging his facilities on Medway Road, East San Rafael, which cover 24,000 square feet. He is adding a new shop and nursery building and expects to have completion sometime in May.

NEW MANAGER of Bank of America's Sausalito branch is Clarence L. Gandy, who has been assistant manager of the Dixon branch for the past three years. Previously he was in the Tracy office. He joined the bank at Fresno in 1953 and attained officer status in 1960.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks rallied strongly in active trading today on a reported statement by Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy that a decline in interest rates might be closer than most people realize.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

BY ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. In October, my sister and I inherited 2,800 units of Mesabi Trust. The price has dropped in recent years and we are concerned with whether to hold thes share which were bought by my father between 1953 and 1959. We are primarily interested in income when we retire in five years. -- R.G.

A. The Mesabi Trust's income is derived from royalty payments for iron-ore production by Reserve Mining, a jointly owned affiliate of Armco and Republic Steel. The two steelmakers are obligated to take all Reserve's production until its mortgage bonds are retired. Royalties are adjusted to reflect changes in the wholesale price index.

Reorganized as a trust in 1961, Mesabi must distribute all income, after expenses and reserve provisions, to certificate holders. Subject to holding-period qualifications, dividends on the certificates are taxable as capital gains. A portion of specified dividends are nontaxable because they are considered a return of capital. In your case, you should consult your tax attorney or accountant or ascertain whether this special tax treatment would be to your advantage after retirement. He will also verify whether this advantage would be offset by state income tax treatment.

Q. About two years ago I bought Bates Manufacturing at $21. Kindly let me have your opinion on whether I will ever get my money back. --H.N.

A. Several very encouraging developments have improved Bates' position. The sale or closing of seven unprofitable divisions sharply reduced losses which in 1968 amounted to $3.44 a share. The merger of 45 per cent-owned Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke in the final quarter was reported to have reversed the two-year pattern of deficit operations. Share price levels have not been enhanced by the pall that has been hung over all textile producers in recent months. The spectre of low-cost Japanese yard goods has been difficult for these issues to dispel and the soft retail market has prolonged this downturn. With patience, you should see better price levels by late this year.

African Plant Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — Union Carbide has reported it will build its third dry cell battery plant in Africa this year. The new plant is to be located in Abidjan, capital of the Ivory Coast and is expected to be in operation by late 1970. The company already has plants in Kenya and Ghana.

THE PENNEY STORY

"She gives something of herself"

By ROBERTA NASH

A lady in California wrote us this lovely letter:

Dear Penney's:

Recently I have taken up sewing. As a beginner, I have had many questions to ask and I have been really amazed at the helpfulness of one of your salesladies. She gives more than pleasant service, she gives something of herself, which in this rushing, complex world is truly uncommon.

Mrs. O.G.D.

Dear Mrs. O.G.D.

Not so uncommon. At least, not at Penney's.

Roberta Nash
